Corporal Rommie Williamson of the highway partol is a staunch Democrat, but he likes Ike very much personally.

And he started liking Ike years ago before he entered the political arena. It was while General Eisenhower was Army Chief of Staff.

Corporal Williamson was sta-tioned at Fayetteville and the Fort Bragg commandant had requested a motorcycle escort for General and Mrs. Fisenhower from their home in Arlington, Va. to Fort Bragg. Corporal Williamson was assigned the job.

Fight For Judgeship Local Postal Is Holding Spotlight

The campaign between Adlai and Ike goes on, but the race that's attracting most interest in Averasboro Township is the hot race between City Judge H. Paul Strickland and J. O. West, his Republican opponent.

Judge Strickland, who narrowly 1948, says he's running on his redefeated a lady candidate, M.* Hazel Young, by a slim vote of 780 to 600 in the Democratic primary, is engaged in a fight for his political life.

Because of party affiliation Judge Strickland is given the edge over West, but many astute political observers say that as of now, it's a toss-up, and you can get even money on either candidate.

Strickland Denies He not only served as escort but Re was a hero and his automobile had to be guarded from souvenir hunters for few them.

Judge H. Paul Strickland challenged claims that his court is "soft" on defendants, or at least that the sentences he hands down are any less severe than those of any comparable court.

He challenged critics of his administering of justice in Dunn Recorder's Court to compare the records of defendants sent to the roads with any other Recorder's Court in this area.

"You will find," Judge Strickland declared, "that about the same proportion of road sentences

But others are asked by residents of Harnett who live in the District of Columbia, by others who work away part of the year and from sick residents in the county.

The clerk estimated around 75 ballots have been returned and a lart minute rush is exnected in the mails this weakend. Revistrars throughout the county yesterday received their batch of ballots and signed for them.

MENARD, Ill. (P) - State police acting on orders of Gov. Adlai Stevenson broke the week long riot at Menard state prison today and freed all seven prison guards neld as hostages.

State troopers, most of them armed with riot guns, invaded the strife-torn east cellblock and fired several shots as they rushed in.

Order was restored half an hour later with no further violence. The seven guards, held captive by the convicts since the siege began last Monday, were tired and hungry but unharmed.

Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, stood outside in the prison yard as the trooper filed into the cellblock.
