Drivers Ordered To Stop Driving

Two more youthful drivers were slowed to a complete stop for a 30 day period by Judge H. Paul Strickland in Dunn Recorder's Court this morning, as part of the continuing war on speeders here.

Troy Anton Churchhill, 26, fined $10 and costs with prayer for judgment continued 6 months for speeding 60 in a 35 mile zone. He was ordered not to drive for 30 days. Seventeen-year-old James Winston Dawson, was also ordered not to drive for 30 days and fined $5 and costs for speeding in a 35 mile zone. Prayer for judgment was continued 6 months.

John Willis Thornton, charged with hit and run, told the court that the reason he left the scene of the accident was that he was "scared." He drove the car into a yard near where he collided with a car driven by the son of attorney Franklin Dupree of Angler. The car was found by Highway Patrolman Paul Alberghine and the trail led to young Thornton. Thornton's father was the owner of the automobile.

Judge Strickland continued prayer for judgment two weeks, until May 18, in order that Thornton, Senior, can get in touch with Attorney Dupree and see what arrangements can be made to pay the $349 damages.

Jimmie Clifton Brooks was fined $5 and costs with prayer for judgment continued six months for speeding 55 in a 35 mile zone. His offense was committed on the Dunn-Erwin highway, however, and not in town.

Lewis Studio

tinuous growth, making larger quarters necessary.

The new Lewis studio is comparable with the larger studios in the larger cities and gives Dunn the type of photography salon usually found only in the larger cities.

Lewis Studio offers complete photographic services — portraits, commercial and industrial — and also carries a complete line of cameras, equipment and supplies.

Mr. Lewis is a native of Parkton in Robeson County, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lewis of Parkton. He attended the Parkton schools and Louisiana College. After his graduation from college he served for about seven years with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

During World War II, he served for 19 months in the Navy and made an excellent service record. Part of his Navy duty was aboard the famed super-carrier, Midway.

ATTENDED PHOTO SCHOOL
After his return from service, Mr. Lewis attended the Baltimore Institute of Photography in Baltimore and since that time has attended a number of special photographic courses.

He is a member of the North Carolina Photographers' Association of America.

Active in affairs of the town and community, Mr. Lewis is a member and a steward of Divine Street Methodist Church. He is now president of the Methodist Men's Club. He is also a Mason and a member of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Lewis, who is associated with him in the operation of the studio, is the former Miss Evelyn Edens of Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Edens.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis join in extending to the public a cordial invitation to visit and inspect their to the town board served as registrar and judges of the election were R. B. Quinn and Venable Baggett. There was a record turn out of women. Election officials said "Practically every third voter was a woman." There was no indication that all of the feminine vote was in one camp, but it was agreed the largest percentage of it went to Layton.

Political observers said personal popularity of personable Fowler, who is active in American Legion affairs, was not able to weather the "general desire for a change."

The vote was close; several times during the tally, only one vote separated the two candidates for mayor. Movement for a change in town officials began when Mayor Charles S. Loving, mayor of the county seat for nearly ten years, let it be known he would not serve again.

Several members of the incumbent town board were renominated at the April mass meeting when candidates were named but later withdrew, leaving Fowler the only member of the present regime seeking office.

Fowler made no active effort for the nomination but until after the mass meeting it appeared a foregone conclusion that he would be elected to the office. Loving was vacating. Retiring board members were solidly for him.

However, at the mass meeting, four candidates for mayor, were nominated: Fowler, Layton, Dewey Johnson and John A. Womble. The latter two later withdrew, with Womble filing for the board.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN
Layton conducted a vigorous around-to-person campaign around town. He gave as his reason that he had gotten his business on a well organized basis and desired to serve the town.

Meanwhile, friends of Fowler conducted an active campaign in his behalf on the last few days prior to the election.

Layton is the son of Mrs. Joel G. Layton and the late Mr. Layton who founded the supply company his son now owns. The new mayor returned to Lillington from Richmond, Va. in 1936 and became associated with the store in 1939, acquiring full interest and direction of the business from his father in August, 1947.

His father came to Lillington in the thirties, investing heavily in Lillington real estate property and business interests.

The new mayor is expected to wage a vigorous campaign to collect past due taxes, water bills and initiate long range plans to attract new business and industry to Lillington.

He is married to the former Miss Margaret Martin of Sanford and they have one eight-year-old daughter, Margaret.

O'Quinn's record vote was considered a personal tribute to the young business man who has headed many of Lillington's civic drives and has done much of the "head and foot work" in Red Cross, polo and other community endeavors.

He is a veteran of World War II. Davis, second high man on the council, is co-owner with his wife new studio on Wednesday.

The new building was erected by Nu-Home Builders and Supply Company of Dunn.

LETTING SOME GO
When option times comes up at MGM, the studio is letting some stars go and signing others, such as Greer Garson, to limited contracts. Many are offering new contracts—but at a cut in salary.

Keenan Wynn, a $1,500-a-week player, accepted a new contract at $1,000. But June Allyson told friends she prefers to quit MGM rather than take a slice in pay when her contract comes up for renewal next August.

Van Johnson, another star to leave Metro, is among many players whose stock dropped in Hollywood but who've entered the fabulous nightclub belt in Las Vegas. Johnson is a smash success at the Sands Hotel.

Warner contract players on a weekly salary are down to nine, including Doris Day and Ruth Roman. The studio no longer makes out paychecks to Pat Wymore, Gene Nelson and Steve Cochran. Instead, Alan Ladd, Jimmy Cagney, and Kathryn Grayson were signed for occasional pictures.

A player under weekly pay to a studio is a costly overhead, especially the primary by a vote of 415 to 288.

The fourth commissioner, Emory Miller, was eliminated in the primary when he received 190 votes. Other candidates eliminated were G. R. Ellis, 183; R. Dewey Lambert, 125; Ramon Allen, 111 and George A. Emms, 59.

The interpretation of the Benson election laws was necessary to determine the number of commissioner candidates whose names would appear on the general election ballot.

A recount of the ballots in the mayors race was requested by Ernest Moore, who was eliminated. Moore received only 22 votes.

Town constable W. David Moore has no opposition in the general election as he defeated his lone opponent, Charles O. Woodall, in

LOS ANGELES (P) — Francis Van Wie, 67, the "Ding Dong Daddy" of the trolley lines, steered clear today of those alluring wedding bells which tolled disastrously for him 16 times in 40 years. WASHINGTON (P) — Ben Brith officials visited President Eisenhower today and urged that the McCarran-Walter law be revised to eliminate race origins as a basis for immigrating quotas. Dunn Balloting

The mayor had a crew of professional haulers out hard at work hauling his supporters to the polls. None of the other nominees were bothering to campaign. Mayor Hanna has been campaigning hard ever since the primary and for months prior to the primary.

Two years ago, Mayor Hanna told the citizens he would never again be a candidate. He is now expected to run for a fourth term.

There was no chance for Vann to be elected today since he urged citizens not to write in his name. Some of his supporters said, however, they expected a considerable number of write-in votes as a protest to Hanna.

The fact that Mayor Hanna had haulers working today and the fact that citizens are voting on a tax increase probably accounted for the heavy voting today.

DEFEAT COULD BRING RELIEF
If citizens vote in favor of the retirement plan, an increase of 11 cents per $100 valuation would be needed to finance the plan.

Officials have stated that other expenses could be cut to take care of this extra expense without raising taxes higher.

If the plan is defeated, the city board will be obligated and honor-bound to cut taxes 11 cents.

election demonstrated that labor leaders who denounce the law do not generally speak for the workers.

WASHINGTON (P) — Republicans congressional leaders said today President Eisenhower's plan to trim 200,000 men from the armed forces will not impair the "real security" of the nation. Democrats privately expressed misgivings, but declined public comment at this time.
