Premier Mossadegh Arrested In Iran Oil Dispute Crisis

By MAZANDI United Press Staff Correspondent

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Iranian troops loyal to the shah overthrew Premier Mohammad Mossadegh in a bloody coup today and besieged him in his burning home, shouting for his death.

Desperate guards ringing the home of the premier killed many of the attackers with machine guns in a battle that was still raging at dusk.

It was reported that Mossadegh's firebrand Foreign Minister Hussein Fatemi had been cut to pieces by an infuriated mob.

50 KILLED

At least 50 persons had been killed and more than 100 wounded in street battles between the forces of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, who fled to Rome after the failure of one abortive coup, and supporters of Mossadegh.

The city resounded with cannon and machine gun fire.

Troops attacked hideouts of Mossadegh men with tanks, artillery and bazookas. Mobs stormed the Tehran prison and released supporters of the shah.

NEWSPAPER PLANTS BOMBED Pro-Mossadegh newspaper plants were set afire.

Reports from the provinces said army garrisons untroubled against Mossadegh seized control of cities and proclaimed loyalty to the 33-year-old monarch.

Gen. Fazlollah Zahedi, whom the shah had named premier at the start of the abortive coup early Sunday, returned from hiding and assumed control.

In Rome, the shah confirmed Zahedi as head of a new "constitutional" government and said he was waiting word to fly home to Tehran.

Zahedi proclaimed martial law and imposed a 10 p. m. curfew until further notice.

He broadcast over Radio Tehran an outline of his policies-social justice, improvement of the lot of the working man and higher standard of living.

It was reported Zahedi had ordered the air force to bomb Mossadegh, "preparing palatial home unless he surrendered."

Another report said that a message was thrown from a window of the premier's residence, announcing that he had "resigned" and pleading with his attackers to have mercy now that he had quit.

The defenders were fighting desperately. It was reported they were led by Lt. Col. Ahmad Mowdas, who tipped off Mossadegh to the attempted pro-shah coup Sunday.

SEAH GETS NEWS In Rome, the shah was shown reports of the rioting. He seized them eagerly, his hands trembling, and in a voice broken with emotion said:

"This is all news to me. But I knew the 90 per cent of the population is faithful to me. I have always been sure of it. Everybody who is not a Communist is faithful."

Unconfirmed reports said army garrisons outside of Tehran multiplied and disarmed their officers. The Tehran military garrisons were reported on a hunger strike to back (Continued on page two)

THAT BEAUTIFUL GOLDEN WEED - Jack Calhoun of the Big-4 Warehouse, right in shown here with a group of his assistants and farmers looking over a pile of some choice tobacco this morning. It's good tobacco, selected and Calhoun, who said it'll bring at least 60 cents tomorrow. The tobacco was owned by Frank Bolton of Dunn Route 2, left in right; also Ashton Wood of Four Oaks, Route 3; E. C. Mangum of Angier, Bill Matthews of Benson, Jesse Downing and Mr. Calhoun, who's operating here with Buck Curran for the sixth year. The floors were being filled rapidly today for tomorrow's opening. Dunn's Warehouses Ready For Biggest Season In History

Happy days are here again!

Dunn's Tobacco Market is ready to swing open Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and warehousemen are ready to give those big, fat checks in exchange for that golden weed.

Warehouses were filling rapidly today and the town has taken on a carnival-like spirit as excitement mounts for the grand opening tomorrow morning.

All indications point to the biggest and most successful season in the market's six-year history.

Sales Supervisor Norman Suttles this morning listed several reasons why the Dunn market should break all previous records.

This year, the market has two strong warehouse groups who are cooperating to build a bigger and better market.

STIFF COMPETITION With new warehouses and new warehousemen, there will be stiffer competition, higher bidding and more money for the farmer.

The Big-4 Warehouse group, located on the Benson highway, will again be operated by Buck Curran, Tom Smothers, Jack Calhoun and E. L. Dudley, a new partner.

Operating the Planter, Growers and Farmers group of warehouses on the Fayetteville highway are: Rodney Chestnut, manager, Clarence Lee Part and Emmett C. Edgerton, all of whom are well-known Dunn businessmen.

They have taken over the warehouses operated here last year by J. R. Dyer Owen, who is no longer operating here.

Dunn's tobacco market will have a total of 11 buyers—more buyers than any other one-set tobacco market in the world.

MANY BUYERS Every major foreign and domestic company will have buyers on the Dunn market. There are 11 company buyers, two foreign, three domestic and six independents.

Companies who have buyers here include: Imperial, Export, American, E. J. Reynolds, Liggett-Meyers.

More P.O.W.'s Are Released

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) - The Communists freed a record number of prisoners today and heard harsh denial of their charges that the United Nations had given brutal treatment to Red captives.

A few hours after the 15th day of "Operation Big Switch" ended, Allied members of the Prisoner Repatriation Commission told their Communist counterparts that the U. N. had used only "minimum force" against unruly prisoners.

"Minimum force" was used only because prisoners failed to conduct themselves as disciplined soldiers," Col. L. C. Friederhoff told the Reds. He said non-toxic irritants had been used to stop disturbances.

The Communists released 450 prisoners including 75 more Americans as "Operation Big Switch" went into its third week. Altogether, 2,500 Americans have been released and the Reds have promised to release 60 more tomorrow.

DEMANDS NOT FRESH There was no indication that Friederhoff had pressed demands for assurances from the Communists that they will return "all" prisoners, including those jailed for "crimes."

Senator Lennon Is A Hard Worker

By JOHN SIKES

CHAPTER SEVEN

Senator Alton A. Lennon has worked an average of 16 hours per day since he was sworn into office by Vice President Nixon on July 15.

The Senator gets to his Washington office in Room 248, Senate Office Building, shortly after 8 each morning. He usually there until well past midnight the following morning.

One day, during Senate debate on the Foreign Aid Bill, Lennon began dictating answers to letters shortly after 8. Throughout the day he alternated his time between the Senate Chamber and his office.

At 1:40 the next morning the Senator answered. Bill Lennon had finished business at his office at which he returned his telephone (Continued on page two) until a little after 3. That gave him an 18-hour day.

In his first two weeks in Washington, Senator Lennon dictated a little more than 3,000 letters. During the time he was actually in his office, when he could be spared from the Senate floor, he answered the telephone at the rate of one call every 15 minutes.

IN BOLL CLASH During these same two weeks he answered nearly 50 roll calls in the Senate from when he was on the floor.

Heavy Sales Are Expected

RALEIGH (AP) - Tobacco marketing experts predicted fairly heavy sales for opening day tomorrow on the 17 markets of the Eastern North Carolina Belt.

The markets averaged $50.18 on opening day last year and prices this year generally were expected to match those of current sales on the South Carolina and Border North Carolina Belts. General reports from the area indicated quality slightly better than last year.

On opening day last year 15.3 per cent of offerings went under government loan.

W. E. Atchley of the Federal-State Market News Service said "harvesting and curing is well along and fairly heavy sales are expected for the opening day."

"We'd have had right much more tobacco this year than last year if it hadn't been for that hot, dry weather in July," Atchley said. He noted that the indicated production for the Eastern Belt dropped 29,000,000 pounds from July 1 to Aug. 1 when the volume was forecast at 450,160,000 pounds.

Last year the belt sold 468,279,954 pounds at an average of $50.53 per hundred. Of the total, 12 1/2 per cent went under government loan.

Adlai Is Flying Back Home Today

NICE, France (AP) - Adlai E. Stevenson left by Pan American Airways plane for New York today on the last leg on his world tour.

"I saw a lot of troubles on my trip around the world but I came back with the hope that the free world would survive and win. Stevenson told newsmen before he left.

He had "nothing to say" about his plans in the United States. "Stevenson said he had "fine weather, got a lot of rest and had fun" during his stay on this Riviera playground.

United Fund Drive Approved By Group Russia's Plan May Be Given

Some 50 persons from Dunn unanimously approved the idea of establishing a United Fund drive here last night.

Previously, the Chamber of Commerce sent out a questionnaire on establishing such a campaign to include all charitable organizations in Dunn, but little response was recorded.

TO SET UP BOARD The group of business men and citizens last night voted to allow the Chamber of Commerce Executive Board to set up a Board of Directors for the fund. This Board would decide which groups could come under the fund, and would assist in drawing up the budget.

Norman J. Suttles, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that it was the general opinion of the group last night that no one would work on any other drive except the United Fund. However, establishment of the United drive does not prevent others from seeking contributions.

Suttles stated that if the people of Dunn desire the United Fund campaign, it can be a success. A meeting of the Executive Board of the Chamber of Commerce will be held within the next 10 days to set up the Board of Directors for the Fund drive.
