Ike Leads

(Continued From Page One) off at Ft. Benning on the flight here from Washington to pick up the grandchildren and their mother, Mrs. John Eisenhower. The Eisenhowers invited a few personal friends to share their 39-pound turkey, which was a gift 10 days ago from poultry growers. The President promised he would do the carving himself although the dinner was being served in the National Golf clubhouse's trophy room. The menu included fruit cup, roast turkey with oyster dressing, a green vegetable, cranberry sauce, salad and pumpkin pie. The dinner was being served in the clubhouse because "Mamie's cabin" does not have a dining room. And it would be awkward to serve a large dinner in the main living room although the Eisenhowers have been eating some of their meals there.
