A CROWN FOR MISS AMERICA

EVELYN MARGARET AY, 20, Miss America for 1954, is crowned by Miss America of 1953, Neva Jane Langley, of Macon, Ga., after Miss Ay won out at Atlantic City, N. J., over 51 other girls from the U. S., Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada. The 5-foot, 8-inch Miss America entered the contest as Miss Pennsylvania. She is from Ephrata. (International)

Miss America Goes Clothes Shopping

NEW YORK (P) — A Pennsylvania sorority girl goes shopping today for the wardrobe she will wear in and out of the spotlights across the nation as the new "Miss America."

Evelyn Margaret Ay of Ephrata, Pa., who won the coveted title at Atlantic City, N.J., Saturday night, found that the first thing Miss America needs is clothes. She will be seen in nearly every state in the union and will travel to Europe during her 12-month reign.

Miss Ay is rhymer with "Be-," deflected 53 girls for the crown of Miss America and the $50,000 in prizes that goes with it. She said she was surprised she won, because the judges could see plainly that she bulges in some of the wrong places.

When she visits Manhattan's leading dress shops this week for fittings, the tape measure will record a 37 inch bust, 24 inch waist and 36 inch hips. This is far from the usual beauty queen standards, which call for hips and bust of the same size and a waist 10 inches smaller.

LIKES FISH CHOPS
But Miss Ay, who is 30, a blonde and stands five feet-eight inches, said she had an insatiable appetite for pork chops and sauerkraut and her figure is the result. She tried dieting once but gave it up.

The new Miss America will cross the country seven or eight times in the coming year and make about 300 personal appearances. Her prizes included a $5,000 scholarship and she will resume her studies at the University of Pennsylvania when she yields her crown a year from now.

After her visit to New York, Miss Ay will go home to Ephrata and a rousing reception from proud townspeople, they began giving her beauty prizes three years ago. In 1950 she was queen of the Ephrata fair and Tobacco Queen of Lancaster County. Last year she was named "Miss Pennsylvania Amvet" and "Miss National Amvet." Earlier this year she became "Miss Pennsylvania" and got her chance for the Miss America title.

WAS SWEETHEART
At a press conference Sunday Miss Ay confided to reporters she was the sweetheart of a Sigma Chi at the university, where she is studying to be a medical technician. She identified the boy of her dreams as Carl Sempler, 27, a Naval cadet.

She also said she does not like the new short skirts because she is too tall to wear them, 7-4 1/2. When a reporter asked her whether she was a Republican or a Democrat, she said she was still too young to vote and didn't give politics much thought.
