Truman Asks Budget Of $5 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman will hand the economy-minded 83rd Congress an $85,000,000,000 budget for government operations in fiscal 1954, according to preliminary unofficial estimates.

This is almost as much as he requested last January for fiscal 1953, and some $6,000,000,000 more than the 82nd Congress finally voted. It is also considerably higher than the $70,000,000,000 ceiling which Republican Congressional leaders have said they hope to impose on federal spending next year.

Mr. Truman will present the new budget, covering federal expenditures and revenue from July 1, 1953, to June 30, 1954, just a few days before he yields his post to President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

TRIMMING SCHEDULED
Eisenhower, who is committed to trim the budget to $60,000,000,000 by 1956, will be free to change the Truman budget as he sees fit, by sending further budget recommendations to Capitol Hill.

Budget experts say most of the money in the new budget, as now anticipated, will be earmarked for projects already approved by Congress, particularly the defense effort. To cut expenditures to this year's level — $79,000,000,000 — Eisenhower or Congress must cut back parts of the program already established, the experts say.

REV. ROY HARTHERN

London Evangelist Is Preaching Here

The Glad Tidings Assembly of God Church, Corner of Magnolia Avenue and Canary Streets, will begin Revival Services Tuesday, November 11, with Evangelists Roy and Pauline Harthern of London, England. The Pastor of the Church, Rev. A. A. Amerine, announces that services will be held each night except Monday at 7:30 p.m. for the next two weeks.

The British Evangelists are making their second Evangelistic tour of this country. Their first visit took them into more than 30 States, Canada and Mexico. For the past 6 months they have been touring the countries of Europe where they said people were hungry for the Gospel.

The Evangelists are talented musicians, and during their visit to Glad Tidings Church they will present a musical program each evening. Rev. Harthern for three years was first Lieutenant with the British Army in Germany before he began his Evangelistic ministry. His wife was a school teacher in London. Together they form an ideal Gospel team. They both preach, play the piano and accompany.

During the Revival the Evangelists will tell of their experiences in England during the war when the bombs were falling on their cities. Mrs. Harthern lived in London at that time. Her father, pastor of a church which was destroyed. Thirty blocks around her home were almost flattened. A shell fell on her home, and, during another attack, she was machine-gunned by a low-flying plane.

Their message is an apt one for these times—REVIVAL OR WORLD CRISIS.

The Pastor extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the services and meet the English Evangelists during their visit to our city.

Will Examine Korean Front For Himself

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower probably will spend Thanksgiving with American troops on the front line.

Members of Eisenhower's growing staff here did not want to talk about the Korean trip for security reasons, but there were indications he would leave shortly after his talks with President Truman in Washington next week.

It was known that Eisenhower was pleased by reports from Gen. Van Fleet Monday night that two new South Korean divisions and six additional regiments had been added to the United Nations forces.

WANTS CASUALTIES CUT
During the last weeks of his campaign, Eisenhower repeatedly expressed his long-standing theory that American casualties in Korea could be materially reduced by putting more South Koreans into the front lines.

The GOP winner did not project his Korean trip as an "easy answer" to the dragging war but said he wanted to examine the situation for himself in the hope of speeding peace, and short of that, "reducing the American combat report."

"One look is better than a million reports," Van Fleet said from the Far East Monday night. Eisenhower said substantially the same thing during the last weeks of the campaign.

TO END VACATION
The President-elect probably will leave here Sunday for New York for consultations with his advance policy-makers, led by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.) and Joseph M. Dodge, before going to Washington to see the President. Eisenhower's talks with Mr. Truman. (Continued on Page 4)

ACCURATE CHECK ON WATCHES — Shown is T. E. (Ty) Fisher, owner of the new Dunn Cut-Rate Jewelry Store, checking the accuracy of one of the watches in stock electronically on the "Watchmaster" the latest in this type of device. Watching him is his sister, Mrs. Mittie Parker, who will assist him in the new store in the premises formerly occupied by the Sears order office. (Daily Record photo by Louis Dearborn).

New Jewelry Store Is Opened In Dunn

"This is just the location I have been looking for," T. E. (Ty) Fisher said this morning. "As soon as I heard it was going to be vacant, I immediately got busy with plans to rent it."

The location he referred to was the store building from which the Sears order office moved. It is an ideal location for the type of jewelry store he wished to open.

For Fisher was not planning to open the usual store of this type, but one rather, where the customer with only a small amount of ready cash could find an item to fit his needs at an exceptionally low price.

By operating on a cash basis, he pointed out, he is able to offer values which he otherwise would not. "By making my purchases for cash and selling on the same basis," he points out, "I can pass savings along to my customers that otherwise would be impossible."

Most of the items he is handling in the new Dunn Cut-Rate Jewelry Store are nationally advertised items, and they carry not only the manufacturer's guarantee, but Fisher's personal guarantee as well.

Auditor May Be Fired For Not Contributing To Party

Two of Harnett County's top officials may be replaced when the new county board of commissioners takes office on Monday, December 1, it was learned today by The Daily Record. One may go because he was financially unable to contribute to the Democratic campaign fund.

Chairman L. A. Tart of the county board of commissioners confirmed this morning that there is "considerable talk" and a movement underway to oust County Auditor Herbert D. Carson, who is regarded as one of the ablest county auditors in the State, and Miss Wilma Williams, county welfare officer.

According to reports, Roger Mann, Lillington bank employee, is being groomed for the office of auditor, and Mrs. Ruby Hood of Dunn, public health nurse, is being talked to succeed Miss Williams.

Mr. Carson is being blamed strictly on politics.

UNABLE TO GIVE
It is understood that one or two party leaders became indignant when Mr. Carson advised them that he was financially unable to contribute to the Democratic party fund during the recent campaign.

On election night as returns were being tabulated, a prominent Lillington Democratic leader was loudly condemning Mr. Carson for failing to contribute to the fund.

According to reliable information, a party worker had demanded that Carson shell out one-third of a month's salary, which would have been $130.

Mr. Carson, who is praised by State officials and others as by far one of the outstanding county auditors in the State, has had much illness in his family during the year and is also struggling to pay for a home which he built with his own hands.

It is known that Mr. Carson has contributed liberally to the party in the past and in the previous election contributed $150, even though he had to borrow the money to do so. He explained his personal financial difficulty in detail. (Continued on page 3)

H. Paul Strickland, a Democrat, was returned as judge of the Dunn Recorder's Court, but J. O. West, his Republican opponent gave him a hair's line contest. The count was Strickland, 1454; West 1407. The 47 votes made the difference. Official canvass of Harnett's vote, completed late Friday, largely confirmed the accuracy of the unofficial count made Tuesday night, which showed Democrats returning to office on the county and state ticket by a comfortable margin.

Truman Seeks Ike's Advice

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman will seek Dwight D. Eisenhower's advice on foreign policy during the next two months, but will not ask the President-elect to share responsibility for any decisions, administration officials said today.

They said Mr. Truman will ask for Eisenhower's suggestions on how to handle urgent problems in Korea, Iran, and Indo-China when the two meet at the White House next week.

The retiring chief executive realizes he must accept full responsibility for everything the government does between now and Eisenhower's inauguration Jan. 20, informants said.

But they pictured him as feeling that current policy decisions should as far as possible reflect Eisenhower's ideas as well as his own so they will carry the full weight of a united America.

Judge Lashes Out Against Perjurers

By LOIS BYRD
Record Staff Writer
Superior Court Judge Henry L. Stevens, Jr. of Warsaw in his charge to the grand jury Monday at the opening of a two weeks term of criminal court in Lillington called perjury the most dangerous enemy of the courts.

"Our whole system of justice," the judge said, "rests upon the promise that the witness will tell it like it happened, the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

"After 15 years on the superior court bench," Judge Stevens said, "I know that there are people who will come here to willfully tell a lie, either to help someone out of trouble or to put someone in trouble."

"I hate perjury more than anything I know," said the Judge. The man who lies, breaks down our whole system of justice. The most dangerous thing I know is a liar. Now there two weeks I am going to give you an opportunity to tell the truth."

CAN USUALLY TELL
The jurist went on to say that he couldn't tell exactly how, but that usually he can tell if a person is telling the truth. "If they don't tell the truth, I am going to give them the maximum," he warned.
