Erwin Soldier Has Important War Job

6161ST AIR BASE WING, JAPAN — Insuring the safe and speedy delivery of classified matter vital to operations of B-29 Superforts at this combat bomber base in Japan, is the job of Erwin, N. C. Airman First Class Elwin McIntyre. Assigned to the 548th Reconnaissance Technical Squadron, Airman McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis McIntyre who lives at 101 North 10th St. in Erwin, is a dispatch specialist in the operations section. Explaining the importance of his work the North Carolina airman said, "We can't be too careful when the distribution of classified military information is involved. We check and double check everything that leaves this office to make sure it is routed properly. All items have to be accounted for every minute."

STRICT ACCURACY — Performing a job that calls for nerving accuracy and speed, Airman McIntyre is responsible for seeing that all packages and messages leaving the 548th reach their destination safely. Eighty five percent of the work orders handled in this message center are forwarded to FEAF Headquarters for approval and further distribution.

2100 EACH MONTH — Averaging an output of some 2100 packages and messages each month, the 548th message center routes their distribution to U. S. Air Force bases throughout the world as well as Japan and Korea. Everything that leaves the 548th is logged in this section, whether it's a 300 pound work order containing target film reports, or a twenty word message.

Airman McIntyre enlisted in the Air Force in Oct. 1950, and received basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He was then stationed at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., prior to his transfer to this Far East Air Forces base in Japan.

Inquest Delayed In Man's Death

An inquest into the strange circumstances surrounding the death of a 23-year-old Negro, which was first ascribed to a highway accident and later termed "possible murder," has been postponed until next week, it was announced today by Cumberland County Coroner Joe Pinkston. The inquest, originally set for last night, will probably be held the latter part of next week, he said, in order to give investigators more time to gather evidence. Four local negroes who were in company of the victim, Charles Williams, on the night he sustained his fatal injuries, are under bonds of $500 for appearance at the inquest. They are King David Graham and Ray Williams (alias Ray Parker), both of route 1, Aulryville; Eddy Boy Graham of 621 Person street and Prince C. Jackson of Route 2 Aulryville. The victim was struck by an automobile on the Godwin-Falcon road Sunday night, October 26, and rushed to the Dunn Hospital where he died the following Monday. A preliminary examination of the body indicated that Williams had "suffered two types of injuries at two separate times." The four under bond, allegedly were involved in a fight with Williams a short time before his prostrate body was struck by the car.

McLamb Services Conducted Today

James Floyd McLamb 37, Four Oaks, Route 2, died Sunday at 2:15 p. m. in the Dunn Hospital as the result of self inflicted shotgun wounds. McLamb, who had been in ill health for as past six to eight months, had become despondent and took his own life with a shotgun. Funeral services were conducted at the Stone Creek Advent Christian Church, Benson, Route 2, by the Rev. Ted Pritchard of Benson, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with interment in the Barefoot cemetery on Route 2, Benson. + Buies Creek Chatter Box +

By GAIL GREGORY
Though Buie's Creek is a small school it still has much chatter. The Buie's Creek boys started practicing basket-ball Monday night.

This year we have a Glee Club and F. H. A. which we are proud of. Buie's Creek had their Halloween Carnival the 31st of October.

It seems that all the sophomore girls of Buie's Creek have turned their eyes toward Angier.

Seems that "Tojo" Waddell has an eye on something in the eighth grade. What's her name "Tojo."

Wonder why Travis Ross cut off all his hair during the weekend - Could it be because of a Senior from Coats?

What has happened to Howard Harmon these days. RueBelle Harper and Howard seem to be sticking together quite a lot.

Why doesn't Pat Willford like Buie's Creek? Don't tell me a certain little sophomore broke his

Dunn Jaycees

Beauty and romance are not forgotten, for in the Fred Waring scene, special lighting effects are used a ballads and melodies of yester-year blend with popular tunes of the day. The Queen for a Day scene gives some lady in the audience each night a chance to be selected for this honor. The coronation ceremony takes place on the stage and she receives many gifts and surprises, just as it is done on the original radio and TV show which has gained national popularity.

A colorful finale with the complete ensemble offers a tribute to entertainment and the heritage of freedom in America. Remember the date of "Shooting Stars," it tops in entertainment, using local talent, but professionally staged and costumed.

Funds Sought

"Several cities are working together to raise the funds needed to hire these experts to get the complete facts. All of us will have to give a little help to put it over. "Sit down right now and mail your share in today. Make it anywhere from $25 to $100. Your action today may mean saving many dollars during the next year."

Judge Orders

(Continued From Page One) jury. Judge Harris later accepted a lesser plea and sentenced James Taylor to life imprisonment. The hearing at that time revealed that in Harnett the procedure is for the register of deeds to prepare a new jury list every two years, taking names from the tax scrolls. The lists are then turned over to the county commissioners for screening. Each commissioner is given the names drawn from his section and is expected to eliminate any known to have been convicted of a felony, died, moved out of county or incapacitated by physical condition to serve.

From the purged lists, the register of deeds cuts into separate slips the names which go into the jury box. At meetings of the commissioners prior to each term of court, names of jurors are drawn from this box by a minor child.

Wade Negro

(Continued From Page One) man, Eddie Evans were standing in the yard of his (Stedman's) home and that he fired the pistol three times. McPhail allegedly stated "Don't be shooting at me" and then walked toward Stedman. McPhail allegedly began tussling with Stedman, officers said, and Stedman fired the gun. McPhail was fatally injured when the bullet struck him in the left side under the arm and left his body through the right side.

Two Negro men working nearby, George Evans, 21, and Henry McDonald, 21, both of Wade, route one, heard the shots and came over to Stedman's house, officers said.

According to Sheriff Guy, the men put McPhail in their car and rushed him to the hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Both men were booked at material witnesses in the case and were released under $200 bond each. Guy added that the men were also cited to court on a careless and reckless driving charge by a Highway patrolman who followed their car to the hospital.

Coroner Joe Pinkston said a coroner's inquest into the shooting will be held Friday night at 8 p. m. at the Cumberland county courthouse.
