GI Traitors Find New Home With Commies

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — Twenty-one American friends of the Communists found a new home in Kaesong today, and residents stared at them with curiosity as they strolled through the dusty streets of the little North Korean town.

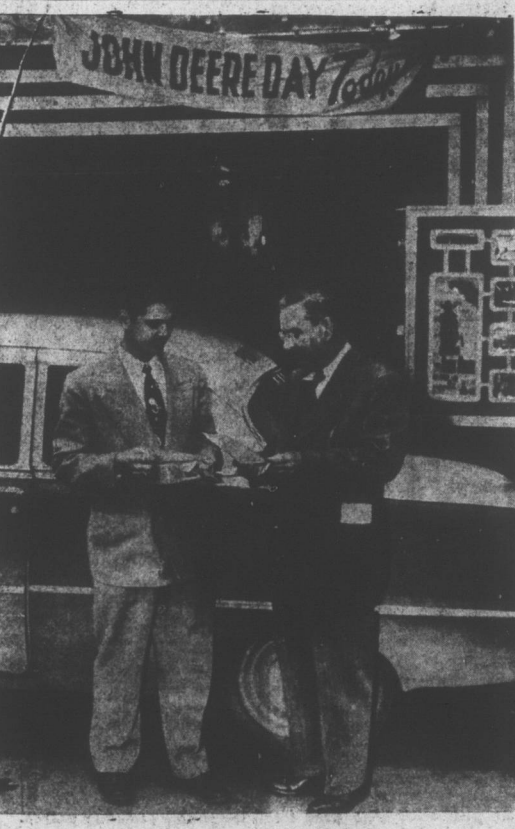

Some of them probably had hangovers, as they were guests of honor at a big welcoming party Thursday night around a board graced with Chinese foods and several kinds of wines and liquors.

One of the Americans, who was not identified by a Communist source, rose at the height of the celebration to thank the Reds for winning them away from America so they could "fight for peace."

ROAM IN STREETS — Communist correspondent Alan Wilmington said the former American soldiers took advantage of the warm sunshine to roam the streets of Kaesong, six miles north of Panmunjom.

There was no indication when the Americans who renounced their home and country would leave for the North Korean capital of Pyongyang and for the Red Chinese capital of Peiping, where the Reds have promised to teach them how "to fight for peace."

Letters from mothers of four Americans, begging them to come home, arrived in Panmunjom Thursday, one day after the dishonorably discharged former soldiers had gone behind the Iron Curtain.

Molotov Still Trying To Bring In China

BERLIN (AP) — The Western foreign ministers, moving to sidetrack a Soviet demand for a world disarmament conference, formally proposed today that it be turned over to the United Nations.

They introduced a resolution at the opening of today's session of the Big Four meeting asking that the Soviet proposal be referred to the U. N. disarmament commission for further study.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault introduced the resolution in behalf of all three Western powers.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov touched off the disarmament conference proposal at the end of yesterday's meeting in another attempt to bring Communist China into world discussions "by the back door."

SECRET MEETING TODAY — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Bidault mapped out at a secret meeting today their plan to try to sidetrack the disarmament conference proposal and start action on German and Austrian treaties.

Molotov agreed late yesterday to shelve his demand for a Big Five conference including the Chinese Reds until next week, when the ministers will discuss it in a highly restricted meeting.

The Western foreign ministers felt they had won a diplomatic victory and had maneuvered Molotov into getting down to business on the real reason for holding the conference — unification of Germany and conclusion of an Austrian treaty.

But just as Dulles, Eden and Bidault believed they had outmaneuvered Molotov, the Soviet foreign minister suggested that a world disarmament meeting be the next item on the agenda.

Jimmy Roosevelt Accused Of Three Adultery Counts

PARADISE, Calif. (AP) — James Roosevelt, candidate for Congress and eldest son of the late President Franklin Roosevelt, was charged with three counts of adultery today in a separate maintenance suit filed here by his wife.

Mrs. Roselle Schneider Roosevelt, 38, named three co-respondents in the suit on file in Superior Court. She asked for separate maintenance with $2,000 a month for herself and $1,500 a month for their three children.

Roosevelt, who earlier this week announced his intention to run for Congress in June, filed his own suit for separate maintenance in Santa Monica Jan. 18.

Mrs. Roosevelt's attorney, Arthur Schifferman, said the suit accused the 46-year-old former Marine Corps colonel of infidelity with three women during the years 1952 and 1953.

Woman Offers To Sell Her Husband

KENTWOOD, La. (AP) — Husbands were having an uneasy time today after the women who advertised to sell her mate got a $5,000 bid, and an editor warned that somebody may not be kidding.

What bothered the men of this small community in the Louisiana strawberry belt was that only editor Ted Hesser of the Kentwood News knew which wife placed the ad in his weekly newspaper.

"They're driving us wild trying to find out," he said. "I know who put it in, but I'm not telling. She said she was doing it as a joke."

I kinda doubt it. You never can tell about women. POOR PROVIDER — He said the caller, who offered $5,000 "sight-unseen" for the husband, objected that the ad-placer's price of "$75,000 cash" was too high, especially since the ad stated: "Liability: Poor provider." (Continued on page six)

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Time runs out at midnight tonight on the apparently doomed Indian proposal for a special meeting of the United Nations General Assembly Feb. 9 to deal with Korea.

License Deadline Is Monday At Four

The State Highway Department has extended the deadline for motor-vehicle license renewals through Monday, Johnny Purdie, local license representative said today.

Purdie said that while the time has been extended, he urges all motorists to obtain plates before the last minute rush Monday. In past years, a number of persons have waited until the last minute to get the plates, Purdie stated. This has caused considerable inconvenience both for the workers at Purdie's, Incorporated, and for those standing in line, it was pointed out.

Purdie's will be open from 9 until 4 o'clock during the week and from 9 until 12 noon on Saturday, it was stated.

Phantom Slashing Still At Large Ladies' Legs

MONTREAL (AP) — A "phantom slasher" roamed free in the Canadian metropolis today, and thousands of women walked in fear that they might be next to feel the sharp sting of his razor on their legs.

The will-o'-the-wisp slasher has struck 13 times in the past seven days — three times Thursday — making quick sweeps of his blade across the leg of women and leaving sharp stings at busy intersections and near street corners.

One victim described him as a "man-like being" with a "man-like laugh." Many schools were closing classes earlier than scheduled after a 15-year-old girl was slashed on her

Big Crowd Attends John Deere Program

Around 700 farmers of Harnett County and the area attended a movie sponsored by Johnson Cotton Company's Implement Department today in which John Deere equipment was featured.

W. H. Laughinghouse, manager of the Department, said he was well pleased with the attendance at the annual movie and social for farmers of the County. Preceding the movie featuring John Deere equipment, the farmers were shown a comedy entitled, "Mr. Christmas," produced in Hollywood.

STATE FILMS SHOWN — A good part of the movie featuring the farm equipment was produced in North Carolina near Rocky Mount, Laughinghouse said. The movie was shown at the Dunn Theatre.

The biggest attraction of the equipment movie was the new John Deere No. 1 one row mounted cotton picker. The movie explained the operation of the machine and showed
