Miss Strickland Becomes Bride Of Harold Jackson In Ceremony Wednesday

In the Old Bluff Presbyterian Church, church home of the bride's ancestors for three generations, Miss Annette Barnhardt Strickland became the bride of Mr. Harold Leon Jackson on Wednesday, June ninth, at half after five o'clock in a ceremony marked by dignity and simplicity.

The Reverend Richard Rhea Gammon of Dunn performed the double ring ceremony.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Eunice Graham, pianist, and Miss Sylvia Edwards, soloist, a cousin of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a cotton lace gown which she designed and fashioned. The princess-style gown featured short scalloped sleeves and a low-cut neckline which was outlined in scallops with tiny seed pearls. Her shoulder-length veil of imported French illusion was attached to a cap of cotton lace, featuring tiny lace flowers sprinkled with seed pearls and finished with sprays of orange blossoms.

The cap was hand made by a friend of the bride. She carried a bouquet of shasta daisies centered with gardenias gathered from the garden of the bride's late great-grandfather.

Miss Melba Strickland of Wade, only sister of the bride, was her sole attendant. She wore a yellow organdy cocktail-length dress and carried a bouquet of brown-eyed susans.

Serving as honorary bridesmaids were Miss Billie Oliver of Jefferson, college roommate of the bride; Miss Annabel Colvard of Jefferson and Miss Gloria Smith of Charlotte, both college friends of the bride; Betty Ann Brunton, of Mount Gilead, cousin of the bridegroom; and Miss Martha Strickland of Lakeland, Florida, cousin of the bride. Their informal-length dresses were of pastel shades and each carried a single, long stemmed, yellow carnation.

Daniel Webster Starling of Mount Gilead, an uncle of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Lawrence Paul Jackson of Dunn, brother of the groom; Guy Smith of Fayetteville and Thurman Godwin of Dunn, both brothers-in-law of the groom; and Roscoe Hales of Middlesex.

The mother of the bride wore a street-length gown of mauve crepe, complemented by a corsage of red roses. The grandmother of the bride wore a pink lace gown

Two Brothers Are Given Fine

Two brothers of Coats, Route 1, drew fines in Dunn Recorders Court, today for assaulting Conray Byrd, 17, also of Coats, after he was caught out with a girl to whom one of the defendants was engaged.

Wilson Carroll Barbour, charged with assault and damage to personal property, drew a 30-day sentence, suspended for two years on payment of $25 and court cost.

His brother, George Durwood Barbour, was given a 30 day sentence suspended for two years on payment of $50 and court cost, and payment of $5 and to Byrd, Barbour was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and inflicting serious bodily injuries.

Byrd testified that he passed the Barbour brothers on the car with Sherrill Bass, Dunn; and Shelton Barefoot, Dunn, and that they followed him from Erwin to Dunn.

With Byrd were Shirley Smith of Dunn; Leon McLamb, Coats, Route one; and Annette Faye Hodges.

Testimony indicated that George Durwood Barbour had been engaged to Shirley Smith, and that he saw her with Byrd and followed them.

The case took an odd twist when Judge Strickland told solicitor J. Shepard Bryan that he should draw a warrant against Barefoot who was driving the car on the night of the fight. However, after giving Barefoot a sound lecture, he was dismissed.

The Barbour brothers plead guilty to assault, but not with a deadly weapon. Byrd had alleged that George Durwood hit him with a blackjack. However, the Barbour brothers denied the use of anything but their fists.

In addition to testimony in the assault case, Officer Buddy Jackson added wood to the fire when he told the court that George Durwood has given the police trouble on other occasions. He said that he often comes to Dunn late at night and roams the streets.

Policeman Paul Stogsdill stated that George Durwood told him Byrd would "drop the charges, or I'll beat the hell out of him."

Byrd's father requested Judge Strickland to guarantee his son some protection in the future. He said he would be afraid for his son to go out at night. The Judge assured him that any further trouble from the Barbour and they would go to jail.

Lasater

(Continued From Page One) ther he would vote for or against Ammons, adding, "I haven't told anybody how I would vote this time."

Chairman Tart said today that he was under the impression that Lasater had "softened up" to some extent in his opposition to Ammons.

Ammons is regarded as one of the best county farm agents in the State and last year was honored at a national meeting of farm agents as one of the outstanding agents in the South.

Last year, Lasater made a motion that the office of county agent be declared vacant, but failed to receive a second to his motion. He then made a motion that Ammons be replaced. That motion also died for lack of a second.

A special meeting was held on June 11, attended by a large delegation from all sections of the county, and Ammons was reappointed.

Commissioners voted secretly on the appointment, but it was learned that Chairman Tart, Worth Lee Byrd and R. L. Mangum voted for Ammons and Commissioners Lasater and Ingram voted against Ammons.

Chairman Tart said today that under the law the board could act on the appointments anytime during the month of June. However, this is the first time that the appointment was not brought up for action at the first meeting in June.

Prominent farm spokesman said today they are ready to stage another mass meeting, if necessary, to convince the county board that farmers of the county favor retention of Ammons.

In opposing Ammons last time, Commissioner Lasater argued that farmers of the county had not received the instruction in agricultural practices that they should

The bridegroom's mother wore a pink gown of lace with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses, also.

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom received guests in the vestibule of the church. They left shortly after the ceremony for a wedding trip.

Mrs. Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lee Strickland of Wade, is a graduate of Central High School and a 1953 graduate of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. She is currently serving on the staff of the Wilson County Welfare Department.

Mr. Jackson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee Jackson of Dunn. He is also a graduate of Central High School and is at present a student at East Carolina College.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will be at home temporarily at 712 Broad Street, Wilson, North Carolina.

New-Fair Deal Civil Rights Program Blamed For Ruling

Jernigan Insurance Trials Are Delayed

Trial of the Houston Jernigan cases, set for Thursday morning in Harnett Superior Court, was postponed by Judge Joseph J. Parker until the October term of court.

Mrs. Alberta Jernigan of Dunn as fair trial in Harnett as in any other county.

INSISTS ON TRIAL Duncan C. Wilson, chief counsel for Mrs. Jernigan, objected to the delay and insisted on immediate trial, but Judge Parker admonished him and declared, "I've never known of an important civil case being tried within five months of its institution and sometimes it takes a year or two." The suits were not brought until last December.

Insurance company attorneys claimed they could not receive a fair trial in Harnett because of widespread publicity given the cases in the county.

Judge Parker observed that the case has received state-wide publicity and pointed out that, "Even in my home county of Bertie many people hold differences of opinion about this case."

He expressed belief that the insurance company could receive justice.

Bryan said the continuance would enable him to proceed with bankruptcy action.

Roosevelts Declare Truce In "Scandal"

LOS ANGELES (U) — James Roosevelt's sensational legal battle with his estranged wife neared a possible settlement today on the heels of his resounding California primary victory for Congress.

Both sides declared a "scandal truce" yesterday by calling off anticipated court action.

The actions came shortly after the late president's balding eldest son, on a landslide victory in his bid for the Democratic nomination in the 26th Congressional District.

NO COMMENT The peace truce was painted towards an amicable property settlement and a quiet divorce but neither Roosevelt nor his estranged wife, Rosalind, would say whether they had anything to do with his political triumph.

Called off were Roosevelt's filing of an answer to his wife's separate maintenance suit and his deposition on her charges of adultery.

Court observers said a step such as yesterday's usually is taken in divorce cases when negotiations are in progress between attorneys for the principals in an effort to reach an out-of-court settlement.

The infidelity charges involved so-called "kiss-and-tell" letters in which Roosevelt admitted being intimate with nine women and promised his wife half of his share of their community property, plus 50 per cent of his earnings for the rest of her life, in return for a reconciliation.

Some political observers said today the news would have little effect in the sheriff's race, that while some might vote against Lasater for opposing Ammons others might vote for him because of it.

RICHMOND, Va. (U) — Gov. Robert F. Kennon blamed the "Roosevelt-Truman civil rights program" for the Supreme Court's antisegregation ruling.

Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia, who suggested the meeting shortly after the May 17 high court school segregation decision, was named chairman of today's conference on motion of Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, one of the South's leading pro-segregationists.

Kennon told reporters that his state Louisiana, has a good local system of separate schools which he hopes will continue to be improved.

The "Roosevelt - Truman civil rights program" resulted in the Supreme Court's recent action, he said. He added that Louisiana Democrats are more in line with the Eisenhower Republicans than with their own party.

The Democrats won the 1952 presidential count in Louisiana by 38-102 votes. States Righters took the state in 1948 when Harry S. Truman was elected president.

Acting Gov. Charley E. Johns of Florida made an effort to have today's meeting thrown open to the press and public. Kennon, who opposed that step, said delegates would speak more freely on the segregation issue without the scrutiny of television cameras and the 150 newsmen present.

Governors or their representatives from 16 of the 17 states now practicing compulsory school segregation responded to Stanley's invitation to meet for a discussion of the South's biggest "social" problem since Reconstruction days.

NEW YORK (U) — A new drug is challenging the supremacy of rabbits, mice, frogs, and toads in providing quick answers to the question which women, at one time or another, want answered quickly.

Tests with the drug in 241 women who had reason to suspect they were pregnant turned out to be accurate in all except four cases. It was announced today, as the drug was made available to the medical profession at large.

UNDERGOES OPERATION — Miss Shirley Cannady of Roseboro, formerly of Lillington, underwent a spinal operation at Highsmith Hospital in Fayetteville Tuesday.

She is reported to be getting along nicely. Miss Cannady is the sister of Mrs. D. B. Griffin of Bunnlevel.
