STATE NEWS BRIEFS

MARSHAL - Another special venire of 50 persons was summoned here today in an effort to complete the jury for the murder trial of former Hot Springs Police Chief Paul Gutschall. Gutschall was charged with murder in the March 24 slaying of Alonzo Norton 37, who was killed in a gunbattle when the police chief tried to arrest him for drunkenness.

GASTONIA - Firemen brought flames from two derailed railway tank cars under control in a battle lasting more than three hours early today, preventing possible explosions that would have endangered nearby homes. The fire broke out when three tankers and a box car of a north-bound Southern Railway freight train jumped the track one block from the station and within yards of a half-dozen residences. Two of the tankers and a box car went up in flames.

BRYSAN CITY - The third in a series of industrial development to ums, sponsored by Gov. William B. Umstead and the State Department of Conservation and Development, will be held here tonight.

RALEIGH - Health and highway officials reported to Gov. William B. Umstead today in the Guilford County crash-injury research project, aimed at helping automobile makers design safer cars.

NEW BERN - Funeral services were held here today for H. M. Jacobs. New Bern civic leader and former secretary of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, Jacobs, who was also founder and state director of the Ocean Highway, died at St. Luke's Hospital here yesterday.

RICHLANDS - Hopeful of a break in a 16-months old unsolved murder mystery, the State Bureau of Investigation announced plans today to give lie detector tests to all persons giving information about the mysterious strangling of pretty Corinne Baysden. SBI Director James F. Powell said in Raleigh there is an "excellent chance" that the Baysden murder case will be broken soon.

ACES LOW - FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan. - The enlisted men just couldn't let the officers get away with it. Lt. Col. Joseph Peot made a hole-in-one on the 163-yard No. 16 hole of Fort Leavenworth's golf course. The next day an ace was made on the same hole by Sgt. Charles A. Klien.
