LIKE DEPLORES DISSENSION IN PARTY

TO SPEAK TO SCOUTS — Mrs. Lunette Barber, of the education division of the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, (pictured) will be guest speaker at the Harnett County Scouters' Roundtable Tuesday evening, March 16, at 7:30 at St. Stephen's Parish House in Erwin.

Charles Hildreth, District Commissioner, will preside at the meeting. W. E. Boykin, County Scout Commissioner, will also speak. He will discuss the part of national conservation in the scouting program.

McCarthy Most Sought After As A Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — However President Eisenhower may view it, some of the top planners of Republican strategy in this election year regard Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy as a valuable campaign asset.

They place his strength largely in the Midwest, plus Connecticut and Massachusetts in the East and, perhaps in California.

There is every evidence of hope that McCarthy will have a big role in this year's congressional election campaign. He is receiving now more speaking invitations than any other senator.

A considerable number of McCarthy's Republican colleagues don't like him and a few of them say so publicly. Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.) spanked McCarthy in his absence from the Senate floor Tuesday in a semi-humorous speech. Flanders wondered out loud whether McCarthy was in secret cahoots with the Democrats to do the Republicans in. Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) rose to congratulate Flanders on his speech.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) led an anti-McCarthy movement four years ago, joining with six other Republicans in a "declaration of conscience" denouncing McCarthy's tactics and charging certain party element sought to hide its political victory by exploitation of fear, bigotry, ignorance and intolerance.

PLAYED BY FLANDERS — In contrast with this angry statement Flanders ridiculed McCarthy efforts against Communism inside the United States which he said merely distracted attention from the dangers of Communist attacks from without.

"It does not seem that his Republican label can be stuck very tightly," Flanders said, "when by intention or through ignorance he is doing his best to shatter that party whose label he bears."

Mr. Eisenhower's precise attitude toward McCarthy can only be a matter of speculation since he has avoided any direct personal reference to the senator on the occasions when he has, nevertheless, uttered unmistakable repudiations of some of his activities. Some of the President's top advisers believe he never will assail McCarthy directly, by name.

That may be wishful thinking because these same party strategists unhesitatingly desire McCarthy's campaign assistance this year.

Benson Favors Spending Only When True Value Is Received

CANDIDATE — Bill Ivey, shown here, well-known farmer and trucker of Dunn, Route 3, has filed for the office of Constable in Averasboro Township. He is a native of Harnett and a veteran of World War II. He is the fourth candidate to enter the hotly-contested race. Other candidates are: Lonnie B. Jackson, George Arthur Jackson and Charles Autry. (Daily Record Photo.)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today the administration is prepared to spend "substantial sums of public money" to aid agriculture if value is received.

However, Benson said the present rigid high price farm support law has been "very costly" to the government without maintaining farm prices at desired levels.

Benson testified before the House Agriculture Committee as the administration opened its drive for flexible price supports.

In the Senate, Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) challenged the administration to an early showdown on high vs. flexible supports. He predicted the administration will be beaten.

SUPPORTS EXPIRE DEC. 31

The current rigid supports on the six basic crops expire next Dec. 31. The administration would permit the high supports to die and be replaced by laws of 1948 and 1949 which set up a system of flexible price supports.

"There is no disinclination on the part of this administration," Benson said, "to spend substantial sums of public money in order to aid agriculture if value is received for such expenditures."

There is a chance that Ellender's challenge might not be met, although the administration's farm spokesman in the Senate, Chairman George D. Aiken of the Agriculture Committee, said he is confident it will.

Says U. S. Not To Interfere In Indo-China

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today deplored internal warfare within the Republican Party he heads as endangering the basic program of its administration.

He gave his support to Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.) who said in a Senate speech yesterday that Sen. Joseph McCarthy was trying to "shatter" the party by going his own way "by intention or through ignorance."

The President emphasized that he did not necessarily underwrite every word of the speech—which was highly critical of McCarthy—but he said he thought Flanders performed a public service in calling attention to the grave error of attempting to split the party.

WONT GET INVOLVED

The chief executive also told a crowded news conference that the United States will not get directly involved in the Indochina war between the French and Communist rebels unless Congress declares war, and that he will make a radio-TV address on his tax program next week, at a date not set.

The President previously has expressed opposition to Republican-sponsored excise tax cuts and to other tax reductions at this time which would be in addition to those in the administration's revision program.

Other news conference highlights generally involving the controversy over the junior senator from Wisconsin:

RAPS ADLAI SPEECH

1. The President dismissed as nonsense the assertion by Adlai E. Stevenson that the Republican Party is now one-half McCarthy, one-half Eisenhower.

He thought the radio and television networks had discharged their responsibility of fairness in Nixon time in which to reply to Stevenson. McCarthy has demanded time for himself, personally.

3. The President said he saw no need for any other GOP speaker on a national basis to reply to Stevenson, and expressed great confidence in Nixon's ability to state the facts.

Asked how he felt about Flanders' speech in the Senate yesterday, he said he had thought about it on (Continued On Page Two)

MRS. LOUISE STRICKLAND RECOVERS HER 345 TOOTH The next time you lose one of your false teeth, don't bother to call a dentist. Try the Black River Mattress Company first. It's a lot cheaper.

Mrs. Herman Strickland of Dunn will vouch for that. A week or so ago, Mrs. Strickland was sitting on her sofa and her false tooth fell out. She looked and looked but couldn't find it. She was certain it was somewhere in the sofa.

"I guess you'll think this is funny," she said when she called the mattress company, "but I want you to send somebody out to my house to help me find my tooth." She figured they might have to take the sofa apart.

S. C. Faircloth, employee of the company, promptly went out and started diving around in the sofa. He misunderstood Mrs. Strickland and was looking for a whole plate instead of just one tooth. In a few minutes he pulled out something that looked like a dead spider and started to throw it away. "Wait a minute," protested Mrs. (Continued On Page Six)

Wade Nordon Gets 5-7 Years In Pen

Wade Nordon, 35, former Dunn resident, was given from five to seven years in state prison by Judge Malcolm O. Paul of Washington, N. C. in Johnston Superior Court.

The Dunn man was sentenced for breaking and entering Parish Motor Company near Benson in December, 1952, larceny of a safe containing a large amount of money, and conspiracy with five other men to break and enter larceny.

Nordon gave his address as Pim Level, but has been in Dunn off and on during the past six months. Judge Paul gave Nordon five to seven years on the breaking and entering charge and two to four years each on the other two counts, the three sentences to run concurrently. He gave notice of appeal and was ordered to post a $5,000 bond for appearance and a $100 appeal bond.

House Expected To Cut Excise Tax By Billion

By UNITED PRESS

The House was expected to give enthusiastic approval today to a one billion dollar slash in federal excise taxes despite White House disapproval.

The measure—backed by both Democratic and Republican leaders—would which present levies on jewelry, furs, movie tickets, telephone tolls and other items to 10 per cent effective April 1.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey are opposed to any cuts in excise — or sales — taxes at this time. They say the government can't afford the revenue loss.

The bill, however, does include an administration recommendation for extension of the present excise rate on liquor, beer, wines, cigarettes, gasoline and automobiles past their scheduled April 1 reduction date.

Extension of these taxes would save the government a revenue loss of $1,070,000,000 a year and would somewhat more than offset the loss which would result (Continued on page two)

Bridge Tourney Here Friday Night

The Junior Woman's Club will sponsor their annual spring bridge and canasta tournament on Friday evening at 8:00 in the club rooms at the Woman's Club house.

Much enthusiasm has been shown in the past years and the club women are expecting even a larger number of table reservations for this tournament. The cost is five per person or $3 for one table and the proceeds will be used to purchase new draperies for the club house.

The club women will provide refreshments for the affair and a number of prizes will be awarded to winners in both canasta and bridge. Players are requested to bring their own playing cards.

Those wishing to make reservations may call either Mrs. Ted Burrell at 4066 or Mrs. Floyd Furr at 3275 or any member of the Junior Woman's Club.

New Version Of FEPC Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor Committee today approved a bill to prohibit discrimination in employment because of race, religion or national origin.

The measure was approved by voice vote with only Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.) specifically recorded in opposition. Other members reserved the right to support amendments, however, if and when the bill comes before the Senate.

Although it does not bear the label "Fair Employment Practices Commission," the bill is the current version of that controversial legislation, long bitterly resisted by Southern Democrats.

Death Of Actress Blamed On Scandal

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Diane Wells' attorney said today he was convinced she took her own life because of the scandal that had brushed her name and not because she was guilty of slaying her millionaire husband.

She was found dead in an overdose of sleeping pills in a Hollywood hotel yesterday. She was scheduled to stand trial for the murder of her husband, Cecil Wells, in Fairbanks, Alaska, in less than a month.

The 31-year-old woman had been indicted for the 1953 murder along with Negro jazz drummer Johnny Warren, who said he had an affair with the slender blonde. She denied it. Both denied the murder.

Warren, who is in Seattle, Wash., pending his April 4 trial date in Fairbanks, refused to comment on Mrs. Wells' suicide.

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration said today it believes it has put a halt to big-time "butterlegging." Butterlegging, in the parlance of FDA inspectors, is peddling a mixture of butter and oleomargarine, or even plain oleo, as butter. It has been a lucrative racket for a few unscrupulous dealers because butter retails for more than twice as much as oleo.
