

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leaders got their turn to eat lunch at the White House today. President Eisenhower, who played host to Senate leaders Tuesday, invited Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr., House GOP floor leader Charles A. Halleck and the chairmen of 17 house committees to be his guests at lunch today.

SALTA, Argentina (AP) — Radio actor Pepe Martin gave such a convincing performance as a villain in a radio mystery show that a group of irate citizens beat him into unconsciousness when he left the studio.

TOKYO (AP) — Forty-four girls were suspended from Jogakan, Japan's most exclusive girls' school, because they weaved their hair instead of keeping it braided in pigtails. The school's president said, "if we leave them alone they become gaudy and there is the fear they will attract the attention of delinquents."

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — When Eugent Bourassa fell 18 feet through the skylight of Dr. F. E. Cline's office, the doctor treated the man for head and arm injuries—then police arrested him on a charge of attempted breaking and entering.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sen. A. J. Rogers has introduced a bill in the state Legislature to crack down on the sale and distribution of lewd literature and "girlie" magazines in Texas. "Preachers from my district have told me you can't buy a book on how to train a dog without having a picture of a naked woman on the cover," Rogers said.

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — The Coast Guard has set a new record for rescuing downed pilots. A Navy Panther jet crashed into San Francisco Bay Wednesday and the Coast Guard had the pilot aboard a crash boat, wet but uninjured, exactly two minutes after his plane hit the water.

STUEBENVILLE, O. (AP) — Thomas Cain decided it wasn't necessary to call a plumber to thaw out his frozen water pipes. He could do it himself. Cain decided that the best tool for the job was a blow torch. Then he had to call the fire department instead of the plumber when the blow torch set fire to his house.

MANHATTAN, Ill. (AP) — One per cent of this town's population went into the Marine Corps Wednesday. Seven young men enlisted. The population before they left was 700.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Joseph G. Lenoir's troubles began last August when thieves stole his metal prefabricated building from its foundation. Later the thieves returned and stole the foundation. Lenoir was fined $100 Wednesday for failing to fill the hole where the building once stood.

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — Fire-fighters set about re-capping two gas wells at which fires that had blazed for 11 days were finally snuffed out by dynamite. The Pure Oil Co. said the situation definitely was not "under control" at its drilling platform 10 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico, even though the fires were out. Dynamite blasts put out the fires yesterday.

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The executive council of the American Federation of Labor went into its third day of sessions here today after revealing a program of stepped-up political activity by the AFL's League for Political Education. As part of the increased political program, the AFL officials established a woman's division which they said will begin operations "shortly."

by Mr. Henderson, declared Dorsett. "And I've appeared at inquests in many counties of the State," he added.
He said he was well impressed with the dignity, fairness, efficiency and courtesy of Mr. Henderson.
"Harnett County is indeed fortunate," declared Dorsett.
Attorney Dorsett, incidentally, is the son-in-law of U. S. Senator Willis Smith and is a partner in the law firm of Smith, Leach and Anderson in Raleigh.

LITTLE NOTES: Dunn's VFW post has just booked the famed Charlie Spivak for a dance here. The date will be announced within the next few days. Dunn Baptists are preparing for pre-Easter revival services. Bargain Days started off with a bang this morning. Several stores had to call in extra help to handle the customers. Jim McMillen, who was in Dunn last weekend, is an old friend of Gary Moore, the TV sensation. He and Gary grew up in the same neighborhood and also worked together on the same radio station in Baltimore. Many Dunn citizens will attend the wrestling matches in Raleigh tonight. Among them will be Charles Skinner, James Sures, Cad Upchurch, Tommy Sessions and J. D. Jernigan. "I'm anxious to see the midgets wrestle," declared Mr. Skinner, who's an old wrestling fan. Three lucky couples have moved into the pretty new home built by Mrs. George F. McKay on South Wilson Ave. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Nell S. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Creel, and Mr. and Mrs. James Yates. Captain I. R. Williams is out after a case of flu. Says he's still weak. Mr. Williams, who's but added, "let's not give up what we have until we are sure it will be replaced with something better."

"The use of flexible price supports might be the best approach in dealing with some commodities," Hope said. "There are certainly other commodities, among them tobacco, on which I feel that fixed supports at 90 per cent are preferable."
Hope also suggested that "we ought to go farther than we have in exploring the possibilities of marketing agreements which have been so successful in the case of fluid milk and other perishable commodities."
The delegates adopted numerous resolutions, including those calling for authorization for a mutual automobile and truck insurance company; a conference to discuss lowering commissions charged by Bright Belt tobacco warehousemen; bond issues for new school buildings; higher teachers salaries; continued price supports of not less than 90 per cent of parity.

the time of the writing of the Declaration of Independence is even more true today: "That free government is imbedded soundly in a deeply-felt religious faith or it makes no sense."
"Prayer is just simply a necessity. I have the profound belief that if we remind ourselves once in a while of the basic truths... or our forefathers... we can preserve this government and pass it on as free and as sound as ever."
NEED DIVINE AID
He added that his constant thought in these admittedly trying days is the continuing need "for some sort of help outside of ourselves."
The breakfast was arranged by the International Council for Christian Leadership, an organization dedicated to giving religion a larger role in the everyday affairs of business and government.
Chairman for the meeting this morning was Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.), one of Mr. Eisenhower's closest campaign associates. He has long been active in the council.
Among the more than 500 dignitaries attending the prayer breakfast at the Mayflower Hotel were members of the Supreme Court and the cabinet and representatives of each of the armed services.

SPEAKS BRIEFLY
The President was scheduled to speak briefly after prayers by Rep. Katherine St. George (R-N.Y.), Abraham Berende, executive director of the Christian Leadership Council, and several other participants.
Conrad Hilton, president of the Hilton Hotel chain which operates the Mayflower and an active member of the Christian Leadership movement, also was scheduled for a brief talk.
The Rev. Edward H. Pruden of the First Baptist Church of Washington, former President Truman's pastor, was asked to deliver the closing prayer.

Mr. Eisenhower and his wife last Sunday in a private ceremony became members of the National Presbyterian Church, where the President worshipped Jan. 20, a few hours before his inauguration.
Mr. Eisenhower treated today's ceremony as a solemn, religious occasion and declined to pose for photographs during the meeting itself. He is willing, however, to be photographed with leaders of the movement prior to the actual prayer services.

gaps in dikes including those on Holland's Schouwen Island. Burgomasters of towns on that island said in new radio appeals for help that residents were fleeing to the tops of remaining dikes to await rescue.

Rescue craft sped to the island under urgent orders to evacuate all possible residents before sundown. It was feared some might not be able to survive another night of exposure.
Last night's 50-mile wind beat itself out this morning and the sun shone for the first time in five days, but it was still freezing cold and occasionally windy.

The United States alone had 2,500 soldiers, sailors and airmen in the rescue force, and British, French, Belgian and German units worked alongside them.
Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Allied supreme commander in Europe, flew over the flooded area of Holland enroute from his Paris headquarters to the Hague to discuss the effects of the flood on Holland's defense budget.

MILLIONS IN DAMAGE
The floods caused millions of dollars worth of damage to property and loss of livestock. This probably will force the Netherlands to reconsider its commitments to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense setup.
The most impressive international operation ever undertaken in peace time sent an army of men, ships, planes and vehicles rolling into the flood area again today on the heels of a typhoon storm.

American officers aiding the huge rescue operation believed all the marooned survivors—some of whom have been exposed to cold, winds, rain and hunger for five days—would have to be rescued by tonight. They said they did not believe the survivors could live through another freezing day and night.
Dutch federal police with "shoot-to-kill" orders again were moved into the flooded area of Holland, estimated to cover 450,000 acres to prevent looting.
The new storm ripped holes in the centuries-old Dutch dikes and imperiled hundreds of lowland residents. An appeal for immediate

Meadow PTA Has Meeting

Meadow School held its regular P. T. A. meeting Monday night, February 2, 1953.
The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Joe E. Hudson.
Mrs. Frances Leggett led the devotions.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Thelma Smith. Several selections were rendered by members of the high school glee club, accompanied by Miss Beatrice Hamilton at the piano. Mrs. Thelma Smith gave a recitation "Reciting For The Teacher," which was a humorous portrayal of dramatic art as was exaggerated by a group of students.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and were approved as read.
Mrs. Heber Johnson, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported that on February 11 we were sponsoring a musical program, "Johnny & Jack", from Nashville, Tennessee. She invited everyone to attend.
Mr. Harriett reported that there help from Schouwen-Duiveland Island said three new breaks had appeared in the battered island's dikes.

The new storm appeared to have spent most of its force by dawn. But as 20,000 rescue workers from many nations, including the United States, rushed back to evacuate and aid survivors, it was feared new tolls had been taken by the high winds and pounding seas.

LEAVE FOR FLORIDA

Mrs. Ruby Frie, Mrs. Henry Godwin, Mrs. Mildred Register and Felton Godwin left today for Florida where they will be visiting for the next few days.

is to be a county wide Music Festival this spring, made up of glee clubs and rhythm bands throughout the county. The county has been divided into 4 sections with part of the music festival to be presented in each section on different dates. Benson, Cleveland, and Four Oaks will meet at Meadow on Friday, April 24, at 8 p. m. to present their festival in this section.

There is also to be a county wide School Exhibit which is to be held in the Setina school gym during the week of March 15-20. We hope there will be a large representation.

Miss Blanche Haley, our field secretary, will be in this district during the week of March 3, 1953. She has been scheduled to be with us on Monday night, March 2, at 7 p. m. A motion was made and carried that we let this visit with Miss Haley pass as our next regular P. T. A. meeting. We are very fortunate in getting Miss Haley to be with us, and we hope that everyone will be able to attend this next meeting.

Mr. Harriett presided over grade count. Mrs. Fay Jackson's 11th grade section had the largest number of parents present.
After the business meeting, refreshments of individual cakes and drinks, served by the Popular Grove Community women, were enjoyed by all.

JOUAM Launches Crusade Against Communism Here

In celebration of its 104th anniversary, the Junior Order United American Mechanics has launched a Crusade against Communism. The Crusade was formally launched in Philadelphia, the cradle of American liberty.

The JOUAM is asking all civic organizations to share in this effort to combat Communism and is enlisting the help of newspapers, radio and other means of public information to aid in the Crusade.
