57 DEAD IN TWO AIRPLANE CRASHES

At Least 100 Persons Dead In Heat Wave

By UNITED PRESS The nation's worst heat wave of the year burned through its ninth day today and health authorities said it had killed at least 100 persons in the eastern two-thirds of the country.

The weather bureau said a cold air mass had surged down from Canada into Montana and the Dakotas but they doubted it would go far enough to relieve the heat in the baking Midwest and East. Doctors warned dwellers in the heat belt to "take it easy" during the hot spell to avoid heart attacks and heat prostration.

Some Chicago offices, including several branches of the police department, closed before noon to get workers out of stuffy offices.

EVEN CROOKS LAYING LOW "Even the criminals are laying low in this heat," a police official said. "The crooks apparently have found cool spots and are staying there. We haven't had a major stickup since Friday."

Two thousand workers at a Philadelphia clothing plant refused to go to work because of the heat and two other firms let their 900 employees go home. Philadelphia alone has reported 65 heat deaths. At Toronto, Ont., the heat melted materials on the roof of the Graphics Arts Building at the Canadian National Exhibition and caused it to sag 15 feet.

TOMATOES BURST OPEN At Chicago Heights, Ill., truckloads of newly-harvested tomatoes burst their skins as the heat expanded the pulp and juice as they were carted to canneries. With a somewhat disjointed sense of timing, the U. S. Civil Service Board advertised for extra post office help to handle the Christmas rush.

Ottis McLamb Faces Charges

Ottis D. McLamb was booked early this week on three offenses following an accident Monday evening.

McLamb's 1952 Oldsmobile overturned while he was attempting to make a curve too fast on the Spring Branch road. Patrolman Paul G. Albergine stated that the car overturned several times, completely demolishing the car valued at $1,800.

Following treatment at Dunn Hospital for minor cuts and bruises, McLamb was charged with driving while drunk, driving without a license, and careless and reckless driving.

In another accident Sunday on S. "C" Street in Edwin, Patrolman Albergine stated that a car driven by Mildred Olive, 34, failed to make a stop at a sign, slid through an intersection, crossed a lawn, and overturned.

Olive was charged with careless and reckless driving.

Officers Seeking Clues In Robbery

K. C. Matthews, Harnett County deputy sheriff said tonight there only scanty descriptions of the three robbers who held up the Walsh Esso service station around 1 a. m. Monday and escaped "with some small amounts of cash."

Matthews said Dick Walsh, co-owner of the station told him he blacked out after he was hit on the head by the butt of a pistol. Walsh said he was sure of two things, he heard the cash drawer open as he lay on the concrete and he heard a car drive away.

NOT LINKED WITH BANK Officers who have worked on the case the past 24 hours said there was nothing to indicate the trio of robbers were the same who robbed the Garner bank but they were not dismissing that possibility.

The three men who snatched $15,000 from the Garner bank are still at large. Walsh told Matthews that three

Dulles Issues Stiff Warning To Red China

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned Red China today that it will risk retaliation against its homeland if it commits a "second aggression" against Indochina or Korea.

Noting that Red China is training, equipping and supplying communist forces in Indochina, he said there is a "risk that, as in Korea, Red China might send its army into Indochina."

The Chinese Communist regime should realize that such a second aggression could not occur without grave consequences which might not be confined to Indochina," he said. "I say this soberly in the interest of peace and in the hope of preventing another aggression miscalculation."

WOULD SPREAD TO CHINA In a speech at the American Legion convention, Dulles told the Chinese Communist regime bluntly that if the Korean war were renewed, it likely would spread to China itself. He recalled that the 16 United Nations fighting aggression in Korea had declared they will resist any new outbreak of aggression there and that the fighting might spread beyond Korean boundaries.

"Since 1950, the forces of aggression have been supplied, equipped and protected by air, from unmolested bases in China, just north of the Yalu," he said. "If, however, the Communists desire to resume the war, they now know that they could no longer count on this 'privileged sanctuary.'"

U. S. WANTS PEACE Dulles emphasized that the United States wants peace and said he served the warnings on Red China only in the interest of peace. "Peace requires anticipating what it is that tempts an aggressor and letting him know in advance that, if he does not exercise self-control, he may face a hard fight, perhaps a losing fight," he said.

Dulles noted that President Eisenhower has linked the Korean and Indochinese wars together as part of a grand Red offensive and said the United States "does not make the mistake of treating Korea as an isolated affair."

Legion's Parade Marred By Tragedy

ST. LOUIS, MO. (AP) - The American Legion's 35th annual convention, it's mammoth parade spoiled by tragedy, buckled down today to settle policy disputes over the conduct of foreign affairs and Air Force budget cuts.

The Legionnaires will also hear a major foreign policy speech by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

St. Louis' scorching 100-degree heat Tuesday killed two Legionnaires in the 100,000-man, three-mile parade through downtown streets. At least 230 spectators and marchers felled by heat prostration jammed city hospitals.

The dead were Legionnaires William P. Randolph, 51, Hot Springs, Ark., and Saleen Al Hatem, 61, 139 W. 47th New York. Hatem was carrying a flag when he collapsed. Vice President Richard M. Nixon marched the entire route to the reviewing stand with the California delegation and said he didn't mind the heat.

Today the convention was scheduled to take up the matter of the United Nations as its first order of business at Kiel Auditorium. Resolutions regarding the administration's $5,000,000,000 cut in Air Force funds. The Legion's Aeronautics Committee has voted to endorse a resolution urging Congress to restore the funds.

U. N. IS OPPOSED Opposition to the United Nations was given impetus at the opening session of the convention Monday when the first speaker, past National Commander Donald R. Wilson, Clarksburg, W. Va., warned the Legionnaires that the U. N. must be watched lest it take away basic American rights.

Wilson's attack brought a mixed reaction from leaders of the veterans' organization. Most were critical of the U. N. but few advocated withdrawal of the United States.

'Twasn't Funny, Says Patrolman

Patrolman Herman Ward is usually a calm collected man. But one night this week, riding alone in his patrol car from Lillington to his home in Bunnville he felt sharp nails on the back of his neck and the hairs rose on his head.

In his imagination, the officer could see a man crouched behind the seat, ready with a knife or a gun. So he swung his car swiftly around with the idea that it (Continued on page two)

15 Service Men Killed In One Crash

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) - The burned wreckage of a missing DC-3 plane found today near Vail, Wash., and the bodies of 15 dead were counted, the Air Force said.

Capt. James Lynch of the 43rd Air Rescue Squadron at McChord Air Force Base, said that 19 Fort Ord, Calif., servicemen were aboard the Regina Airlines plane. Lynch said there were also two crew members.

The plane passed over Portland, Ore., last night but failed to report at its next check station at Toledo, Wash., about 60 miles north of Portland.

BARCELONNETTE France (AP) - Forty-two persons, including violinist Jacques Thibaud, died in the jery crash of an Air France Constellation in to a 9,368 foot peak in the French Alps, a rescue party learned today.

The four-engine plane smashed into Mount Cemet and burst into flames shortly before midnight. Some of the bodies were hurled 1,600 feet from the wreckage.

A party of police, soldiers and civilians dispatched to the scene reported that Thibaud, 72, and his accompanist, Rene Herbin, were among those killed. They were scheduled to play soon in Tokyo.

NO AMERICANS The plane, bound from Paris to Saigon, Indochina, carried no American or British passengers. Most of those aboard were French and Viet Namese. One infant was among those killed.

The plane was 90 minutes out of Paris and was scheduled to land at Nice in 20 minutes when it struck Mount Cemet. Flames immediately shot up over the peak and were visible 10 miles away at the winter sports village of Barcelonnette for three hours.

It took five hours for the 40-man rescue party of police, soldiers and civilians from Barcelonnette to make its way over the barren, rugged, rock-strewn route to the crash scene.

They radioed that they found the burned skeleton of the Lockheed plane but no survivors.
