possessions, he said, were Mrs. Rosenberg's wedding ring, a locket and some books.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — India's formal suggestion to reconvene the United Nations General Assembly "very soon" to consider the Korean crisis appeared doomed today in the face of opposition by the United States.

CARACAS, Venezuela — (AP) — Milton S. Eisenhower, brother and special representative of the U. S. President, will tour Venezuela's Cerro Bolivar iron mines today, on the next to last day of a good will visit. Eisenhower and U. S. Assistant Secretary of State John M. Cabot, who is accompanying him on a tour of 10 Latin American countries, will leave early Saturday for Bogota, Colombia.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Post Office Committee looked hopefully for signals from Republican leaders today before taking up the politically touchy issue of mail rate increases. And the Senate was waiting for the House.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Former President Truman, winding up a five day visit to the Capital, planned to leave by train for Philadelphia today at 2 p. m. e. d. t. He will make a speech on national defense before the Reserve Officers Association in Philadelphia tonight, then continue to New York for a visit of several days.

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — Negroes called off an organized boycott of the segregated city bus system here today while their leaders prepared court tests they hope will help "make a Utopia of the South."

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Veterans of Foreign Wars today awarded its highest honor — the Bernard M. Baruch Distinguished Service Award — to Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York.

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was on record today as opposed to the State Department's ban of certain books from overseas informational libraries.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — Health Officers doled out their precious supply of polio vaccine today while awaiting a government decision of whether 71 cases of the dread disease here warrant mass injections.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — For two cents, Robert Austin, 19, drew a two to six-year prison term yesterday. Already on probation for forging a check, he pleaded guilty to robbing a woman of her purse. It contained two cents.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered several changes in railroad rates on shipments of grain and grain products to the South to eliminate what it called discrimination in the present setup.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission proposed today to assign two new TV channels and shift several present assignments. The new channels would go to Lake Placid, N. Y., and Melbourne, Fla.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Major railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to increase their rates for carrying mail by at least 45 per cent. The railroads said it cost them more than $450,000,000 to handle the mail last year while their revenue from mail service was $319,000,000.

MOBILE, Ala. — (AP) — Police said today that Grady Mallory, 24, brother-in-law of actor Herbert Marshall, signed a confession that he killed a nightwatchman whose body, pierced by many ice pick wounds, was found in a waterfront shack. Police Chief Dudley E. MacFadyen identified Mallory as the brother of actress Boots Mallory, Marshall's wife.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP) — W. B. Brister, 29, of Tutwiler, Miss., walked into Methodist Hospital here yesterday, asked a visitor in the lobby to get him a doctor, then collapsed and died. The hospital blamed his death on a heart attack.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senate today voted final approval of a bill prohibiting the display of flags of foreign nations or international organizations — like the United Nations — higher or more prominently than the U. S. flag. The bill would not apply at United Nations headquarters in New York. The measure now goes to the White House.

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — President Eisenhower today urged librarians to guard against "zealots" who would "try to defend freedom by denying freedom's friends the opportunity of studying" communism's falsities and weaknesses. In a letter read to 4,000 librarians attending the 72nd annual conference of the American Library Association here, Mr. Eisenhower said theirs was the task of protecting the principles upon which democracy depends.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Senate-approved "oil for education" plan today appeared headed for a House-Senate conference committee where its fate would be in doubt. Sources predicted the House would turn down the Senate bill setting up federal oil leasing machinery for the ocean-bottom lands of the continental shelf in favor of its own measure passed weeks ago.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that last week's anti-Communist demonstrations in West Germany have "stirred the hearts and hopes of people everywhere." "It seem clear that the repercussions of these events will be felt throughout the Soviet satellite empire," Mr. Eisenhower said in a message to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — About 30 per cent of the Army's reserve officers and 20 per cent of the Air Force's reserve officers have decided to give up their commissions, it was disclosed today.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Eisenhower formally withdrew his nomination of Utah geologist Tom Lyon as director of the Bureau of Mines yesterday. The President acted at the request of Lyon, a retired Anaconda Copper Co. official, and in the face of heavy Senate opposition to the appointment.

Monopolies To Be Prosecuted

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. — (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. said today the Republican administration will crack down on anti-trust violations wherever they occur.

In an address described in advance as a "major" statement of Justice Department policy, Brownell said there will be "no winking" at violations and "no wholesale dismissal" of anti-trust suits inherited from the Truman administration.

Speaking before the judicial conference of the Fourth U. S. Circuit, he said many questions have been raised about the new administration's attitude toward business monopolies and regulation of trade practices.

"The anti-trust laws, he said, have the whole-hearted support of the American public. The problem, he added, is "the extent" enforcement should control business.

STANDS FOR EQUALITY
The administration "from the President on down," he said, stands for "equality" of enforcement, assistance to businessmen "acting in good faith," and "an uncompromising determination that there shall be no slackening of effort to protect free enterprise against monopolies and unfair competition."

He announced he will soon appoint a special committee to study present anti-trust laws, some of them dating back to 1890, and recommend a new national policy of fighting monopoly.

Senator Smith

column for many North Carolina newspapers.

He had made two dozen speeches in the 20-day period preceding his attacks, traveling to North Carolina several times and returning to Washington the same day.

FORCEFUL SPEAKER
Smith, generally considered a conservative, was a forceful speaker, a keen analyst of national and international problems and one of the busiest men in the Senate.

During his Senate service, Smith voted usually with the conservative Southern Democrats. He was a member of the Judiciary Committee and of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. He was known among his Senate colleagues as a "lawyer's lawyer."

He was one of the nation's foremost legal experts.

He served as president of the American Bar Association in 1945-46, the only North Carolinian and one of the few Southerners ever to hold that post.

In 1951 he was U. S. delegate to the Interparliamentary Union in Istanbul, Turkey, and served as chairman of the American delegation to the Inter-Parliamentary Union meeting in Bern, Switzerland, in 1952.

In 1933 he was named to the commission preparing rules for the federal courts in North Carolina. In 1946 Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson and the War Department appointed him as official observer at the Nuremberg war trials. In 1947 President Truman appointed him to the President's Amnesty Board. He was a member of the U. S. Attorney General's commission on citizenship.

WAS HOUSE SPEAKER
He was elected three times to the state House of Representatives, starting in 1927. In 1931 he was speaker of the House, presiding over the longest legislative term in the history of the state during that critical depression year.

DUKE CHAIRSMAN
He served in the army during World War I, and in 1919 married the former Anna Lee. They had four children: Willis, Lee Creecy, Alton Battle and Anna Lee. He was chairman of the Duke University board of trustees.

RENFREW, Scotland — (AP) — Peter Gluckman, 27-year-old San Francisco, Calif., watchmaker, landed here today in one of the smallest planes ever to make a trans-Atlantic flight. He made stops only at Greenland and Iceland on the ocean-hopping part of his trip that began in San Francisco three weeks ago. Gluckman said the last lap was uneventful.

THEIR SON KILLED IN CRASH — Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Smith of Dunn, Route 2 are shown here admiring a photograph of their son, Pfc. Charles G. Smith, shortly after receiving word from the Defense Department that he was among the victims of the worst aviation disaster in history. He was one of the 129 service men killed in the crash of a Globemaster in Japan. (Daily Record Photo.)

Light & Bright

HEREFORD, England — (AP) — Keith Gillespie climbed onto the couplings between two railway passenger cars at Shrewsbury Thursday and remained there for the 70 mile trip to Hereford at 85 miles per hour. Although he was cold sober at the end of the ride, Gillespie was fined $11.20 on a drunk charge.

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — Tonnie Maddox's truck was struck from the rear and overturned when Maddox stopped to investigate a car's flying saucer. He saw the car, Maddox, uninjured, climbed from the upside down cab of his truck and gazed disconsolately at the flying saucer: an automobile hubcap.

WHITING, Me. — (AP) — Police made no comment when they removed several signs from U. S. Highway One here which is being repaired. "Cheer up. Good roads ahead — in Canada." "Good driving! You made it." "This road is not ahead—but should be." "Slow, political corners ahead."

LONDON — (AP) — Crooner Frank Sinatra made a television appearance here Tuesday night. When he finished his number he thanked the audience and proceeded to laud "wonderful" British TV. Just before he made his flattering remarks a transmitter broke down and screens went black.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Methodist leaders from all over the world, gathered here for a world Methodist convocation of evangelism, were told today there are 26,000,000 young people in this country who are not being reached by any church.

TRUMAN REVISITS OLD SCENES

Last Minute News Shorts

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — Montgomery County today was officially declared an emergency area by the Office of Defense Mobilization at Washington and all children under nine years of age here are to be inoculated with gamma globulin.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Boston distributor of the controversial battery powered AD-X2 said today he has tested it on a submarine battery with "amazing" results.

WILSON — (AP) — An attractive young waitress was scheduled to be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner here today in charges of kidnaping a five-year-old girl from a Norfolk, Va., theatre. The woman gave her name as Mrs. Carolyn Ronaldson, 26, of Charlotte, when she was arrested yesterday as she walked along a street here with little Brenda Barnes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Mine Workers and the CIO steel workers are trying to negotiate a joint "public relations" program as the first step to closer cooperation between the two giant unions, it was disclosed today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clare E. Hoffman R-Mich launched a last-ditch fight against the administration's defense reorganization plan today as it was called up for a vote in the House. Hoffman claims the reform would pave the way for military control of the government. But he had little chance of mustering the 218 votes required to kill it.

A Great Man Has Gone

friends and intensely loyal to all of them.

Unfortunately, his political enemies frequently succeeded in painting a false picture of him to the people.

They called him a big corporation lawyer, yet the last court case in which he ever appeared was in behalf of a widowed mother suing a big corporation.

The worst thing we ever heard him say about his opponent was, "He's My Friend." That's the kind of man Willis Smith was.

They accused him of injecting a racial issue into his campaign. Actually, he threatened to withdraw from the campaign if he caught his staff engaging in such.

Willis Smith was a man of remarkable vision, keen insight, vast knowledge and great personal kindness.

When others got upset, he had the ability to keep calm and think.

When his critics were unfair and unkind he ignored it and marked it up to the heat of the campaign.

The most famous court case in which this great legal expert ever appeared was that of a poor Raleigh Negro who had a just claim against a prominent political figure.

Other lawyers were afraid to take the case, but Willis Smith took it and won it for the poor Negro.

Some of his critics called Willis Smith a Republican because he had the ability to think and act for himself.

Had Willis Smith been a member of the Republican Party it would have found it just as hard to keep him in strict party lines as the Democrats. He wasn't that kind of man.

He was a man who put the welfare of his country ahead of all other considerations; a man who could clearly define the issues and get at the bottom of things.

It was impossible to know Willis Smith without loving and admiring him. Those in his presence always had the feeling and the full realization that they were in the presence of a great man.

The editor of this newspaper will always be happy and proud that he had an opportunity to be associated with Willis Smith, and to know him as a friend.

Only history will record his true greatness.
