in Anglo-Egyptian treaty talks spread throughout the garrison. A British military spokesman said all defense measures and security precautions are being taken and leave for troops has been curtailed. He said armed escorts have been detailed for vehicles.

WACO, Tex. — — Bulldozers and power shovels bit deeper today into the ruins of buildings flattened by a death-dealing tornado, and one crew broke through to a basement filled with bloody water. The bodies of at least 30 victims of Monday's twister had been recovered, 81 here and nine at San Angelo, Tex. Another man was killed Tuesday when a tornado hit a church at Colfax, La. The Red Cross said 50 persons were missing in Waco.

WASHINGTON — — A Senate subcommittee has completed its hearings on television and radio legislation in baseball, but may need a couple of weeks to prepare a report, Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said today.

BUENOS AIRES — — A government order today prevented the three American press associations from distributing news from abroad to their client newspapers and radio stations in Argentina. A Post Office Department order issued Tuesday deprived the United Press, Associated Press and International News Service of radio facilities for receiving news from abroad.

JACKSON, Miss. — — A pretty X-ray technician has been indicted for larceny on charges she swindled a hospital of $10,000 in blood donor payments with the innocent aid of her boy friends. Deputies went today to the Columbia, Miss., home of blonde Helen Hood to return her here for arraignment.

WASHINGTON — — President Eisenhower will cruise on Chesapeake Bay this weekend after a speech at William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va. It will be his second and last use of the yacht Williamsburg, which he is giving up as an economy gesture.

WASHINGTON — — The Democratic National Committee announced today that former Vice President Alben W. Barkley and 14 other Democrats will take part in an "extensive speaking" program in nine states during the next several weeks.

WASHINGTON — — The tidelands oil bill, center of the biggest free-for-all fight of the 83rd Congress, was expected to win final approval today with little more than a ripple of debate. The House was set to endorse the Senate's version rather than press for its own so that the legislation can be shipped to the White House before nightfall for President Eisenhower's promised signature.

PARIS — — U. S. Gens. Matthew B. Ridgway and Alfred M. Gruenther agreed today that there has been no letup in the Russian threat to Europe, and said American atomic weapons will be available in case of war. Ridgway, retiring Allied supreme commander in Europe, and Gruenther, who has been chosen to take his place, expressed their views at a joint press conference at Allied headquarters near Paris.

HANOI, Indo China — — French paratroopers wiped out an enemy company in an air-supported drive ripping deep into Communist positions near the French stronghold on the Plane des Jarres in Laos, it was announced today.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — — A "more or less open door policy" toward newsmen prevails at the White House today, according to Merriman Smith, United Press White House reporter. Smith, who addressed the annual Sigma Delta Chi gridiron banquet at Indiana University last night, said the Eisenhower administration seemed to be making a "genuine effort" to keep the nation informed about the President.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — — Former President Harry Truman said yesterday that he "sincerely hoped and prayed" that Americans would get behind President Eisenhower's foreign policy as a means of keeping peace in the world. Mr. Truman talked government, something he has avoided since leaving the White House. But it was non-partisan, and he declined to "hang any hides on the fence."

WASHINGTON — — Congress' economy drive slowed a bit today when the House Appropriations Committee approved a $3,444,145,000 Treasury-Post Office money bill. This was $127,983,000 — or only 3.5 per cent — less than former President Truman had requested in appropriations for the 1954 fiscal year beginning July 1.

WASHINGTON — — Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) told the Senate today that standby powers to freeze wages and prices would be a "Lyndon plan." He attacked the freeze provision as the Senate continued debate on its bill to extend some of the provisions of the Defense Production Act.

WASHINGTON — — Undersecretary of Agriculture Fred W. Howe told the 10th universal cotton standards conference today the administration is giving more attention to foreign trade in farm products.

NEW YORK — — Service returned to normal on the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad today following termination of a two-day strike by 55 signalmen and switchmen.

LONDON — — Prime Minister Winston Churchill's announcement that he has no power to threaten today to provide aid during the two-day Anglo-American split on foreign policy was viewed as a Washington spokesman said today. The spokesman said Churchill's proposal was "a well-known proposal," while other leaders in the British and Foreign expressed growing approval of the plan.

FALLS, N. Y. — — An air and water search for the wreckage of a plane crashed in the Adirondack Park today was suspended after it was found on a forested mountain side. The plane, a C-47 transport, was reported to have crashed on May 20, 1952. The wreckage was discovered by a hiker on a forested mountain side. will be parking spaces for more than 50 automobiles and the canopy will protect shoppers from the weather all year round. READY OCT. 1st Actual construction will begin this week and the building is expected to be ready for occupancy by October 1.

In announcing plans for the new building today, Mr. Henderson said: "We are endeavoring to provide the very finest facilities possible to enable us to give our customers the best service possible at all times."

He also took the occasion to express his appreciation to citizens of this section, whose patronage throughout the years made the new building both necessary and possible.

"The people of this section have been mighty good to us," said Mr. Henderson, "and we feel that the least we can do is to provide attractive and comfortable facilities for serving them."

He said that the already large stock of the company would be increased still larger and a number of new lines will be added.

ANY POPULAR LINES? Already, Quinn's has many nationally-advertised lines of merchandise. Among them are such lines as Krohler, manufactured by the world's largest furniture manufacturing company and sold here exclusively by Quinn's.

Other popular lines include the popular Zeuth, Dexter, Simmons, and many others.

Quinn's was established here 27 years ago by Mr. Henderson and the company has shown steady growth and progress since. It is also one of Dunn's oldest furniture concerns.

The new building will also provide quarters for the offices of Quinn Funeral Home and Community Mutual Burial Association, two other companies headed by Mr. Henderson.

CAME HERE IN 1931 Mr. Henderson, one of the town's most popular citizens, is a native of Duplin County, son of James and Sally Sandlin Henderson.

He attended the public schools of Duplin County and Wake Forest College, graduating with the Class of 1926.

Before coming to Dunn in 1931, he held a position with Quinn's in Raleigh.

Recalling the depression days when he had the courage to start his business here, Mr. Henderson pointed out today: "I had three strikes against me. I didn't know anybody in Dunn so I had no friends here; I had no money and I had no credit."

But he won friends quickly and the rest came through years of hard work, worry and sweat. Today, he is regarded among Dunn's most successful business men.

ATTAINS MANY HONORS Mr. Henderson is now vice president of the Dunn Chamber of Commerce and has held posts about all the other business organizations here.

He served for two terms as a member of Dunn's city council and served during one of the most successful administrations ever to hold office here. He is a member and former president of the Dunn Lions Club.

A prominent Presbyterian, he has served as deacon and as chairman of the board of the First Presbyterian Church here, and has held various other positions of honor.

A staunch, lifelong Democrat, Mr. Henderson is now serving his second term as Harnett County Coroner.

In addition to directing the furniture company, he also owns and operates Quinn Furniture Company and the Community Mutual Burial Association, both progressive and growing business institutions.

Mr. Henderson married the former Miss Rena Bolles of Fitzgerald, Ga. They have two sons, Bobby Henderson, a student at Oak Ridge Military Academy, and Jimmy, a student in the Dunn schools. Mrs. Henderson is also active in the various women's affairs of the town and community.

Atlanta Elects Negro Officials

ATLANTA — Two Negroes were elected today to minor public offices here, the first time Negroes have been in the city government since Reconstruction days. The Negroes ran for places on the city executive committee which handles election machinery on the local level such as national party organizations run presidential elections.

Austin T. Walden, Negro lawyer and state head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was unopposed for one of two places on the committee from the predominantly-Negro Third Ward.

Miles Amos, a druggist, and Roderick Harris, a car salesman, both Negroes, were running for the other Third Ward Committee post.

A third Negro, Dr. Rufus Clement, president of Atlanta University, was running against J. H. Landers, a white candidate, for a place on the city board of education. That race was on a city-wide basis.
