

Water Supply Here In Great Danger

E. R. King is in a quandry—with more water to supply and circus tickets to sell, E. R. King, superintendent of the Dunn-Erwin water department, and president of the Erwin P. T. A. is a busy man these days. He not only has the water supply and purification problem of some 15,000 Erwin and Dunn citizens on his mind, but has added a four-ton elephant to his list of consumers.

Company Wins At White Oak

GREENSBORO (AP) — Employees of The Cone Mills White Oak Plant, here have voted against union representation for the third time since 1946, NLRB officials said today.

Labor Voting Places Listed

The schedule for the election to be held in the Erwin Mills on October 1 by the National Labor Relations Board has been released and notices posted on the mill bulletin boards, it was learned this morning.

Polling places will be open from 5:00 a. m. until 9:00 a. m. and from 2:00 p. m. until 5:30 p. m. Number 5 mill workers will vote at Number 2 and 5 spool and warp department. All Number 2 mill workers will vote at the dye house. Cloth house workers will vote in the cloth room.

Each Union and the company will have two watchers at the polls. (Continued On Page two)

She's a girl known as "Congo Alice," largest performing elephant in America. Alice will arrive in Erwin Sunday.

It all started when Mr. King, whose PTA organization is trying to raise money for the Erwin school band uniforms, hit on the idea of bringing a circus to town.

PTA TO BENEFIT King has youngsters of his own and believes it to be the inalienable right of every child to see a circus in the old home town at least once in a while. So Erwin is to have a circus of its own and the PTA will receive a substantial percentage on an advance ticket sale which is being conducted by its members this week. In fact, the more tickets they sell, the more they make. Beers-Barnes Circus has been contracted for a one-night performance appearance in Erwin on Monday and they will exhibit on the Erwin school practice field.

The show presents forty trained animals and approximately two dozen entertainers under a circus BIG TOP said to accommodate upwards of fifteen hundred persons. The organization, which is transported in nineteen vehicles, will arrive in Erwin Sunday afternoon enroute to its winter quarters home at Miami, Fla. from a tour of Canadian cities. The show on Monday will commence at 8 p. m. Doors to the Big Top open at 7 p. m.

Included in the show's program is trained seals, horses, ponies, dogs, monkeys and a bicycle-riding chimpanzee who also entertains circus patrons with fancy roller skating and wirewalking.

But the star wirewalking act of the show is the famous Lois troupe, an all-girl circus act said to be (Continued On Page two)

Labor Dispute Returned To Harnett Court

The hearing on the complaint against the officials of the UTW-AFL and the Workers Supply Store, by the officials of the TWUA-CIO, set for yesterday afternoon before Judge Henry L. Stevens in Smithfield, was returned to Harnett County.

Judge Stevens told the opposing factions that he would be unable to complete the hearing that afternoon because he was planning to attend a wedding. He offered to start the hearing, however.

He suggested October 2, as a date for the hearing if it was postponed, but William H. Abernathy, attorney for the CIO objected, because this date would be after the critical election in the Erwin Mills. Bob Cahoon, representing the AFL group, asked his opponent if his reason for wanting the case tried earlier was not for the added publicity value, and Abernathy admitted that it was.

Judge Stevens said that in his opinion, the case should be heard in Harnett County anyway, and it was returned here. J. Thomas West, Manager of the AFL local, said this morning that he was planning to ask for the hearing before Judge Susie Sharp in Killington next week.

"We are perfectly willing to have the case disposed of before the election," West declared. "As far as the records are concerned, the CIO has all the records anyway and their other charges are simply a smoke screen to cloud the real issues. I doubt if they will be able to extract anything damaging to our group as a result of the hearing."

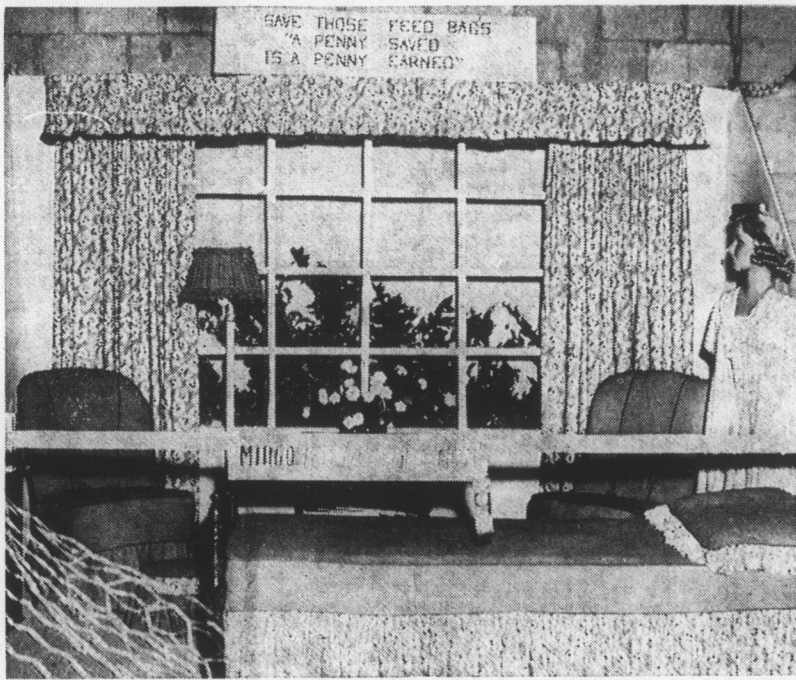

Appearing for the CIO at the Smithfield hearing in addition to attorney Abernathy were Stanley Petkus, Scott Hoyman, Hardy Johnson, Charles Tom Byrd, Nathan Hawley, Luke Smith, Lacey Dawkins and Ernest Phillips. Harvey Williams did not attend. Defendants who appeared included West, James Cameron, William Johnson, Frankie Morrison, Matthew Hobbs and Fred Brown. The latter is managing the Workers Supply Store.

Market Enjoys Very Good Day

The Dunn Tobacco Market enjoyed another good day yesterday. Volume was good and the price for the better quality leaf continued high. Although top grade leaf was in less quantity, there was enough of this kind on the floor to preserve the good average the market has been holding this season. Total sales on the market yesterday amounted to 223,176 pounds which brought checks to the farmers amounting to $107,910.06, with an average of $48.24 for the market.

At Buck Currin's Big Four Warehouse a total of 166,510 pounds of leaf was sold for $80,983.54, an average of $48.24.

At the Grower's Warehouse, operated by Dick Owen, sales totaled 57,206 pounds of tobacco for $26,826.52, an average of $47.06.

SAMPSON FAIR WINNER — The exhibit shown here, entered by the Mingo Home Demonstration Club took the top award in the 1952 Sampson County Agricultural and Livestock Fair at Clinton this week. The exhibit highlighted a unique use for the print feed bags in their use as curtains, slip covers, pillow edging drapes and similar home decorative projects, in addition to the usual use in a print dress draped on the model at the right. The ingenuity of the group in converting the feed bags to these uses earned them the top prize in this department. (Daily Record photo by T. M. Stewart).

Stevenson Won't Tell Names Of His Donors

BALTIMORE, Md., (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson flatly rejected today Sen. Richard M. Nixon's demand that he disclose the names of Illinois state officials whose salaries he augmented with cash gifts.

But at the same time Stevenson defended the practice as one necessary to obtain and hold the services of men of "outstanding ability" in government.

Nixon, in explaining to the nation his own acceptance of an $18,235 expense allowance last night, challenged the Democratic nominee to make public the names of Illinois officials whose salaries have been augmented, a step Stevenson had admitted.

The Democratic presidential nominee told a meeting of volunteer campaign workers that he saw "no purpose in disclosing the names of the persons or the amounts" involved.

"BREACH OF FAITH" To do so, he said, would give them "undeserved publicity" and would be a "breach of faith on my part."

Stevenson explained also that he, while governor, had "advised a practice of making gifts around Christmas time to a small number of state employees" whom he regarded as underpaid.

These men, he said, had been recruited from private industry where, in most cases, they enjoyed higher salaries and more secure future than in government service.

The money for the "gifts" Stevenson said, came from campaign funds and from contributions made "from time to time."

He said that no donor to the fund knew "the identity of those to whom" gifts were made. He said that no official receiving a "gift" knew the identity of other officials obtaining the same benefit. "The amounts paid individuals were not disclosed," he said.

The practice, Stevenson said, had resulted in obtaining the services of a group of men whose "integrity and loyalty" were the equal of any in government.

Courage Of Nixon Praised By Ike

ABOARD GOP SPECIAL (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower "whistle stopped" across Ohio today toward an historic meeting with Sen. Richard M. Nixon which will determine whether the young vice presidential candidate stays on the ticket.

The Republican presidential nominee and his running mate may meet in Wheeling, W. Va. tonight. Eisenhower's first stop of the day was in Chillicothe, O., where he noted the fact that President Truman, who passed this way, had "merely given the people a 'whistle'."

This was a reference to the fact that Mr. Truman's train merely slowed down at it went through here early this month. A good sized crowd was at the station expecting to see the President as he passed through here.

HITS HIGH TAXES

The candidate devoted his Chillicothe talk largely to protests against high taxes and inflation. In addition to the high taxes, he said there is "sheer dishonesty in government."

Eisenhower left Cleveland early this morning after making an impromptu speech from "my heart" to a milt-evad audience in which he viewed Nixon as the kind of fighting man he prefers to have beside him, rather than a "whole boxcar full of pussypoosers."

Eisenhower had gone to the hall to read an address which he had prepared in his campaign against inflation. Instead he talked without text about Nixon.

He, Mrs. Eisenhower and close advisers had listened, in a small room near the hall, to the 39-year-old senator's 30-minute explanation of his financial worth over radio and television networks.

During Nixon's talk, Eisenhower took notes on what his running mate had to say about what he said with the controversial $18,000 expense account put up by wealthy California supporters.

SENT TELEGRAM When Nixon had finished, Eisenhower dictated a telegram of encouragement to his partner in politics and invited him to a meeting in Wheeling.

Then Eisenhower, in a dramatic gesture, threw his prepared anti-inflation text to the floor and (Continued On Page two)

Flying To Wheeling To Confer With Ike

BY UNITED PRESS

Sen Richard M. Nixon appeared almost certain today of staying on the Republican ticket as Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate.

A formal announcement of the decision is due tonight when Nixon meets Eisenhower at Wheeling, W. Va.

Tens of thousands of voters sent telegrams to the Republican national committee supporting Nixon after the young vice presidential candidate appeared on television last night and denied any wrongdoing in accepting an $18,235 personal expense fund.

At Cleveland, O., Arthur Summerfield, Republican national committee chairman, announced that Eisenhower and Nixon would meet tonight at Wheeling, where Eisenhower is scheduled to speak.

"I am certain that Senator Nixon will remain as Republican candidate for vice president of the United States," Summerfield said. He said he had begun a telegraphic poll of national committee members asking their views.

Sen. Robert A. Taft said he saw "no reason why" Nixon should be asked to quit. He said Nixon's television and radio explanation last night was "most effective."

SEN. RICHARD NIXON

WIRES FLOODED

Wayne J. Hood, executive director of the Republican national committee, told newsmen that he thought no meeting of the GOP national committee will be necessary to decide the future of the young vice presidential nominee.

Hood sat before a table burdened with an estimated 20,000 telegrams and cables, which, he said, were overwhelmingly in support of Nixon to stay in the race.

Western Union reported it was swamped with telegrams in answer to Nixon's televised and broadcast appeal last night to the nation to tell the GOP committee whether he should continue on the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

Nixon deflected $18,235 expense fund he received from wealthy men and demanded that Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. John J. Sparkman give a public (Continued On Page two)

French Submarine Reported Missing

PARIS (AP) — The Navy Ministry said today it fears the submarine La Sibylle is missing with 48 men aboard in the Mediterranean, where it was on maneuvers.

La Sibylle, the former British Sportsman, is a submarine of 715 tons—1,000 tons when fully loaded. With three others, it was transferred to France by Great Britain in 1951, on loan for four years for anti-submarine training purposes.

Baptist Meeting Set For Oct. 28

Plans are nearly complete for the next meeting of the Little River Association to be held at the Nellie's Creek Baptist Church on October 28, it was announced this morning by Rev. E. P. Russell.

With Leslie H. Campbell, president of Campbell College again serving as moderator, the meeting will include morning, afternoon and evening sessions. The complete program will be announced later, Mr. Russell said.

Judy Asserts She's Stupid About Reds

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Judy Holliday, moviedom's famous "dumb blonde," has told Senate investigators she was "more than slightly stupid" about Communist-front organizations, it was disclosed today.

In a secret hearing last March, the actress said she was so upset about finding herself called a "Red" in newspapers she hired investigators to investigate herself because "I wanted to know what I had done."

Burl Ives, folk song singer, also was quizzed by the Senate internal security subcommittee in its inquiry into possible Communist influence on the entertainment industry. Both he and Miss Holliday denied any intentional Red affiliations.

For Judy, it was a command performance of the "dumb blonde" role that won her the Academy Award in the movie "Born Yesterday," but this time she played it in dead earnest.

DID IT UNWITTINGLY

She admitted she had unwittingly contributed to some subversive organizations that seemed to be aiding "hard-luck" causes.

"When I was solicited I always simply said, 'Oh, isn't that too bad. Sure, use my name,'" she told the subcommittee.

She said she didn't suspect the (Continued On Page two)

McGrath Quoted On White House Clique

WASHINGTON, (AP)—T. Lamar Caudle today quoted ousted Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath as having said he had enough information about a "White House clique" to blow the place sky high.

Caudle, ousted as the government's chief tax frauds prosecutor about five months before President Truman fired McGrath, made his statement in completing testimony before a House subcommittee investigating the Justice Department.

He told newsmen after the hearing that "as best I can remember" McGrath made the remark in a conversation they held sometime after Mr. Truman fired McGrath last April in a blowup over the administration's anti-corruption drive.

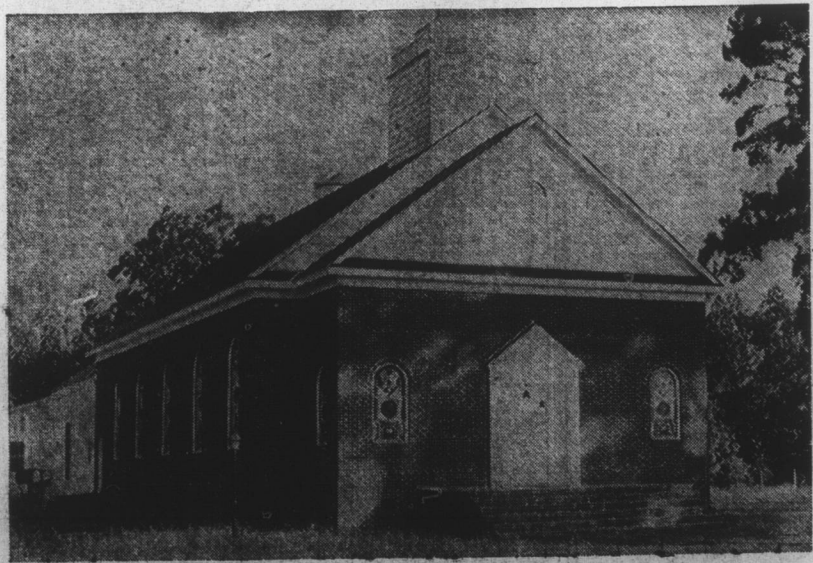

QUESTIONED BY KEATING Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., brought up the subject by asking if McGrath ever told Caudle he had information that would "blow (Continued on Page Two)
