AT OVERHILLS
Mrs. Lillian Swift and son Eddy of Salisbury are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Davis in Overhills.

PRESENTS AWARDED
Due to an error in typing, it was incorrectly stated in a story in yesterday's Record that Mrs. Nathan Johnson presented an address at the Children of the Confederacy convention at Chapel Hill Friday. It should have stated that Mrs. Johnson presented a cash award of $5 each year for an essay. The award this year went to Miss Judy Wilson of Durham for her essay, "Rehabilitation of the South After the Days of Reconstruction."

ATTEND BIRTHDAY DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. McLean and daughters, Jewel and Mrs. Linwood Sills attended a birthday dinner in Durham Sunday. The dinner was for Mrs. E. S. Parrish, Sr., Mrs. McLean's mother and was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Parrish.

IKE GIVES REEL FISHING LESSON

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, whose sore elbow has somewhat slowed up his fishing program at Fraser, Colo., gives newsmen some instructions in casting, reeling and landing the wily trout. It seems that the correspondents have been getting mostly mosquito bites and thought the stories of big catches were a bit fishy. The Chief Executive announced he would extend his vacation three weeks. (International)
