ded that retail merchants in most parts of the country are confident the whole spring shopping season would be "of unprecedented proportions."

ARNOLD, Pa. (AP) — A drunken millworker killed a police sergeant and wounded three patrolmen today in an hour-and-a-half gun battle at his home before he fell mortally wounded by a volley of police fire. Virgil Backus, 46, died in a hospital nearly two hours after he was struck by about 15 bullets as he attempted to shoot his way out of his tear gas-filled house.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Association for Advancement of Colored People has asked Navy Secretary Robert B. Anderson to end segregation at the Charleston and Norfolk navy yards and all other naval establishments.

BERLIN (AP) — Russia formally invited the United States and France today to join the Anglo-Soviet air safety talks. Western observers believed the Soviet Union may be trying to extend the conference now under way here into a full-scale Big Four conference on Germany. This would be in line with recent Soviet overtures in important area of East-West differences.

NEW YORK (AP) — The 83rd annual edition of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus settled down to a month's stand in Madison Square Garden today after last night's premiere in behalf of the united cerebral palsy fund.

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — A 22-year-old army bride got as far as the gangplank again yesterday and then— for the third time in four months—changed her mind about sailing for New York where her Mississippi husband is waiting.

Mrs. Doris Emmons walked off the Queen Elizabeth 25 minutes before she and her baby daughter were to sail.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korean infantrymen smashed back a Chinese battalion attack on the central front today, killing or wounding 125 Communists in hand-to-hand fighting. The Chinese force, mounting the biggest attack since the opening of the Communist "peace offensive," was driven northward by a ROK counterattack and U. N. artillery after a 40-minute battle.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — United Nations diplomats started a five-day Easter holiday today undecided whether Russia's latest "peace" overture meant the Kremlin was dropping its demand for unconditional prohibition of atomic weapons as the first condition for world disarmament.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The threat of a "severe" beer shortage dealers predicted was averted today with a settlement of a contract dispute which had halted production at four breweries here.

Union and company representatives said a dispute over "some particular wording" of the contracts had been settled and production would be "back to normal" in one or two days.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Atomic Energy Commission announcement that it is expanding its Pacific testing grounds led to speculation today that new hydrogen explosions are in the works. The AEC said last night that it is adding Bikini, scene of two atomic tests in 1946, to the Pacific proving ground it operates at Eniwetok, 180 miles to the west.

Moore Tries To Push Liquor Bill

RALEIGH (AP) — A Clay County legislator began lining up support today for a move to put an end to the delaying tactics of committees considering the red-hot liquor referendum bill.

The House Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns and the Senate Committee on Propositions and Grievances have each been hoping that the other would act on the controversial measure. But, Rep. H. M. Moore warned that unless the committees stop playing "Alphonse and Gaston" he was going to lead a move to recall the bill from committee for action on the floor.

Moore, author of the "all-or-none" liquor referendum proposal needs a two-thirds vote to get the bill to the floor. He indicated his motion may come Monday night or Tuesday.

The Senate P — and — G group wanted off a challenge by Chairman Adam J. Whitley of Johnston for a vote yesterday and set a vote for next Wednesday if the House committee fails again to act.

Supporting the postponement move, Sen. Cameron S. Weeks of Edgecombe said, "I think it is presumptuous of us to act on this when we haven't even officially had a hearing on it."

NOTE WEDNESDAY
The House Committee also decided tentatively to vote on the liquor bill at 9:15 a. m. Wednesday, two hours before the Senate group meets. The group averted a showdown vote on a motion by Rep. Joseph Hunt of Guilford to postpone action "indefinitely."

The House yesterday gave final approval to a bill providing for a constitutional amendment, subject to popular vote, to limit to one the number of senators a county may have. Opponents, mainly from heavily-populated counties, lost a last-ditch battle against the measure which they said would "destroy true representation by population" in the General Assembly.

The Senate, meanwhile, passed and sent to the House a bill to revise superior court districts and increase their number by eight. The measure, opposed by Gov. William B. Umstead, cleared its third reading by a 26-18 vote.

Sen. James H. Fou Bailey continued his attack on Saturday sessions of the Assembly by introducing a bill to pay legislators a flat $1,350 for the session rather than $15 per legislative day. At present the Assembly must meet on Saturday if the lawmakers are to collect their pay.

In practice, almost none of the legislators are around for the Saturday sessions. Bailey generally is by himself on Saturday and passes the local bills, without even the senators from the counties involved anywhere around.

SWINE BILL
The House passed on second reading by a lopsided vote of 80-3 a measure designed to halt spread of the swine disease vesicular exanthema.

The bill would prohibit the feeding of raw, uncooked garbage, and provides for licensing and regulation of garbage feeders.

The Senate Roads Committee unanimously killed a House-passed bill which would have permitted renewal of drivers' licenses in North Carolina by mail.

The measure had been called a "bad bill" by Gov. William B. Umstead and was strongly opposed by highway safety officials and Motor Vehicle Commissioner L. R. Fisher.

Sen. Lunsford Crew of Halifax moved for the unfavorable report in the Senate committee. The House had passed the bill by a vote of 68-44 following sharp debate.

Under the provisions of the bill, a person could apply for a driver's license renewal by mail with statements that his mental and physical condition were unchanged from the previous examination, and a certificate attesting to satisfactory vision.

Four Young

LEAVING BEAT
Kaslak was leaving his beat early today when he looked into the liquor store and saw four men carrying pistols. He fired a shot through the window to frighten them and then stationed himself in front of the door.

In the meantime, a patrol car came by and Kaslak told the other officers "to look the rear of the building and see who is in there."

When Sgt. Fred Trough heard the radio alarm he alerted other squad cars and then, on a hunch, called the liquor store. One of the bandits, who identified himself as a Jack Tornatore, 20, answered the phone.

WANT OUT
"For God's sake get us out of here," the gunman said. "Ed Kaslak is out in front and he'll kill us if we go out. I'm only 20 years old and I don't want to die."

The youth asked Trough to "send a lieutenant."

"It's a deal," the sergeant said, and hung up.

Six of the store's customers, who were herded into a washroom by bandits, said they heard the youths arguing outside the washroom door. The customers told police that they heard one youth say "Let's shoot it out," but another said, "We're trapped, let's give up."

The gunman evidently decided that Kaslak, who is well-known in his southwest side neighborhood, was too much for them. Just before he entered the liquor store and tavern to make the final arrest, they gave their guns to the customers.

The other bandits arrested were Thomas D'Amico, 18, Patrick Mastrandrea, 19, and Sam Martin, 19.

Light & Bright

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — A police car ordered to "escort a motorist" rushing oxygen to a dying friend smashed into another vehicle. The escorted car piled into the two wrecks. It was then police found that Paul Zuercher didn't have oxygen in his car but a heating pad and rubbing alcohol for his wife's sore leg.

PAWNEE CITY, Neb. (AP) — The weekly Pawnee City Republican carried this advertisement by Lang's grocery store: "Don't buy coffee. It's too damn-ugly high. Drink only one cup a day."

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentine heavyweight boxer E. Svenidza Demetri's Foran swung a polo punch at his wife in the middle of Castell Street in San Isidro near here Wednesday night. He was acknowledging the victory to a gathering crowd when his wife, Aurora Matilde Jose Foran, regained consciousness, hit him with a bottle and knocked him cold.

FITCHBURG, Mass. (AP) — Police Lt. Bernard Keenan stopped the driver of a sedan here for being overloaded. Fourteen men, emerging—nine from the inside and five from the trunk.

LANDS A BIG ONE — William Maynard, popular Dunn youth, is pictured here with a six and a half-pound bass he caught yesterday afternoon in Little River. The big fish gave him quite a struggle, but he landed him in about five minutes. It was one of the biggest reported this season. Maynard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Maynard, well-known Dunn residents.

Lee May

run careful consideration," declared Mr. Lee, "and I expect to make up my mind within the next few days."

LONG TIME LEADER
Mr. Lee, operator of the Dunn bus station, has been a leader in public affairs here for many years. He served in the State Senate in 1935 and served for several terms as vice recorder of the Dunn court.

After a rushing outbreak of candidates who filed yesterday, City Clerk Charles R. Storey had a quiet time of it today.

The only candidate who filed today was J. Leon Godwin, prominent Dunn business man, who filed for Commissioner in Ward I. Mr. Godwin announced his candidacy earlier in the week.

Commissioner Leck Coats, who now represents Ward 1, is considering announcing for the office of mayor.

Mr. Coats said this afternoon that he had not yet decided whether he would run for either office, but indicated that he would announce his decision within the next few days.

Mayor Ralph E. Hanna and Mayor Protem R. G. Tart filed for reelection yesterday. Joe A. Wilkins, former councilman and mayor protem, filed against Hanna for Mayor and W. M. (Bill) Bryan filed against Tart for commissioner.
