

Storm Warnings Are Issued In Southeast Area

By UNITED PRESS

Tornado warnings were issued today for portions of the Southeast and the Ohio Valley as a cold front which spawned 14 small twisters in the Southwest marched eastward.

Weather forecasters warned of possible tornadoes until 5 p. m. EST for a 60-mile-wide path between Greenwood, Miss., and Nashville, Tenn., and from Evansville, Ind., to Cleveland, O.

Widespread rain fell from east Texas to the Great Lakes and Middle Atlantic states.

HEAVY SNOW FALLS
Heavy snow fell from the Sierra Nevada range to the northern Rockies, with Billings, Mont., reporting 9 inches, and snow and sleet fell from the Northern Rockies to Minnesota.

An intense storm cutting through the Midwest was centered over eastern Iowa and caused high winds through much of the area.

CHICAGO DELUGED
Chicago was deluged by a spectacular thunderstorm which flooded basements and underpasses and totaled 2.30 inches in Cleveland Heights, a Cleveland suburb, a fish apparently washed up from a lake was caught swimming in a gutter.

Fourteen tornadoes in the Southwest left a scattered pattern of property damage and at least one dead.

Nine of the twisters Wednesday struck or were sighted in Oklahoma and the other five in north central Texas as high winds, hail and thunderstorms lashed those areas. No major injuries were reported from the twisters and some of which did not touch the ground. Scattered estimates of property damage did not appear extremely high.

One man, George D. Franklin, was killed south of Denton, Tex., but police said high winds, rather than a tornado, were responsible. He was crushed by a wooden fence that blew over as he tried to brace it against the wind.

SPORTS SHORTS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Charley Norkus, awkward heavyweight slugger from Jersey City, was somewhat miffed today because he had failed to score a single knockdown while belting Danny Nardico back into the light heavyweight ranks. "I hit him some good shots, but he just wouldn't go down," said bull-shouldered Charley, describing in a mouthful his bruising but bounceless return TV bout with Nardico of Tampa, Fla., before a record auditorium crowd of 4,059 Wednesday night.

JACKSON, Miss. — Frank Kovacs, the 34-year-old "clown prince" of tennis, will replace the 38-year-old Don Budge on the Jack Kramer professional tennis tour next Sunday. Budge, who has won only one of the 53 matches he's played on the tour, will make his final big-time professional clay courts champion, will take over Budge's spot in the singles competition for the first time Sunday at El Paso, Tex.

WILMINGTON — Defending Amateur Open Golf champion Jerry Barber doesn't think his 1953 winning score will be good enough to bring top money when the 1953 tournament opens here Friday. The Laguna, Calif., professional registered for the tournament yesterday, fired a practice round of 71 over the Cape Fear Country Club Course and then predicted, "someone will do better on it this year, 71 or 72, maybe."

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Top-seeded Vic Seixas of Philadelphia flashes with U. S. indoor champion Sven Davidson of Sweden today in the featured match of the quarter-final round of the sixth annual Good Neighbor Tennis Tournament. Seixas, the 1953 Wimbledon champion, has yet to approach his best game in this tournament but observers predicted he would have to find his touch to oust Davidson, who holds the Swedish championship as well as the American indoor title.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. — The American Seniors Gold Assn. champion moves into its quarter-final round today with defending champion Tom Robbins pitted against Bob Wigate in the feature match. Robbins, from Larchmont, N. Y., is tournament medalist and won yesterday over Judge Lloyd Beatty of Glen Ridge, N. J., 7 and 6.

ATLANTA — A Negro rookie hit a grand slam homer in the bottom of the 10th inning to give White of the Texas League a 15-21 win over Atlanta of the Southern Association. The explosive blow of shortstop Roy Williams broke up the ball game at Downey, Ga., and gave the event ten billings of the Southern Association's far-flung exhibition activities last night.

SYRACUSE — A 13-match schedule including the Atlantic Coast Conference and Southern Division, was announced today by the Syracuse University basketball team.

Ellis Will Present Campbell Concert

John Ellis, nationally known pianist and son of Dr. J. A. Ellis, Raleigh Baptist pastor and former pastor of the Dunn First Baptist Church, will give a piano recital at Campbell College on Tuesday evening, March 30, at 8 p. m., it was announced by S. David Smith, director of the music department at Camubell.

The recital will be open to the public and will be held at D. Rich Auditorium at the school at Bule's Creek.

Born in Raleigh and brought up in Sherman, Texas, where he received his early musical training, Mr. Ellis is now in his fourth year as a member of the teaching staff of the famed Juilliard school of music in New York City.

He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and a veteran of the second world war.

His program to be presented at the Campbell recital will include such pieces as the Rhapsody in E flat major, Op 119, No. 5 by Brahms; the Sonata in D Major, Op. 28 ("Pastoral") by Beethoven; Nocturne in C Sharp Minor, Op 27 No. 1 by Chopin and Ballade in F Major, Op 28 by Chopin, Three Preludes by Debussy and Sonatine by Ravel.

State's Income
(Continued from page one) last month directed the Budget bureau to tighten up on state spending by departments, bureau and divisions. The 1953 General Assembly based the budget for this fiscal year on estimates that income tax collections for the year would increase by $4,286,203. The actual increase to date, contained in Shaw's report to the governor, has been only $449,360.

Unstead earlier had expressed concern about the slump in tax receipts which he said may cause a more severe strain on state finances in the second year of the biennium than this year. The governor, making the disclosures at his news conference, said this year was the first since 1949 that tax receipts will fall to reach budget estimates.

Roberts Must Support Wife

Odus Roberts, Dunn white man, was told today in Recorder Court that he must either support his wife or go to jail.

Roberts was hauled into court after he got more than $200 behind in payments he was supposed to make to his wife who had him charged with non support in Dunn some time ago.

Judge H. Paul Strickland told Roberts he could stay out of jail by paying $100 to his wife today, $48 to the court for sending to Virginia to get him, and by putting up a $500 bond for his appearance later to report on the payments.

Strickland further ordered Roberts to increase weekly payments to his wife and family to $25 a week until he gets up to date on back funds due. After that, the payments will be reduced to $15 a week, the Judge stated.

Haymes Defies Federal Order

NEW YORK — Jobless, debt-ridden crooner Dick Haymes walked today for the Argentine government to decide whether he can travel abroad as a citizen of the South American country where he was born.

Haymes flew to Washington Wednesday with his attorney, Bartley Crum, and spent an hour closed with Argentine Ambassador Hipolito Paz. Embassy officials said later he had applied for a passport.

The singer returned to New York and his actress-wife Rita Hayworth after ducking questions by reporters about how the application for a passport fitted into his plans to fight a deportation order issued against him Tuesday by the U. S. government.

CLAIMS NO WORRIES
Haymes did not say whether he planned to leave the country while his appeal of the deportation order is being considered. But he commented "I haven't a worry in the world."

He added that he thought the United States "hasn't got a chance of kicking me out."

Haymes was ordered deported on the ground he claimed Argentine citizenship to obtain U. S. draft deferments during World War II, and by leaving the country to visit Miss Hayworth in Hawaii last year he forfeited his right to return.

THE SILVER-THROATED WOO

pours his heart out to the retailer and forgets about the customer

The Woo is a manufacturer who thinks his fate is in the hands of retailers alone.

He pours out his heart and gold and prizes to storekeepers—then has nothing left to woo the shopper—the one who buys his product.

Naturally the importance of newspaper advertising escapes him, just as his customers do.

Fortunately the Woo is a rare creature. Most manufacturers know that it's smart to woo the storekeepers—but even smarter to win the consumer's lasting love!

So the wise manufacturer does just what the storekeeper himself does—he advertises in newspapers.

Which is plain common sense, because practically everybody in town reads the newspaper . . . relies on it for shopping help.

No wonder advertisers throughout the nation spent a record-breaking $2,655,500,000* in newspapers last year—twice as much as in any other medium!

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers!
