In the House, retiring Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas was assured of election as Democratic floor leader.

House Republicans were set to nominate Martin for the speakership and to elect Rep. Charles A. Hallack of Indiana floor leader.

While members of both parties have indicated interest in the proposed anti-filibuster, most of its support comes from northern and western democrats.

Senate Republicans unanimously named Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Sen. William F. Knowland of California to the two top posts in the GOP-controlled Senate.

Taft was selected by his colleagues to serve in the 82nd Congress as majority floor leader, while Knowland was named to succeed the Ohio lawmaker as chairman of the GOP Senate Policy Committee.

Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado was elected chairman of the Senate Republican Caucus.

Also elected by the Republicans were Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, to be Senate president pro tempore, largely an honorary post; and Sen. Milton R. Young of South Dakota, secretary of the Republican Conference and as such a member of the Policy Committee.

Hanna Says

SOME POSSIBILITY
"Is there a possibility you might change your mind?" a reporter asked the mayor.

"Some possibility, but not much," he answered.

Then the Mayor asked a question of his own:

"Don't you think four years is long enough for one man?" he asked the reporter.

Several Dunn mayors have served longer than four years, however. Herbert B. Taylor served here for eight years as mayor, the longest period any mayor has ever served.

A number of people have been mentioned as possible candidates for the office. Former Mayor Protem Joe A. Wilkins is regarded as a sure candidate regardless of whether or not Mayor Hanna seeks re-election. There is also a movement under way here to persuade Myres Tilghman, prominent Dunn business and civic leader, to run for the office.

TWO MEMBERS UP

Two of the city councilmen, L. L. Coats in Ward I and R. G. Tart in Ward III also came up for re-election this year. Terms of the other two commissioners, J. V. Bass and E. A. Bracey, will not expire for two more years.

Mayor Hanna said this afternoon that he has not even discussed politics, "not one single word" with members of the council.

Both Coats and Tart are expected to seek re-election but so far have made no statement concerning their intentions.

GOD'S ACTS

Yesterday most of us discarded the 1952 calendar and replaced it with a new 1953 calendar. When one compares a secular calendar with a Church Kalender he finds an excellent comparison of the kind of life the Christian religion intends that we live as over against the kind of life our secular society would have us live.

The experience of many persons during Christmastide was not that which the Christian religion outlines for us in the Christian Kalender. Now that Christmas is over many do not have to be told that they did not celebrate Christmas as a Christian festival should be celebrated.

Yesterday in the secular world was New Year's Day. In the Christian world it was also the day marking the beginning of a new year, but it was also, as few people realized, the day on which classical Christians throughout the new world remember The Circumcision of Christ, continuing the story of St. Luke read on Christmas Day. "And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb." Centuries ago the Church started celebrating this day of our Lord's life as against the pagan carnival of New Year's. Centuries ago the Church realized the importance of remembering this day and underlined it as an important day on the Christian Kalender. The Christian Kalender grew out of the worshipping community of Christians, as they responded to the mighty acts of God. The circumcision of Christ is one of those acts. It is the affirmation of a truth too often forgotten: that God did not send His Son to found a completely new religion. The New Testament rests upon the Old; the covenant of grace presupposes the covenant of law; the Church is the transformed and universalized Israel.

It did not just happen that Christ was a Jew. God had picked the Jews for His special purposes, educated them and guided them in a particular manner, so that the way would be made ready for the supreme Act of all—the Act that points backward to Abraham and Moses, and forward to the entire human race. It was part of God's design that the groundwork for his universal revelation should be laid by the Jews, and that the Saviour of mankind should stand squarely in that tradition, and be obedient to its covenant.

As we face the new year, let us guide our lives with the use of the Christian Kalender, a calendar that underlines those days that bring to mind the mighty acts of God. The Christian Kalender brings to the fore the events of our Lord's life, the greatest Act of God for mankind. It brings to the fore all of His acts "for us men and for our salvation." It is a guide for redemptive living. It helps us "live the Bible." It provides a major tool in our seeking of "the way, the truth, and the light."

In 1953 let us live by the Christian Kalender that we may progress in "the new light of thine incarnate Word," and be made acceptable in His sight.
