Bing Sells Horses To Pay Off Taxes

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Bing Crosby put his 65 race horses up for sale today to help pay a million dollar inheritance tax on his late wife's share of the Crosby fortune.

The crooner's bother, Larry Crosby, announced the move Wednesday, saying the star also has put his Holmby Hills mansion in West Los Angeles and his Pebble Beach, Calif., home on the block.

HAS SOLD STOCKS

The signer already has sold some stocks "and may have to sell some cattle" from his Elko, Nev., ranch to meet the government tariff, his brother said.

"The tax is close to a million," Larry explained. "So Bing has to liquidate some properties. Dixie had a little personal insurance, that's all."

Bing and his four sons have legal title to Dixie's share of the family wealth, but by law they do not have possession of it until the large inheritance tax is paid.

Under California community property laws, half of their wealth was his.

Larry said Bing and Dixie should have had insurance to take care of such an inheritance tax.

Bing's attorney, John Melveny said he tried to take out life insurance for Dixie before her death, "but she already was sick and we couldn't get the insurance."

amous cohabitation with his eighth wife but allegedly admitted he had not bothered to divorce the previous seven. He said friends and relatives informed him, in some cases, that the wives had divorced him.

FREED UNDER BOND

Dakin was freed in $2,500 bail as was his wife Diana, who pleaded guilty to a bigamous cohabitation charge. She admitted having two undivorced husbands. A third died.

Police Inspector Ernest N. Boucher, who was assigned to investigate Dakin's case, quoted him as saying he had married: Irma of Nova Scotia in 1916; Pauline of Searsport, Me., in 1918; Hilda of Bangor, Me., in 1921; Ruth of St. Stephens, N. E., in 1928; May of Lynn, Mass., in 1932 or 1933; Susanna of Cumberland, Md., in 1936, and Carrie of Underwood, Md., in 1937.

Dakin and Diana were married in Yonkers, N. Y., in 1948. Last week she filed for an annulment of the marriage and for custody of their four-year-old daughter, thus bringing up the matter of the legality of the 1948 wedding and finally the bigamy charges.
