Jenner Reopens Loyalty Probe Of UN Employees

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. William E. Jenner promised today to route American subversives out of United Nations specialized agencies as he reopened a Senate probe into U. N. loyalty procedures.

The chairman of the subcommittee on internal security specifically mentioned employees of the International Monetary Fund, the Educational, Social and Cultural Organization, and the International Children's Emergency Fund as "involved in subversive activities."

CALL LODGE — The subcommittee called Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., head of the U. S. delegation to the U. N., to its noon hearing at the Federal Court House for a report on what steps have been taken to put recommendations of the old McCarran subcommittee into effect.

Since the subcommittee last met in December, a security system patterned after the federal loyalty review program was set up for Americans in the U. N. Secretariat and affiliated agencies.

Former President Truman established the system by executive order Jan. 9 and it went into operation Jan. 28 with mass fingerprinting and loyalty questionnaires.

FBI CHECKING — The Federal Bureau of Investigation currently is making "full field" investigations of the 345 Americans who hold high-ranking jobs at the U. N. FBI agents will check any of the 1,330 minor employees at the request of the Civil Service Commission.

Sight Wreckage Of Lost Plane

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A ship reported early today that it had located sunken wreckage believed to be a National Airlines DC-6 which crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, killing 46 persons.

Four ships with complete air cover meanwhile began at dawn a fifth day's search off the Alabama coast for any additional floating bodies or debris.

Only 17 bodies had been found afloat thus far and investigators believed others may lie in the plane. Plans were underway to try to raise the plane's hull from the 90-foot depth with grappling equipment.

Traffic Signals Hit Three Times

The Dunn Police Department is seeking a solution for the traffic signal problem at the intersection of Broad and Ellis, where the traffic lights lately have seemed to have an irresistible attraction for motor vehicles.

Police were on duty all day at the intersections and until six Tuesday night when the lights finally were repaired.

Wednesday evening, another truck tapped one of the posts lightly, again with no damage, except to the nerves of Dunn policemen when they heard of the incident.
