SAN JUAN, P. R. — A federal court jury today hears additional testimony of alleged defective construction in the low-cost housing projects erected under the FHA program in Puerto Rico by Leonard D. Long of South Carolina. Defense attorneys sought vainly yesterday to block admission as evidence of photographs and samples of building materials submitted by a special FBI investigator to support the prosecution contention that construction was substandard.

NEW YORK — Concerning Poison Ivy, science still has no easy, sure-fire way of preventing people from being poisoned by it.

At the beginning of a new poison ivy season, I asked the top scientific double-domes and multi-million dollar research laboratories what progress, if any, has been made since last season. "Like the common cold, poison ivy still has us licked," said one director of scientific research. "Come back next year."

RALEIGH — Gov. William B. Umstead and Atty. Gen. Harry McMillan today considered invitations to two proposed conferences on problems arising from the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools. Umstead received a telegram yesterday from Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia inviting him to a meeting in Richmond in early June.

CHICAGO — A doctor today said that flowers, candlelight and wine are as good for the digestion as they are for romance. Dr. Frederic T. Jung, writing in a magazine of the American Medical Assn., said he "has been made at the dinner table is good for digestion and advised that fun while you are eating should be a must at the table."

TAIPEH, Formosa — Authoritative Nationalist sources said today they believed a Communist attempt to storm vital Tachen Island north of Formosa has been stalled and expressed confidence reinforced defenses would hold. Major credit for beating back the attack temporarily, the tightening Red noose around the northern outpost of this Nationalist bastion went to a heroic band of young air force pilots who badly battered Communist sea power in the area.

RALEIGH — Seventy-four candidates for N. C. State College's new "Talent for Service" scholarships arrived here today for two days of final tests and interviews. They were chosen by local and district committees who have been screening hundreds of applicants since early this spring.

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department today offered for sale its huge surplus stocks of corn, barley, oats and rye for export at cut-rate prices sharply below U. S. levels. Department spokesmen said the new export program for feed grains — which goes into effect this afternoon — is expected to open "new outlets" for government stocks by boosting commercial exports. The government will lose money on the program since it will sell the grains at world market prices which are less than it paid for them under the price support law.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — The AFL International Typographical Union reported today unofficial returns so far have given President Woodruff Randolph 11,280 votes to 10,205 for George Bante, Chicago candidate trying to unseat him. Randolph has been ITU chief since 1944.

WASHINGTON — The Air Force, in a change of plans, announced today that all ROTC graduates this spring will receive commissions through an arrangement with the Air National Guard. The Air Force last fall announced that only ROTC graduates volunteering and qualifying for flight training would receive commissions. The remainder would receive their commissions only after two years in an enlisted status.

SEOUL, Korea — President Syngman Rhee lost a test of strength on South Korea's domestic affairs today. Official returns from 180 of 230 districts showed that candidates backed by Rhee won only 75 assembly seats in Tuesday's elections and led in 10 others. Opposition candidates won 67 seats and were ahead in 28 other races.

DUBLIN, Ireland — Ireland speculated today on the political future of Eamon De Valera, premier for 19 of the past 22 years whose party was defeated in Wednesday's general elections. De Valera conceded defeat last night and it appeared certain John A. Costello would be named premier as leader of the coalition whose victory ended an epoch in Irish history. Parliament meets June 2 to choose De Valera's successor.

NEW YORK — Stocks climbed to new highs in all major groups in early trading today, with a few issues providing special interest. General Electric soared 2 1/2 points to 118 when directors declared a dividend of 40 cents a share on the new common to result from the three-for-one stock split — equivalent to an increase of 20 cents a share.

WASHINGTON — The Communist Romanian legation was caught recently operating an illegal radio transmitter here. State Department officials said today. The department immediately ordered the broadcasting be stopped. The Romanians complied. Officials said they did not know where the Romanians were beaming their broadcasts but they assumed the legation was trying to contact Romania.

LE HARVE, France — Emperor Haile Selassie sailed today for New York aboard the liner United States.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. — A coal mine fire, raging 1,000 feet underground, today threatened to touch off a natural gas pocket. It was feared. Purcell said that the fire had ignited a coal seam and was eating its way toward the natural gas pocket in the vicinity. The fire started Wednesday night in the Snow Hill coal mine when two cars collided, breaking a 2,300-volt power line and igniting nearby timbers. Purcell said 34 miners were caught in the shaft but fled three miles through dark tunnels to a 400-foot escape hatch ladder.

WASHINGTON — The National Geographic Society today announced that it will send a team of scientists to study the Mississippi River. The team will be led by Dr. Frank Gill, a natural gas expert. It was feared. Purcell said that the fire had ignited a coal seam and was eating its way toward the natural gas pocket in the vicinity. The fire started Wednesday night in the Snow Hill coal mine when two cars collided, breaking a 2,300-volt power line and igniting nearby timbers. delivered and placed on old meter poles.

At the May 6 meeting, City Manager A. B. Uzzle has heard that the Duncan Meter Company made a lower bid than offered here, in New Bern. However, New Bern did not purchase the meters.

Tompkins appeared at the meeting last night to again point out that his meter is one of the most automatic now in use. He cited contracts which the company has with a number of other cities, including Monroe, N. C., and told the Board that they are being offered the same type of terms.

Following considerable discussion, the Board voted to have City Manager Uzzle obtain prices from a number of companies and report at the June 3 meeting. No action was taken.

Little Things

alled Williamsburg, Va. last week while in Richmond to visit her daughter, Martha. She came back home and found a house full of company. Mrs. Washburn is a woman who knows how to entertain royally. You can now buy canteloupes in the Dunn stores. Forty-eight cents apiece. But they're good. Watermelons are cheaper this year than last.

Members of Miss Jane Williams' first grade can write unusually well. We received a letter from each of them. They're nice children.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS — The lobby of the Star Walker Hotel in Raleigh last night was a busy place. It always is. You can usually find out what's going on over the State by spending an hour there. On the night of the State Democratic Convention, it was busier than ever. Most of those gathered there were politicians.

men and women who eat, sleep, live and breathe politics. They can usually tell you which way the wind is blowing. All the big wheels were there. Former Governor Cherry, Congressman Bob Doughton, Congressman Carlyle, Former Congressman Monroe Redden and enough other big names to fill up the column. We asked Governor Cherry, who's really a grand fellow, if he was acceptable to the idea of Governor Umstead appointing him to the United States.

MOTHER DIES — Mrs. Ida E. Hopps, 79, wife of the late Willie Hopps of Clinton died early Wednesday night at a Fayetteville rest home. Mrs. Tallmaide Barefoot of Dunn is a daughter of Mrs. Hopps.

Uzzle Reports On Labor Costs

City Manager A. B. Uzzle reported this week that labor furnished by the Town of Dunn since November, 1953, for laying of sewer and water lines has totaled $10,807. In addition to labor, engineering for which the town was paid nothing, would have totaled $1,409.91, he added.

The labor was used in nine developments in Dunn where the town participated by furnishing labor to speed up the projects.

City Council has recently abandoned the idea of doing such services for residents and citizens of the area. The decision was made after considerable disagreement occurred over the charge made in street and water and sewer line work in the C. T. Latimer development.

Development recently completed by the town and the costs listed by City Manager Uzzle included: Jackson Heights: November, December, 1953—water and sewer materials, $3,222.14; labor and equipment, $2,531.50; Total $5,753.64.

Fleishman development: January, February, 1954—water and sewer materials, $6,481.06; labor and equipment by the town, $4,242. and labor by others, $85. Total $10,778.06.

Wellons development on Park Avenue: March, 1954—water and sewer materials, $243.62; labor and equipment, $399. Total $642.62.

L. Busbee-Pope development on Pearsall Street: water lines, March, 1954: materials, $2,400.96; labor and equipment, $311.50; Total, $2,712.46.

C. T. Latimer development on Joy Street: March, 1954: water lines: materials, $1,977.82; labor and equipment, $1,125. Total, $3,102.82.

Sanitary sewer: Cole Street from Fayetteville to King, and King Avenue to King, King Avenue to King Avenue: materials, $1,977.82; labor and equipment, $1,125. Total, $3,102.82.

In all projects, 1,614 feet of two inch water pipe was laid; 5,309 feet of six inch water pipe, for a total of 6,923 feet of water line.

Sewer lines include 284 feet of six inch pipe; 8,922 feet of eight inch pipe, for a total of 9,206 feet of sewer lines.

Total cost of the materials used in all projects was listed at $17,391.21 by City Manager Uzzle.

And He Only Received 43 Votes

JEFFERSON CITY, Tenn. (UP) — Bruce Holt reported he kissed 115 babies, walked 6,481 miles, shook 9,847 hands and spoke volumes during his unsuccessful campaign for Republican nomination as sheriff.

Holt placed an ad in the weekly paper to report on his futile activity. The ad also said: "I gave away two calves and five goats for barbecue. I gave away five pairs of suspenders, six ladies' dresses and 15 baby carriages."

"For prospective voters, I plowed 173 acres and spread 63 loads of barn yard fertilizer. I drew 94 buckets of water and put 14 kitchen stoves; kindled 47 fires."

"I lost two front teeth and some hair in a personal encounter with a supporter of an opponent I attended 38 revival meetings and sang in all the choirs. I made love to nine grass widows and got dog-bit 33 times."

"I want to thank my 43 friends, and they are friends, for casting their votes for me."
