Radford Promises Efficient And Powerful Air Force

THEY'RE AN ISSUE — Garbage cans are in Dunn's front yards, but putting them there hasn't reduced the amount of tax money being spent for garbage collection.

With Cans In Front Collection Of Garbage Costs More

It may come as a surprise to most Dunn citizens, but they're actually paying more for garbage collection this year than they did last year when the city picked it up at the back door.

The reduction in the amount of service rendered failed to reduce the tax appropriation. Instead, the cost is higher.

This fact was revealed today in figures released by City Manager A. B. Uzzle as the heated issue of whether or not garbage cans should be put back in the back yards or be kept in the front yards to mar the scenery of the town.

Ever since the city passed a law requiring the garbage cans to be kept in the front yard, citizens of the town—particularly the ladies—have been up in arms.

When the city passed the ordinance, the citizens were told it was an economy move and that it would save thousands of dollars each year.

Incidentally, the city did not reduce taxes and did not give taxpayers the benefit of the so-called "savings."

The actual figures released today do not show that discontinuance of the service saved the taxpayers a penny—instead, the cost of garbage collection has gone higher.

During the fiscal year, 1951-52, garbage collection cost the taxpayers of Dunn only $24,068.49—and their gar-

Wants Efficient Long-Range Striking Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, once a critic of the Air Force, said today that as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff he will favor "a very efficient and powerful" long-range strategic air force.

Radford, former Pacific commander nominated by President Eisenhower to the nation's top military post, told the Senate Armed Services Committee that time and military developments have changed some of his views.

As Radford testified, slowly and carefully, his future Joint Chief colleagues sat by awaiting their turn. They are Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the President's choice for Army chief of staff; Ad. Robert B. Carney, prospective chief of naval operations; and Gen. Nathan Twining, nominee for Air Force chief of staff.

Radford, attired in sharply pressed sea-going khaki and with four rows of ribbons on his chest, told the legislators that as chairman of the Joint Chiefs he would work as boss of a "defense team" dedicated solely to the nation's security.

Four years ago Radford said the 300 program offered no guarantee against an attack on the United States. He said then that "the threat of atomic retaliation will not prevent it, and may even intensify it."

Testifying today, he said that "in general" he believed that he did not then "honestly believe."

But, he added, in the four ensuing years "there have been developments—improvement in material and various other changes that caused me to modify my position."

As for the unification fight, he said he thought better alternatives than the unification bill finally approved were available. But once the bill was put into law, he said, "I've tried to make it work."

One of the hottest promotion ideas in modern merchandising has come to Dunn.

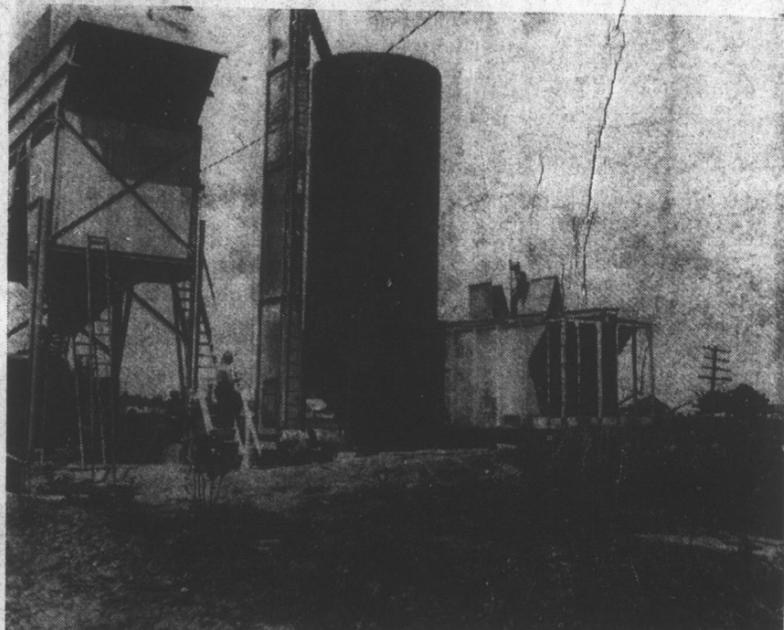

It's the S. and H. Green Stamp plan, announced today by Manager Willard Price of Dunn's Piggy Wiggy Store.

It's a plan whereby customers not only get the advantage of low prices at their Piggy Wiggy Store, but also get stamps redeemable for valuable prizes.

There's a 30-page catalog filled with valuable prizes—watches, jewelry, electrical appliances, household articles and many other items. It takes no money to get these prizes. The only way to get them is with S. and H. Green Stamps.

The plan was originated and is owned by The Sperry and Hutchinson Company of 114 Fifth Avenue, New York. The company has operated since 1951.

After the address, the glee club, directed by Willard Burrage, will sing, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling."

READYMIX PLANT GOES INTO OPERATION — The first carload of cement was unloaded yesterday at the Readymix Concrete Company of Dunn and today the new concern began delivering concrete all mixed and ready for pouring.

Heaviest Fighting In Six Months Reported In Korea

SEOUL, Korea, (AP)—United Nations troops held on grimly to three vital western front strong points last night in the face of the heaviest assaults launched by the Communists in six months.

Allied defenders repulsed a four-hour attack by more than 3,000 Chinese at Carson, Vegas and the twin positions of East and West Berlin southeast of the Panmunjon truce site, but the issue was still in doubt at the "Hook" where heavy fighting was reported still raging at mid-night.

Initial reports said the Reds had overrun one position near the Hook.

London and Northolt airports were scenes of confusion. Hundreds of visitors lined up for customs and immigration clearance as planes bearing more visitors, crowded overhead.

Tourists were startled when 24 Negroes at London airport suddenly prostrated themselves in homage to their arriving chieftan, Aderimi Oni of Ife, Nigeria. He wore a magnificent golden robe.

Police expressed growing concern over the milling of tourists and townsmen in the streets. The rush-hour traffic jam was so heavy last night that buses stood still for 15 minutes and thousands of weary, unhappy workmen got out and walked home.

Main event today was Queen Elizabeth II's garden party on the grounds of Buckingham Palace. Bright morning sunshine promised to make the party a gala affair, and admission was sought so eagerly that the American embassy in London allotted only 15 invitations, diplomatically withholding identification.

Doesn't Share "Go It Alone" Policy For US

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said flatly today that he does not share the view of Sen. Robert A. Taft that the United States should forget the United Nations as far as the Korean war is concerned.

He said the Senate Republican leader is entitled to his own convictions, but that in the President's opinion, a "go-it-alone" policy has no place in American planning.

The chief executive told his news conference that no single free nation can live alone in this world. Other foreign policy highlights in Mr. Eisenhower's news conference:

1. He said the Big Three meeting in Bermuda—tentatively set for mid-June—might be delayed by the failure to form a new French government.

2. He does not necessarily believe the Bermuda conference will lead to a later meeting with Russia, despite British and French hopes that it will.

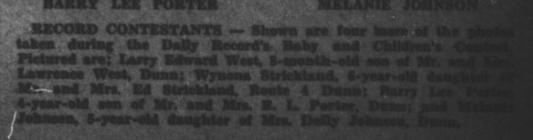

3. He opposes admission of Red China to the United Nations under present circumstances wherein the Chinese government supposedly is subservient to Moscow.

4. He sees no evidence of a rising tide of isolationism in this country. He said the bulk of the American people feel there is no safety for a free country standing alone.

5. He said no solution of the Korean war should be adopted which, according to our circumstances, is basically unfair to South Korea. In connection with the truce talks, the President restated his unchangeable position that there be no forced repatriation of prisoners. He said the Allies stand together on this principle.

South Korea has opposed the latest U. N. truce plan, calling it a "surrender" to the Communists. South Korean President Syngman Rhee also has said his government will insist on nothing less than a unified Korea at the end view is that such unity will be impossible to attain quickly.

Record Roundup

HOLIDAY — Saturday is a national holiday and Postmaster Ralph Wade pointed out today that no carrier service will be rendered at the local post office except the delivery of special delivery mail. The usual window service on Saturdays will be performed and mail dispatched and distributed in the post office.

BANKS OPEN — "I guess that's real news," declared Cashier Norwood Stephenson of The Commercial Bank, "but we'll be open Saturday." He conceded that it is an extremely rare thing—most unheard-of—for a bank not to take a holiday on the slightest provocation. Both of Dunn's banks, a and Commercial, will be open Saturday. There are two reasons: It's the end of the month and the bank's books have to be balanced on the dot, and Saturday is a busy day for merchants.

PENALTY RISES — City Clerk Charlie Storey, who's also the tax collector, reminded today that 1953 city taxes, now carry a three per cent penalty and after June 1 will carry 3.5 per cent penalty. Property will be advertised for taxes, he said, on June 15. Mr. Storey urges citizens to pay their taxes now and save this additional cost.
