Senator Smith Is Winner In Maine Election

PORTLAND, Me. (AP)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, ardent foe of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, won a thumping 5 to 1 victory over one of his outspoken admirers in the Maine primary, virtually complete returns showed today.

Returns from all but six of the state's 626 precincts gave Mrs. Smith 96,197 votes, compared with 20,239 received by Robert L. Jones, staunch McCarthy supporter, for the GOP Senate nomination.

In Washington the White House said President Eisenhower was "highly pleased" with the primary results.

"The President has great admiration for Senator Smith and was highly pleased by the results," a spokesman said.

Nomination is tantamount to election in this strongly Republican state. Mrs. Smith will oppose Democrat Paul A. Fullam, Colby College history professor, in the November election.

The primary yesterday was regarded by many political observers as a test of McCarthy's popularity.

Senator Smith declined to attribute her victory to the McCarthy issue after it became apparent that she had won. She said she "wanted some time to evaluate the returns."

Two Injured In Accident Near Lillington

One person was killed and two others were injured, one of them seriously, in an automobile accident early this afternoon near the Lillington-Angier intersection on Highway 421.

Palton (Pattie) Darroch, about 33, of Lillington, Route 2, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Dunn Hospital.

Doyce Ausley, about 35, of Lillington was admitted to the hospital with serious back injuries.

Will Roger Arnold, about 35, of Lillington, was treated by Dr. J. K. Williford at his office in Lillington.

Arnold was one of the men involved in the robbery of the First Citizens Bank at Angier two years ago and he recently completed a prison term for the crime.

State Patrolman R. E. Leonard, Rural Policeman Wade Stewart and Coroner Grover C. Henderson investigated the fatality.

RIDING IN THE SAME CAR - The accident occurred about 1 o'clock when the 1953 Oldsmobile in which the three men were injured crashed.

It was not determined immediately who was driving the car or how the crash occurred.

It was understood that Darroch's body was thrown out of the car and Ausley was pinned underneath the vehicle.

Ausley is a brother of Sam H. Ausley of Dunn and a son of S. H. Ausley, Sr. of Lillington.

Other details were not available immediately. Coroner Henderson was still investigating.

Blonde Held, Lover Sought In Shooting

BOSTON (AP)—An attractive blonde was arrested today as police sought her gangster boy friend, believed wounded and in hiding after an underworld shooting spree.

Helen P. Poskus, 28, who police said had been living with Joseph J. (Specs) O'Keefe, a principal suspect in the $1,219,000. Brink's robbery, was seized at her South Boston home.

She was booked on an accessory charge in connection with a gun battle last Wednesday during which O'Keefe was reported machine-gunned. Authorities widened their hunt for O'Keefe despite hints from underworld sources that he would surrender voluntarily under "certain conditions."

PROFESSIONAL KILLER

O'Keefe was fired at by two men, one of whom was Elmer (Trigger) Burke, a New York gunman described by police as a "professional" killer.

John H. Carlson, 29-year-old pal of O'Keefe, was picked up for questioning after the pre-dawn gun duel. He said that one of some 40 bullets fired by "two torpedoes in a car" had struck O'Keefe in the left chest and right wrist.

Burke was indicted yesterday for illegal possession of a machine gun at a special session of the Suffolk County grand jury which lasted by 90 minutes. Burke, 37, also was charged with carrying a gun.

WESLEY LEE REPORTS HIS BUSINESS GOOD

Nathan Johnson did the unusual Saturday night after the wedding of his daughter. He stayed up until the bride and bridegroom left for their honeymoon. "When the other four of us were married," recalled Mary Lyde, "Daddy slipped away and went to bed just as early as he could, but he saw Jackie off."

He also goes to work about daylight. "Somebody kiddingly asked him Saturday night what he was doing up so late. 'I'm just getting ready to go to work,' he laughed. 'Mrs. M. M. Driver reports that she had a wonderful time on her recent visit to Greenwich, Conn.'"

Holiday magazine has a feature in its current issue on the Battle of Kings Mountain. Dunn service men who were stationed at Fort Benning during the war weren't a bit surprised when they read of the gang-land style slaying of the Alabama attorney general at Phenix City, Alabama Saturday.

Phenix City has long been noted as a wild and woolly town. The OEs called it "Sin City." Anything can be bought there for a price. It's right across the river from Benning. Dr. Randolph Doffermire and Dr. Charlie Byrd will take a cruise to the Bahama Islands in October for a medical meeting. The meeting will take place aboard ship.

New, Safer Pain Drug Developed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the nation's leading experts reported today on a "new, safer, more pleasant" drug to reduce pain in nearly everything from childbirth to severe burn cases.

Dr. John S. Lundy, chairman of the anesthesia section of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., described the drug as dolitrons and described it as "something really different."

He revealed how it acts in a report to the American Medical Assn.'s annual convention.

In a nutshell, dolitrons exerts an almost hypnotic influence on a patient—even allowing the doctor to order the patient to do something during an operation while the patient is completely unaware of what is going on.

TO REACH ULTIMATE - Lundy said he believed the drug may help the medical profession reach "the ultimate" in solving the twin problems of killing pain and at the same time putting the patient in an ideal operative condition.

An anesthetic—used to make the patient completely unconscious—generally has one or more drawbacks. Among other things, it is difficult to administer with complete safety, he said.

An analgesic—a local pain killer, such as morphine—doesn't obliterate the operation from the patient's memory.

Dolitrons, however, apparently lacks the problems of both analgesics and anesthetics, Lundy said.

Although no experiments with dolitrons have been made during actual childbirth, Lundy predicted that a woman injected with it during labor could be "told to bear down and push, and she'd do it."

Doffermire To Contest Case

Everette L. Doffermire, prominent Dunn attorney and president of the Harnett County Bar Association, said today that he will contest charges of public drunkenness and resisting arrest brought against him by Dunn police on Friday night.

He told newsmen today, in response to questions, that "I most certainly will fight the charges."

Mr. Doffermire declines further comment, except to add: "The truth will come out in court." Officers E. G. Johnson and E. J. Whaley signed the warrant against the prominent local attorney. The alleged incident occurred Friday night.

Doffermire was lodged in jail for nearly two hours and then released. Trial has been set for July 1.

Doffermire will contest the case in court. Several prominent Dunn citizens who visited him in jail shortly afterwards, declared he was not intoxicated, as charged. He was given a blood test by Dr. Charlie Byrd, who confirmed that he was not drunk at the time.

Marie McDonald Faces Charges

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald was to be arraigned today on charges that she crashed her convertible into three cars while under the influence of drugs and resisted police with screams, kicks and bites.

The shapely blonde spent four hours in Beverly Hills city jail Monday after two patrolmen arrested her.

Complaints had reached headquarters that the actress was driving erratically through the swank community. She hit three parked cars, one of which bounced into another empty vehicle.

Officers said they found her sitting in a dazed condition in her Cadillac convertible. She was taken to a first aid station where a police surgeon reported she was "under the influence of narcotics."

The actress, who soared to pinup fame as "The Body" of the movies, before she retired temporarily four years ago, told officers she had taken two tablets of nembutal, a sedative. Later she changed her statement to "two seconals and two nembutals."

A gold case containing pills was found in the glove compartment of her automobile and taken as evidence.

When she was booked on charges of hit-run driving, driving without a license and operating a vehicle under the influence of narcotics, she bit two policemen, kicked another and screamed as she was taken to a cell.

After the doors clanged behind her, she took off her high-heeled shoe and broke the window and light bulb in the cell.

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) said today "high priority" will be given to the administration's legislative program for cracking down on Communist-dominated organizations and individual Communists. The administration's anti-Communist program, however, may face a possible roadblock in the Senate Judiciary Committee where several members, including Republicans, are lukewarm toward the administration's approach.
