Barefoot Child Is Badly Burned

News has reached Benson of the serious accident which befell the six-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sherwood Barefoot of Greensboro last week, resulting in severe burns over a major area of the right side of her body. The little girl went alone to the attic of her home in search of a toy, and not finding it immediately struck a match from which her dungarees caught fire. As is usual she was panic stricken and started running and screaming down the stairs. Fortunately her ten-year-old brother was at the foot of the stairs and caught her, rolling her on the floor according to instructions he had remembered, and put out the fire. Notwithstanding, the little girl was severely burned and is a patient in a Greensboro hospital where she is expected to remain for several days, perhaps weeks.

Dr. Barefoot, a native of Benson, is a brother of School Principal W. J. Barefoot. Principal and Mrs. W. J. Barefoot spent the week end in Greensboro, with Dr. Barefoot's family returning home Sunday evening. Then on Tuesday when Billy Barefoot, student at the University of North Carolina, returned to school after a short holiday spent here with his parents, Principal and Mrs. Barefoot, Mrs. Barefoot motored with him to Greensboro to spend the remainder of the week end.

Tax Relief For All Groups Is Promised

WASHINGTON — Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey said last night the $1,200,000,000 tax relief proposed by the administration would be split about evenly between individuals and business firms.

His comment came after Democrats renewed their complaint that the administration's tax proposals are weighted in favor of business and wealthier taxpayers.

But Humphrey insisted in a radio interview that the program would provide a reduction of about 600 million dollars for individuals. The program calls for selective tax cuts for particular groups and classes of taxpayers.

"All other tax benefits" under the program, Humphrey said, would amount to another 600 million. Most of this relief would go to business concerns.

MARTIN TESTIFIES — Chairman William Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board admitted under Democratic questioning at a hearing of the House-Senate economic committee yesterday that he thought it wiser in the interest of economic stability to grant tax relief to business rather than individuals.

He pointed out that individuals received a 10 per cent cut in income taxes on Jan. 1. He said he thought it more important now to give business an incentive to expand.

Some of the tax proposals already approved by the House Ways and Means Committee have been criticized by Democrats as favoring big taxpayers and business. These include a measure liberalizing business depreciation allowances and another providing tax reductions on corporation stock dividends.

Harnett GOP Will Convene

Chairman J. O. West of Dunn today called a meeting of Harnett Republicans for Thursday afternoon, February 25th at 3 o'clock in the county courthouse at Lillington.

West said the convention will be held for the purpose of electing a chairman, naming delegates to the State Republican Convention and to begin laying the groundwork for the coming county and State elections.

PRECINCT MEETINGS — He said he was notifying various precinct chairmen to call precinct meetings one week prior to the county convention.

Mr. West has served as Republican Chairman in Harnett for more than a decade and his re-election is expected.

He said there would be no speeches at the convention, that it will be devoted to business matters only.

Double Bigamy Disclosed Here

John Wesley Phillips, Dunn Negro, was hauled into Recorder's Court today for assaulting Garland Evans, but during the trial it was learned that Phillips is a bigamist and to complicate the case, it was learned that his wife is also a bigamist.

During examination of evidence in the case, Solicitor J. Sheppard Bryan brought out that both Phillips and his wife had been married before. On carrying the case further it was learned that neither had ever obtained a divorce.

Under N. C. law, the second marriage would be legal. Judge H. Paul Strickland told the couple there would be but one way to straighten the matter out—divorce their legal husband and wife, and marry again.

The judge told Phillips that Solicitor Bryan would keep the case open and if he did not take steps to get a divorce, he would be indicted for bigamy.

On the charge of assault, which by this time had been clouded with the bigamy charge, Phillips was given 60 days in jail, suspended for two years, on payment of $10 and cost of court.

Boy Gets

said she did not know her daughter had had sexual relations with Dixon.

Judge Strickland told the mother that she should take the girl home and give her a "good spanking or something," adding that the youth might be charged with carnal knowledge if the mother wished to press charges.

The mother, who appeared shocked at the revelation of her daughter's illegal love affair, told the judge the daughter would be punished. However, she did not indicate that any charges would be brought against the youth.

In his testimony, Dixon first told the court that he slapped the Ferguson girl because she didn't do something for him. Asked to explain, he said that she had promised to spend the night with him, but couldn't because her younger sister was following her. At that point in the trial, Dixon admitted that he had been carrying on an affair with the minor child since 1952.

Marlon Brando

Persons who worked with Brando before Christmas on the filming of the movie "Waterfront" in Hoboken, N. J., said he showed signs of a nervous breakdown at that time and made numerous visits to a New York psychiatrist.

Brando reported to the 20th Century-Fox studio in Hollywood two weeks ago to begin work on the Cinemascope epic, "The Egyptian," based on Mika Waltari's bestselling novel. He walked off the set without explanation last week and flew to New York. His only "baggage" was a tooth brush.

A studio spokesman said they had received a telegram from Brando's psychiatrist describing him as a "very sick and mentally confined boy."

Brando has been considered eccentric even by Broadway and Hollywood standards. He preferred slovenly clothes, a motorcycle, third-rate bars, a pet raccoon, and African drums to the customary garb, travel, haunts, pets and hobbies of theater personalities.
