

INVITE IKE TO JEWISH TRICENTENARY

PRESIDENT DWIGHT J. EISENHOWER receives a silver medal, struck 50 years ago, from Ralph E. Samuel of New York, chairman of the American Jewish Tercentenary Committee. The President was invited to a dinner to be held in New York on Sept. 12 to mark the 300th anniversary of Jewish participation in American life. New York Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Nathan Jr., member of the delegation attending the White House ceremony, is a descendant of one of the first 23 Jews who settled in Manhattan. (International Soundphoto)

News From Around The World

'Self-Employed'

CITIZEN Harry S. Truman, who now carries a Social Security card as a self-employed "writer, lecturer and farmer," totes his own bag as he arrives in New York to appear on a television program. The former President sponsored the amendment covering self-employed persons. (International)
