

Committee Says Nation Vulnerable To Air Attack

English Still Celebrating Coronation Of Elizabeth

BISHOPS AND PEERS PAY HOMAGE TO THE QUEEN

DURING THE ACT OF HOMAGE at Westminster Abbey, London, the Archbishop of Canterbury and two bishops kneel before Queen Elizabeth II after her coronation. Peers are around throne. (International)

Queen Stands Up Well Under Exciting Event

By JACK V. FOX (P) — Staff Correspondent LONDON — (P) — A hysterically cheering crowd, still celebrating the coronation, burst through police lines today and stopped Queen Elizabeth's open automobile as she started out to tour the Cockney district of north-east London.

Taking the thin cordon of police by surprise, the crowd surrounded the car, in which the queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh sat beside her, and forced it to halt. The queen sat smiling serenely until mounted police edged in and cleared the roadway, and she waved as her car drove slowly off.

The radiant young woman who was crowned in Westminster Abbey yesterday was starting a whirl of post-coronation festivities that will last most of this summer.

Elizabeth started her day by giving coronation medals to 2,600 men and women of the British commonwealth forces who marched in her state procession yesterday or carried out their ceremonial duties. Prince Charles, 4-year-old heir to the throne, and 2-year-old Princess Anne watched from a Buckingham Palace balcony as their mother walked among the colorful array in the gardens—Royal Canadian Mounted Police in red tunics, Fiji Islanders, Australians in turbans, colonialists in white pith helmets.

Rain was falling, but the queen was smiling and her step was as light as if she had not gone through yesterday's exhausting ceremony.

Then, wearing a powder blue coat and a close-fitting hat of the same color, the queen started out on her tour. In succeeding days, she will tour the other three corners of her sprawling capital to let as many people as possible see her.

She had gone down the Mall, past cheering lines of people, to receive the homage of the waiting mayor of Westminster—central London—when the crowd stopped her car. In northeast London, despite the weather, the queen found the drab streets decorated with festive flowers and the cheers rang as fervently as those that greeted her yesterday.

MANY A HANGOVER. The great day of the coronation was over. London awoke — with many a hangover — to a rainy day after its gayest night since the World War II victory celebration. The decorations along the route of Tuesday's magnificent procession were limp, the streets were littered with debris and 233 persons were in hospitals from coronation day accidents.

But for Elizabeth it was just another day. (Continued On Page Three)

MIXED AND READY FOR USE — Ready mixed concrete is shown here rolling down the spout of a big Jaeger truck mixer right onto the job as Dunn's new Ready-Mixed Concrete Co. begins deliveries. This scene took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Mitchell on North Orange Avenue. O. W. (Billy) Godwin, head of the company is shown at left, and on the other side of the spout is Tommy Godwin of Nu-Home Builders, the contracting firm in charge of the project. (Daily Record Photo).

Civilian Group Asks For More Air Protection

WASHINGTON — (P) — A citizens advisory committee warned today the nation is vulnerable to atomic air attack and called for a sharp increase in the air defense program.

The committee told the Department of Defense that the "stern facts" are that "there can be no safety in the atomic age short of the elimination of war."

But at the same time the committee urged "the creation of a continental air defense system much better than that which is assured under present programs." "The recommendations were contained in a report made by a committee headed by Mervin J. Kelly, president of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. The committee of businessmen, educators and scientists was set up by former Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett to make a thorough study into what practical steps should be taken to protect the nation against atomic destruction from the air."

The committee noted that Russia is "militarily capable today of a surprise attack on the United States which could cause large loss of life and major property damage and possibly temporarily lessen the capability of the United States to support a major war effort."

So far as can now be foreseen, the committee concluded that any airtight protection against enemy attack is "unattainable and completely impractical, economically and technically in the face of the rapid advances in Russia's offensive capabilities."

Planning Board Seeking Funds

The map of the Morrisville addition, the Fishman property being improved by A. B. Smith, was approved by the Dunn Planning Board at its meeting last night, to a point approximately 100 feet south of Cole Avenue.

The board also approved the extension of Cole Avenue to the property line at the western edge of the development. The developers had made the necessary lot relocation to provide for the streets ordered by the planning group.

The Planning Board also recommended that an appropriation for their work to the extent of $3,000 be included in the budget for the coming fiscal year. This is about the minimum that will allow the board to carry on the work program.

MARKETS

COTTON NEW YORK — Cotton futures prices at noon EST today: New York July 33.00; Oct. 33.75; New Orleans July 33.57; Oct. 33.75.

EGGS AND POULTRY RALEIGH — Central North Carolina live poultry: Fryers and broilers steady; supplies adequate; demand good; heavy hens about steady. Supplies adequate to plan. (Continued On Page Six)

Congress Defeats Attempt To Block Reorganization Program

He Will Report To The People On TV

By MERRIMAN SMITH United Press White House Writer WASHINGTON — (P) — President Eisenhower makes history tonight when he puts on his own television show to report to the nation on his administration's first 22 weeks in office.

Presidents have gone before video cameras before but usually their appearances have solos during speeches. Tonight's performance, on all four TV networks at 9:30 p. m. e.d.t. will be different. For the first time, Mr. Eisenhower will have a supporting cast of cabinet officers. He will preside at a desk, walk around a TV stage set created within the White House, examine charts and chat informally with his guest stars. It will be a polished, rehearsed production under the direction of TV experts.

SUPPORTING CAST The President will appear with Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, and for added glamour and the GOP

MIN-IT GRILLE RE-OPENS—Under the management of P. W. Elmore, the completely renovated Min-it Grille on West Broad Street, will reopen at 5:00 a. m. tomorrow morning. Regular meals and short orders will be served daily from 5:00 a. m. until midnight and on Sundays from 6:00 a. m. until 9:00 p. m. Featured in the staff, left to right: Al Elmore, Betty Hodges, Pauline Lee, Alaine Royal and P. W. Elmore. Mr. Elmore has been manager of Lee's Sea Food Market, where he has worked for the past 20 years. He is a student at Wake Forest and will help his father this summer. (Daily Record photo by Louis Dearborn).

WASHINGTON — (P) — The House today defeated a Democratic attempt to kill President Eisenhower's plan for reorganizing the Agriculture Department. The plan will go into effect at midnight.

By UNITED PRESS Democratic farm leaders in the House planned a floor fight today against President Eisenhower's plan for reorganizing the Agriculture Department but conceded in advance they had little if any chance to block it.

The plan automatically will go into effect at midnight tonight unless the opposition can muster 218 House votes, a constitutional majority, against it. The Senate already has endorsed it.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley N. C., senior minority member of the House Agriculture Committee, who is leading the fight against the plan, admitted that many Democrats were "undecided" about opposing it.

There were widespread Democratic complaints that the plan gives Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson too much power in handling rural electrification, soil conservation, the Forest Service and the Farmers Home Administration.

Minority leaders said Benson could "wreck" farm programs under the proposed setup, but some were reluctant to deny him the power and provide the administration. (Continued On Page Three)

WASHINGTON — (P) — A campaign program for the next two years and a platform that reflects the sober thinking of young people on national issues of the day, were set by Acting Chairman Carol Arth as goals of the Young Republican Convention to be held at Rapid City, S. D., June 11-13.

OSSINING, N. Y. — (P) — Defense counsel Emanuel Bloch goes behind the walls of Sing Sing Prison today for a conference with condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg that may produce "some big news."

LONDON — (P) — The London Daily Herald proposed today that Mount Everest, world's highest peak conquered Friday by a British expedition, be renamed Mount Elizabeth.

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON — (P) — A campaign program for the next two years and a platform that reflects the sober thinking of young people on national issues of the day, were set by Acting Chairman Carol Arth as goals of the Young Republican Convention to be held at Rapid City, S. D., June 11-13.

OSSINING, N. Y. — (P) — Defense counsel Emanuel Bloch goes behind the walls of Sing Sing Prison today for a conference with condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg that may produce "some big news."

LONDON — (P) — The London Daily Herald proposed today that Mount Everest, world's highest peak conquered Friday by a British expedition, be renamed Mount Elizabeth.

+ Record Roundup +

TO NEW ORLEANS — Three officials of Wellons Candy Company in Dunn will leave Sunday to attend the annual convention of the Southern Wholesalers' Confédération Association in New Orleans, La. Those attending will be Johnnie Wellons, head of the company, Bill Marshburn, general sales manager, and M. T. Maxwell, assistant sales manager. The Dunn manufacturing concern will have a big booth and display at the convention.

LEGION MEETING — Dunn Legionnaires will meet Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Legion Hut on West Broad Street. Commander Roy J. Brown announced today Chief business to be transacted at the meeting will be the election of delegates and alternates to attend the State Legion Convention in Wilmington, beginning June 10th. U. S. Senator Willie Smith will be among speakers at the Legion meeting.

SUMMER SESSION — Campbell (Continued on Page Two)

Supporters Of Ammons Fighting To Keep Him

City Council To Hold Meet

Seven items appear on the agenda for the meeting of the town board tomorrow night, released today by City Manager A. B. Uzzle Jr. None are controversial items, and the meeting should be short.

A. B. Smith is scheduled to appear and ask the board to approve the map of the Fishman property, approved last night by the Planning Board.

The board is to receive a complete report on the sale of lots for taxes, recently conducted here. Matthew Brown, Negro taxi driver, is scheduled to appear before the board to show cause why his permit should not be suspended or revoked because of a conviction in City Court on liquor charges.

(Continued on page two)

Cliff Ammons, Harnett County's farm agent for nearly 17 years, went about his duties today just as usual and told newsmen that county commissioners can decide on his reappointment on the basis of his record.

The board reached a deadlock on the reappointment of Ammons Monday and is scheduled to meet again on Wednesday night, June 10th to consider the matter again.

"They can decide on the basis of my accomplishments and the record I have made as county agent during the past nearly 17 years," declared the popular farm official.

"He said he was too busy doing his job to try to politic for the job or try to influence members of the board."

"I think they know the kind if job I'm doing," he said, "and I'm perfectly willing to leave it up to them."

On Monday, Commissioner E. H. Laster made a motion that the office be vacated and a new county agent named, but did not receive a second.

Commissioner Worth Byrd made another motion that Ammons be reappointed, pointing out there was more sentiment for him than against him, but this motion likewise failed.

(Continued on page six)

New Teachers Employed Here

J. P. Crumpler, principal of the Linden School for several years, has resigned his position and will teach in the Dunn schools next fall, it was announced today by Principal A. B. Johnson.

Mr. Crumpler has made an outstanding record at Linden. He operates large farming interests and resigned as principal of the school to take a job that would have less responsibility and would give him more time to look after his farm.

Principal Johnson said Mr. Crumpler would succeed Mrs. Betty Herring as English teacher. He said he was happy to secure the services of Mr. Crumpler.

A number of other new teachers were announced today.

CATHEY TO TEACH J. R. (Gus) Cathey, former Erwin teacher and coach, will succeed Worth Braswell, who has resigned as English teacher to enter the ministry. For several years, Mr. Cathey has held a position in Erwin Mills' cotton-buying offices at Erwin, but the office is being closed and consolidated with the (Continued on page two)

Doffermyre And Stewart Form Partnership Here

Two Dunn attorneys, Everette L. Doffermyre and David E. Stewart, today announced the formation of a partnership for the general practice of law.

The law firm will be operated under the name of Doffermyre and Stewart and is located in Suite 306 of the First Citizens Bank Building in Dunn.

Mr. Doffermyre is one of eastern Carolina's best known lawyers and Mr. Stewart recently opened law offices here following completion of service in the Air Force.

Mr. Stewart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland Stewart of Bule's Creek and is a member of a prominent Harnett family.

(Continued on page two)

EVERETTE DOFFERMYRE

DAVID E. STEWART