Davidson Resigns From Police Force

One of Dunn's most popular policemen, Hargus Davidson, resigned from the Police Department this week due to his discovery that he was suffering from an unexpected case of tuberculosis.

Davidson, Joe to his many friends, visited Dr. Charles W. Byrd a few days ago for an examination. The examination revealed that he was suffering from tuberculosis and that the disease had attacked both lungs.

Although all the members of the Police Department took part in the mass X-Ray held here a couple of months ago, Chief A. A. Cobb has ordered his officers to be re-examined as soon as possible.

Davidson had not suspected the nature of his illness and the discovery was as great a shock to him as to his co-workers, all of whom have expressed a sincere desire for his early recovery.

He left yesterday for his native Kentucky to enter the State Sanatorium.

Winnie Invites Ike To England

LONDON. — Prime Minister Winston Churchill invited President Dwight D. Eisenhower today to visit Great Britain some time during his term in the White House.

A questioner asked Churchill in the House of Commons about inviting the President here to help reconcile Anglo-American differences.

"Few things would give more pleasure to her Majesty's government and the British people than that President Eisenhower should visit us in these islands, as he so often did during the war," Churchill said.

"And I earnestly hope that this great event may occur during his tenure of the presidency of the United States," Churchill paused and continued: "If I thought there was any chance of his being able to detach himself..."

At this point he was interrupted by a shout of "McCarthy" from a Labor member, referring to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin. Churchill hesitated, seeming not to understand what had been said. Then, amid cheers, he said: "I did not drag him, McCarthy. I think it is a great mistake to mix up the head of the great American republic with a politician or a member of Congress in that country. I think separation should be observed, in view of the entirely different character of the offices held by the parties concerned."

Bishop Speaks

The Greek word for heresy, he said, almost means a sect, but denotes a party or faction within a communion. Thus in Acts 15:5 we find the reference to the party of the Pharisees.

"The idea of a separate organized body of believers with doctrine, discipline and worship of their own does not exist in the New Testament," he declared. "What St. Paul denounces is the party spirit, dissensions and a tendency toward factionalism."

According to the new testament meaning of the church, Bishop Penick declared, disunity is inconceivable. The unity of the Christian with one another is the essence of the New Testament message.

CHRIST SET EXAMPLE

Christ set this example, he continued and although he criticized the doctrine of the Jewish Church, and when He found the Temple corrupt, cleansed it, He nevertheless observed the requirements of that church.

He attended the feasts at Jerusalem, worshipped in the synagogue, respected the constituted authorities and never suggested a separatist movement. Although He pro-tested errors or abuse of power, He did not withdraw from the formal worship of the Jewish church, the Bishop pointed out.

Bishop Penick drew as illustrations of the oneness of the church, the facts that one shepherd implies one flock; one door implies one fold; one foundation implies one building; one catch of fish implies one net; thus, he said, treating the unit is unthinkable.

Bishop Penick quoted the familiar passage from St. Mark "A house divided against itself falleth" and concluded, "As there is but one body, so may we be all of one mind—united."

He touched briefly on the five great separations of the church, Lutheran, under Martin Luther, Presbyterian under John Calvin, Anglican, the free churches, Quaker, Methodist and Baptist, and the Eastern Orthodox which remains bound to the original church by theology, liturgy and common history.

None of the leaders of these movements, he declared, intended to found a separate church, but to institute reforms within the existing church.

He ended his address by citing the unions effected in recent years. In 1911 the Northern Baptist Convention and the Free Baptists merged to form the American Baptist Convention.

In 1917, three Lutheran bodies formed the United Lutheran Church.

In 1924 the Reformed Church in the United States and the Hungarian Reformed Church in America, united to form the Reformed Church in the United States.

In 1924, the Congregational and Evangelical Protestant Churches united to form the Congregational Church.

In 1939, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant churches combined to form the Methodist Church.

In 1943 another forward step was taken with the formation of the World Council of Churches with 30 member churches.

This year, the Presbyterians are working toward the merging of their two major bodies.

The work, he concluded, as does much of God's work, proceeds slowly, but at some time in the future the Church United may speak with one voice, rather than with 143 voices.

At the conclusion of the joint meeting of the two main church groups, Bishop Penick held a confirmation service in St. Stephen's Church, which brought four new members into the church communion.
