Harrington Lauds Local Committees

Kyle Harrington, county PMA supervisor today had warm words of praise for the way local committees in the 16 PMA communities in the county have handled the measurement of the tobacco acreage.

Harrington reported that 95 percent of the measurement of around 22,000 acres of tobacco has been completed by the June 30 deadline.

This marks the first year that the measurement of farms, and direction of the surveyors have been placed directly in the hands of local committeemen. All surveyors, however, have been under the general supervision of T. C. Kendall, county compliance supervisor.

EXCELLENT MEASUREMENT

Spot checks: from the State were in the county for 13 days and report, Harrington said, that measurement of the Harnett land has been "excellent."

Surveyors received 30 cents per acre or one dollar per farm for the survey, designed to see if the farmer complies with his tobacco acreage allocation.

Harrington contended that local men familiar with local farms could direct surveyors to great advantage, and results have proven him correct.

However, with tobacco measurements practically finished, the PMA is holding itself ready to measure cotton land in case the federal department of agriculture should request it.

Harrington said that a recent district meeting of PMA officials at Lakeview, county supervisors were advised that measurements of all cotton acreage planted in 1953 might be called for before September 1. In that event the same surveying crew would probably be used in Harnett along the same organization followed with tobacco, Harrington said.

Teachers Asked To Purge Communist

MIAMI BEACH (U) — The National Education Association, powerful voice of the nation's teachers today firmly opposed "purges" of school staffs based on political belief, and called on educators to speak up when questioned about their loyalty.

The NEA adopted all proposed resolutions by an overwhelming vote, and after little floor debate.

"The commander of the American Legion had just urged the convention to rid its ranks of Communists."

LEGION CHIEF SPEAKS

Lewis K. Gough, of Pasadena, Calif., said the "most immediate threat" to the possibility that educators themselves will be unwilling to exclude "Communists and red-fronters from the shelter and security which academic freedom commands."

Gough said men of "eminence and distinction" make up the "real" threat of communism to America.

"And I think it ought to be noted here that of this group, educators and scholars comprise by far the largest majority," he said.

CITES THE RECORD

He said of 60 witnesses called before the House Un-American Activities Committee, 59 were native Americans of eminent learning and each declined to answer questions by the committee on grounds of incriminating themselves.

"Not one of the lot was manual laborer or a farmer of the proletariat class which the Reds profess to speak for," he said.

Gough urged the teachers to recognize their profession as a primary target of Communists and to meet the threat "resolutely and courageously."

Town Board

action was taken by the board. Mayor Hanna and the board ignored his request and took no action.

Yates Parker of the Walker-Martin Company and Mr. Gilbert of the Atlanta office of General Electric appeared with John Wilbourne, local G-E distributor and demonstrated the latest model of Disposals to the board. They asked the board to endorse the unit. Gilbert pointed out that the units were used in all homes in Jasper, Indiana and in that town they save $12,500 per year on garbage disposal. On volume of 300 or more he said, the installation cost and the cost of the machine could be cut to between $100 and $105 per home.

He put the machine through its paces and ran various materials which were easily pulverized. "Herb" the City Hall roach, appeared through it including glass marbles from under a desk to view the proceedings, but when the demonstrator threatened to feed him to the machine, he scurried back to safety.

Gilbert said the machine could handle any type of refuse and that even a handful of carpet tacks would only stall it once in 50 times.

The board examined the machine with considerable interest but made no definite commitment.

ANOTHER PROJECT

The board approved the application for water and sewer installations made by Ed Tart for his project on S. Washington Ave.

The widening of North Wilson Avenue was approved but the City Manager was instructed to remove the projections.

He was instructed to use his own judgment on whether or not the paving should be done by the town or a private contractor.

With respect to continuing the salary of Policeman Harus Davidson, the board ordered that his pay should be continued through July 18, and that he be notified that it would be discontinued at that time.

Cupe Ferguson's pay will be continued for two weeks, the board decided.

The application for admission to the town by Mrs. C. L. Guy, Sr., was denied since no part of the Jones-Guy subdivision touches the city line.

S. Leigh Wilson of the League of Municipalities was instructed to go ahead with the revision of the code of ordinances. Three typed copies will be made and will cost from $450 to $500.

City Manager Uzzle reported five so-called juke joints that have been added since no part of the board added a sixth. The list is to be turned over to District Solicitor Jack Hooks for investigation.

Sheriff's Slayer Sought Near Sylvia

SYLVIA, N. C. (U) — Twenty men scoured miles of thicketed slopes and gulches in a futile night-long hunt for heavily-armed Demos Woods, 37, who authorities said shot and killed a sheriff who went to an outpost to arrest him.

"He's very dangerous," said Deputy U. S. Marshal Hugh Stevens. "He's got a shotgun loaded with double-0 buckshot, he's got plenty of mountain country to roam around in and he knows it like the back of his hand."

Stevens said Woods popped up "right there under our noses" yesterday during the arresting party's excursion to the Wolf Mountain settlement 15 miles north of here and fired a blast which killed Sheriff Griffith C. Middleton.

LONG RECORD

Woods, with a record of "at least six or seven" previous shootings on his record and now officially declared an "outlaw" by Judge Dan K. Moore, had seemingly vanished into the vast surrounding area "filled with nothing but mountains."

The posse of deputies, patrolmen and other officers sealed off with road blocks and penetrated with hounds as much as they could of the remote section of national forest near the Blue Ridge Parkway.

Stevens said he, Sheriff Middleton, Deputy Frank Allen and high-way patrolman John Sides set out their struggle against the Communists.

However, that holiday covered three days. This year's starts at 6 p. m. tonight and lasts until midnight Sunday.

Administration forces won a major victory in the House Thursday when it passed a cutback $34,434,000,000 defense spending bill over the opposition of most Democrats.
