News Shorts

NEW ORLEANS — Thousands of free-wheeling tourists kept the French Quarter cash registers jingling today as this lusty old city's famed Mardi Gras season roared toward its flaming climax with fantastic parades, exclusive balls and restless pageantry.

WASHINGTON — Roderick J. Wilson, one of the "accusers" of Chief Justice Earl Warren, was arrested by metropolitan police today in the Senate Judiciary Committee room for subornation of perjury after he testified on the former California governor's nomination.

CHICAGO — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today expressed opposition to any wage increases for members of the 15 non-operating railroad unions.

WILKES - Barre, Pa. — Many terrified residents of this mining community remained away from their damaged homes today, fearing further earth shifts similar to surface upheavals which struck twice this week and caused more than one million dollars damage.

More than 100 persons were routed from their beds Tuesday night as the earth in the Old River Road section began to buckle upwards, cracking the walls of homes and pushing sidewalks and streets a foot in the air.

CANTLE HAYNE, N. C. — Thomas L. Hamilton, ailing and repentant former imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, was released from prison today.

Papers directing his release were received by prison camp officials here this morning and Hamilton was freed immediately on parole. However he did not at once leave the camp, located six miles north of Wilmington.

WASHINGTON — A Marine aviator said today that 75 to 80 per cent of his fellow flyers imprisoned by the Communists in Korea had been instructed to tell their captors everything they knew. The flyer, Maj. Walter R. Harris, testified in a Marine court of inquiry into false germ warfare confession signed and later repudiated by Col. Frank H. Schwabe.

LONDON — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today that the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Berlin was "well worth while" even though it was "frustrating, disappointing and at times near tragedy."

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. — A medical examiner's report said today there was "no trace of cancer" in the body of Thomas J. Cannon, who was shot to death by his wife in what she described as a mercy killing. Mrs. Cannon, 54, now under observation in the psychiatric ward of a hospital, told police Monday night that her husband told her "I've got cancer" and begged her to shoot him. She fired a pistol bullet into his brain and then wounded herself.
