"If elected," he said, "I promise an honest effort to give equal justice to all; to show partiality to none and to conduct the affairs of the court in an orderly and dignified manner, and to mete out justice to all who come before the court."

The general election is coming at a time when Judge Strickland is under heavy attack from the public and from leading Democratic lawyers, some of whom have openly said they'll support Mr. West.

DEMOCRATS PLEDGE AID There has been talk here in recent weeks of organizing a strong Democrats-For-West Committee to insure his election.

A prominent local Democratic leader said today that it has not been decided whether or not a separate organization should be formed or whether to simply campaign in the usual manner.

Most citizens recognize that any Republican has an uphill fight to win an office in this overwhelmingly Democratic community, but many feel that there is so much resentment toward Judge Strickland's failure to grant jury trials that the election may be swung to Mr. West.

WON'T ATTACK JUDGE

Mr. West today refused, however, to comment on the controversy raging around Judge Strickland. "I am not making any attack on Judge Strickland now or at any time during the campaign," said the Republican leader.

"Personally, Paul and I are good friends. I assume he is running on his record and the public knows what his record is."

"The people of this township also know me and they know that I'll endeavor to live up to my platform to the best of my ability."

NON PARTISAN

Mr. West reminded that city politics has always been bi-partisan in the Town of Dunn. "I've voted for Democrats all my life in local elections and intend to keep on doing it," he said.

Ordinarily, local citizens do not consider party affiliation in purely local offices and city judge is a local office.

Dunn Judge

Judge Strickland's decision today marked up a victory for Attorneys Duncan C. Wilson, Everette L. Doffermyre and other lawyers who have held the position that Judge Strickland should abide by existing laws until they are changed by the legislature. This is the position they have taken all along.

Attorney Doffermyre predicted last week that Judge Strickland would again grant jury trials. This was after District Solicitor Jack Hooks dropped plans for appeal of a case to Supreme Court.

SAYS LAW NOT CLEAR Judge Strickland has contended all along that the law pertaining to drawing of juries was not clear. Today, to confirm his opinion, he made public a letter from Ralph Moody, assistant Attorney General, in which Moody expressed an "advisory opinion" that there is no authority of law for holding jury trials in criminal cases.

OPINION ONLY ADVISORY

Mr. Moody emphasized that, "This opinion is advisory only." An advisory opinion is not binding on the court, but is the same sort of CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY - R. S. Taylor of Lillington celebrated his birthday with a family gathering at his home. Around 35 relatives attended the fish fry and picnic dinner which highlighted the party. Taylor recently completed 30 years of service with the State Highway Commission. Four generations of the Taylor family were on hand to celebrate the birthday event. Shown here are the guest of honor, far right, with his mother, Mrs. Lula B. Taylor of Fayetteville; his eldest daughter, Mrs. Thomas Currin of Oxford, the former Miss Elizabeth Taylor and her oldest child, Claudia Currin, Olive Taylor children and grand children, all present were: K. S. Taylor, Jr. and Mrs. Taylor and their daughter, Janice, of Lillington; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradley the latter the former Margaret Taylor and son David of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradley the latter the former Miss Estelle Taylor and two sons, Russell and Phil of Lillington. opinion as rendered by any other lawyer. The Supreme Court frequently reverses the Attorney General.

Commenting on Mr. Moody's opinion today, one Dunn lawyer, Duncan C. Wilson, commented: "Mr. Moody" did not have an opportunity to hear the evidence heard by the two Superior Court Judges who reversed Judge Strickland. Obviously, Judge Strickland or Solicitor Bryan wrote went to see Mr. Moody and gave him their side of the question. It is still a matter for the Supreme Court and Court invalidates it."

In his statement, Judge Strickland said he had discussed his reasons for desiring to test the law with the legal profession. "The Attorney General appears to hold the same opinion I have held."

Judge Strickland reportedly stopped jury trials because of his dissatisfaction over the juries' failure to convict more defendants. He made no comment on this phase of the matter, however.

OTHER JUDGES AGREED

The Dunn Judge pointed out, however, "In fact, no Superior Court judge has yet said that the law was clear and understandable, but each one before whom the question was presented has stated that the question should be decided by the Supreme Court."

Taking a swing at publicity given the controversy, Judge Strickland pointed out, "The question on which the Attorney General has given his opinion is a legal question, pure and simple, and can not be decided in the newspapers, or in any forum other than the Supreme Court."

Defending the fact that he allowed jury trials for two years before deciding they were not legal, Judge Strickland pointed out, "It is not unusual for a law to be considered valid for sometime only to find out on a test case that what has been followed as the law is not the law."

The entire text of Judge Strickland's statement is quoted in another story beginning on the front page.

NOSE, THROAT, and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields. FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE.

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes. A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields - 10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each. At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat. The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
