Truman Warns Against Rule By Republicans

EN ROUTE WITH TRUMAN (P) - President Truman said today that a "return to reactionary Republican rule" would mean "the forward and backward," and might mean "the difference between war and peace."

In a speech prepared for delivery in Wheeling, W. Va., the President also lashed out against the Taft-Hartley Act which he said "can wreck the American labor movement." He called the law a "Butter, vindictive, anti-labor act," and said there are a "great number" of men within the Republican party "who hate labor unions and would like to destroy them."

Mr. Truman, who wound up a 28-hour whistle-stop tour of Pennsylvania with a foreign policy address at Pittsburgh Wednesday night, was scheduled to swing back through Western Pennsylvania after his Wheeling speech. His special train also will stop at Cumberland, W. Va., tonight before continuing on to Washington.

HITS IKE'S TACTICS

In his speech before 4,000 persons in Syria Mosque at Pittsburgh, the President said Republican presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower's "cheap," "cynical" and "isolationist" campaign tactics are a "threat to our national security." He said Eisenhower's election "could lead us to national disaster."

Today the President, who is campaigning for Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, said the slogan on the Republican candidate's campaign train should be changed from "look ahead, neighbor" to "look out, neighbor."

"Among the people who had better look out if the Republicans win this election," he said, "are the working men and women of America."

"I dread to think what would happen to the labor movement if the Republican party ever returned to power," Mr. Truman said.

Harnett Democrats Stage Rally

Huge Throng Hears Scott And Carlyle

NEW DODGE ON DISPLAY - The beautiful new 1953 Dodge went on display this morning at Naylor-Dickey Motors in Dunn. Shown here admiring the new Dodge are: Robert W. (Bob) Dickey, left, Henry Jackson of Roseboro, well-known Sampson resident, and Luby Naylor, right. Large crowds were on hand today and everybody had praises for the new Dodge. Harnett County Democrats, about 2,000 strong, last night cheered and applauded Governor W. Kerr Scott, Congressman F. Ertel Carlyle and other party notables as they heaped praises on the Democratic Party, extolled its glories and delivered one verbal assault after another at General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee.

The big rally was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in Harnett and many pointed out that it was much bigger than the 1948 rally.

Chairman W. A. (Bill) Johnson and other committee officials were delighted with the success of the event. The crowd, estimated from 1,500 to 2,500, exceeded all expectations.

The committee had prepared barbecue and all the trimmings for a crowd of 2,500, but the food gave out long before the speaking started.

Party leaders, surveying the size of the crowd and the enthusiasm, observed afterwards that "There's no doubt about Harnett County this election."

BIG MAJORITY PREDICTED - Former State Senator Nell McK. Salmon, longtime party stalwart, predicted the Democratic majority this year will be greater than the entire Republican vote cast in the county.

Governor Scott set off a wild ovation when he started off his speech by declaring: "I want to tell you in the beginning," said the governor, "that I am a North Carolina Southern Roosevelt, Truman, Stevenson Democrat."

"The crowd roared. 'Four it on, Governor,' said one. 'Give 'em Hell, Kerr,' urged another, and 'You told 'em right,' shouted still another."

Congressman F. Ertel Carlyle, in what some hailed as the best speech of his career, agreed that it's time for a change.

"But the chance we need," he said, "is in the heart of some Democrats." He referred to those who have bolted the party to support Ike.

SAYS DEMOS MADE IKE - "If it hadn't been for the Democratic Party and for the Democratic administration that made him what he is, you'd never have heard of this five-star General Eisenhower," reminded Congressman Carlyle.

He pointed out two years ago Gen. Eisenhower held Congress that America couldn't do too much to help the people of Europe, "and now he's criticizing the party for what help we did send over there."

Mr. Carlyle reminded that he hadn't agreed with Eisenhower in the first place when he was advocating the pouring out of billions to Europe.

The congressman paid tribute to Democratic office holders on the local, State and national levels and reminded that the people have never had it so good before.

Attorney Bill Stator of Sanford, former State president of North Carolina Young Democrats told the crowd he thinks it's time to separate the Republicans from the Democrats.

"THERE'S NO SUCH THING" - Scott, Carlyle and Stator reminded the crowd that, "There's no such thing as a Democrat for Eisenhower. They're either Democrats" (Continued on Page 8)

Ike Attacks Cheap Money

EN ROUTE WITH Eisenhower (P) - Dwight D. Eisenhower, calling inflation a White House "policy" instead of an "accident," today proposed destruction of "the administration idol of cheap money."

The Republican presidential nominee teamed up with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for a tour through upstate New York which ends tonight at Buffalo where Eisenhower will make a major speech at 9:30.

Dewey was on the platform with Eisenhower Wednesday night at Troy, N. Y., where the former five-star general accused the Truman administration of deliberately encouraging inflation to give citizens a feeling of false prosperity.

These administration tactics, Eisenhower said, had cost American families "billions of dollars."

Eisenhower's prepared address was devoted completely to the issue of inflation. But he departed (Continued on Page two)

Bunlevel Bank Branch Rejected

Whiskey Stored In Old Church House

M. D. McKay, Coats Negro whose place was raided this summer by officers as he started arrangements for a fish fry to raise money for his ball team, Tuesday was convicted in Harnett Recorder's Court of possession of homebrew for sale.

However, he was freed on the "white lightning" charge because Constable C. E. Moore, the arresting officer, in his testimony neglected to identify the half gallon of "white whiskey" he found under the stairs as "non tax - paid whiskey."

Vice-Recorder L. M. Chaffin held with defense Attorney E. L. Doffernyre that while "white whiskey might mean bootleg whiskey to the maker, the seller or drinker, the court must have it identified as non-tax paid stuff.

WHISKEY IN TRAP

Moore told the court how he had watched McKay unlock the abandoned church building which adjoined the McKay house, take in fish and other groceries. Officers, armed with a search warrant, then entered to look for whiskey. Their search was nearly fruitless until Moore, going up the stairs, noticed a loose board, he reported. Lifting a plank he found a half gallon jar of white whiskey and two gallons of home brew.

Bandit Trio Robs 10 People

SPARTA, Tenn. (P) - A bandit trio led by a middle-aged man who called himself a "three-gun maniac" either slipped through police roadblocks or were hiding today in the Cumberland Mountains after freeing or letting escape 10 persons they robbed and held as hostages.

Police alerted in a three-state alarm said their last definite location of the three men was about dusk yesterday.

Officers were alerted in Nashville 100 miles away because a fourth member of the gang, a man called "Joe," had driven off early in the day-long series of robberies and kidnappings yesterday with word that "I'll meet you in Nashville tonight."

However, state highway patrol inspector John Fields said he did not believe the kidnapers were among the five bandits who robbed guests at the Belle Meade home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Warfield here Saturday night of $50,000 to $100,000 worth of cash, jewels and furs.

SEEMED TO BE AMUSED

Victims said the bandit leader would "laugh hysterically and beat his hands against the car seat" when he seemed to be amused.

They said he once said: "They call me a three-gun maniac, and brother, they've got their picture straight."

Harold Hilbert, Hagerstown, Ind. described the leader as middle-aged, another bandit as between 25 and 30 years old, and the third as appearing to be "in his late teens."

The two other bandits, the vic (Continued on page two)

Adlai Will Answer Attacks About Hiss

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson headed his campaign train today toward Cleveland, O., where he will make a major speech tonight replying to Republican charges that he "coddled" Communists and, once went to bat for Alger Hiss.

Wilson W. Wyatt, his campaign manager, said the Democratic presidential nominee's Cleveland speech would be one of the most important of the campaign. It will be broadcast on two radio networks, Mutual and Columbia, at 10 p. m. e. s. t.

"It will deal with the issue of Communists," Wyatt said. "It will deal with the Hiss case. It will deal generally with our smear tactics."

SAYS IKE CAPTIVE - Stevenson touch on the Communist issue last night in a speech at Buffalo, N. Y., where he held a party rally in Memorial Stadium that Dwight D. Eisenhower was a political captive of Republican "isolationists" and "economic reactionaries" who are allies of Communism at home and abroad "even if they don't know it."

Stevenson based his charge on the grounds that the "isolationists" and "reactionaries" were opposed to administration proposals (Continued on Page Two)

Lions Big Variety Show Opens Tonight

Tonight and tomorrow night will be dedicated exclusively to fun and merriment if the members of the Dunn Lions Club have their way. On these two nights, they will put on their big variety show in the Dunn High School auditorium.

There are eight big acts in the production, and each is funnier than the last, and they are guaranteed to keep the audience in a continual uproar of laughter. All of the members of the Dunn civic club will take part.

Lions Nathan Cannady and Jesse Capps are the producers of the laugh riot, and the direction has been in the capable hands of Mrs. Palmer Davis, pianist, except for a special number, will be Lion George Marks.

The show will include a number of skits, specialty dance and song numbers, a beautiful line of chorus girls and a womanless wedding. There is not a serious act in the entire production. (Continued on Page two)

Auto Dealers Plan Meeting

The Third Annual Area Chairmen Day, sponsored by the North Carolina Automobile Dealers Association, will be held in Raleigh on October 31 it was announced today by Henry H. Sandlin, Area Chairman and local Ford-Mercury dealer.

The full-day of activities will begin at 10:30 A. M. at which time the Highway Safety Committee will convene under the chairmanship of T. A. Williams, Greensboro. This committee is composed of dealers representing 82 counties throughout the State. Subjects for discussion will include the Association's safety program and measures designed to increase highway safety.

The officers, past presidents, and directors will meet at 11 o'clock. Fred H. Deaton, Carolina Motor Company of Statesville, president of the Association, will preside. A luncheon for the board will follow the meeting.

The afternoon will feature a business session at 2:30. Area chairmen and members of the various association committees will participate. (Continued on page two)
