NEW YORK (UP) — The election is going full steam today for the July 13 All-Star game at Cleveland and to help the argument along here is Fearless Fraley's slate in the all-for-nothing struggle.

The so-called dream game usually proves very little, if anything, on the relative merits of the two leagues. This is a matter which must wait until a little October soiree known as the World Series.

But it does, usually, serve to honor the lads recognized by a majority of the fans as the best at their position — and these are my guys.

National League

National League: Catcher, Roy Campanella, Brooklyn; first base, Gil Hodges, Brooklyn; second base, Red Schoendienst, Cardinals; shortstop, Alvin Dark, Giants; third base, Ray Jablonski, Cardinals; outfielders, Stan Musial, Cardinals; Duke Snider, Dodgers, and Hank Sauer, Cubs.

American League: Catcher, Yogi Berra, Yankees; first base, Al Rosen, Indians; second base, Bobby Avila, Cleveland; shortstop, Chico Carrasquel, White Sox; third base, Ray Boone, Detroit; outfielders, Minnie Mino, White Sox; Hank Bauer, Yankees, and Ted Williams, Red Sox.

Names Pitchers Too

The voters don't elect the pitchers but, just to save Managers Walt Alton and Casey Stengel a bit of trouble, and to provoke a bit better argument, I'll name those, too. In the National League this corner's preference is Harvey Haddix of the Cards, Johnny Antonelli of the Giants and Robin Roberts of the Phillies. Across the way, I'll take Virgil Trucks of the White Sox, Allie Reynolds of the Yanks and Bob Lemon of Cleveland.

As in any election, this leaves a lot of room for debate. Campanella may not be hitting but he's still the best catcher in baseball. Hodges, Schoendienst and Dark are stickouts while Jablonski is hitting up a storm.

Musial can't miss in the outfield and you have to go for Snider, having one of his greatest years and leading the league with an average in the .370s, over amazing Willie Mays. Sauer gets the call with his home run power.

Berra Called Best

In the American League, Berra still stands as the best catcher in the circuit. Rosen is rapping the cover off the

SPORTS SHORTS

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Attendance at Southern Association games through June 16 trails last year by 26,224. President Charlie Hurth said today. Three clubs, Chattanooga, Mobile and New Orleans, had a total attendance gain of 43,923, but other clubs recorded drop of 70,147, or about 4 1-2 per cent.

The defending champion Jacksonville Braves have won the right to meet the Sally League All-Stars on July 6, and young Humberto Robinson has earned the right to start the game. The fast-balling Panamanian last night came through with a dor-ordie victory over Macon that put the Braves in the star tilt. Before the game Macon and Jacksonville were tied for the loop lead and either team could have made the grade with a victory.

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Middleweight contender Joey Giardello of Philadelphia will meet Billy Killebrew of Miami, Fla., in a 16-round nationally televised bout at the Arena here July 7, it was announced today.

NEW YORK (UP) — Fifty-eight golfers have entered the 1954 Women's National Open tournament, it was announced today by the U. S. Golf Association. Betsy Rawls is defending champion of the event, which will be staged at the Salem Country Club at Peabody, Mass., July 1-3.

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UP) — Twenty-one of the country's top women collegiate golfers lead off today in the 18-hole qualifying round of the 10th annual Women's Collegiate golf championship. Match play for the 16 qualifiers will begin Wednesday and will continue through Saturday over the par 77, 6,500-yard woman's course at the Sarmount Forest Country Club.

Sixteen additional players owned berths in the U. S. Public Links golf tournament today as a result of qualifying play Monday in five cities. Lowest score among those who qualified Monday was posted by Ed Vanderberg of Portland, Ore., in the sectional tournament in that city with a 72.68-140. At Atlanta, Ga., George Johnson of Atlanta qualified with a 143.

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — The nation's top collegiate golfers, led by Fred Jones Jr. of Ohio State, moved into the second round of qualifying play of the NCAA tournament today, with a team championship to be decided before the sun sets. The two rounds of qualifying play determine the team to U. S. Golf Association. Betsy Rawls is defending champion of the ball even though he is no Nijinsky defensively. Avila hits it at second with a big stick and Carrasquel has to be given the edge over a slowing Phil Rizzuto. Boone, at third, is the man who pulled the Tigers out of the American League cellar.

Among the outfielders, Mino leads the league in runs batted in and is fine defensively as well as a consistent long ball threat. Bauer is a hustler and in the same department. As for Williams, even a Williams who isn't playing regularly because of frequent illness and injury, he's still one of the best in the business.

Roberts, with an 8-7 record, may provoke the most questions among the pitchers, but he still is a great hurler. Proof of that is his recent one-hitter as well as a 15-inning performance which he had to win with his own hitting.

ON WRESTLING CARD — A return grudge battle between Mr. Moto and Prince Miavia; shown here, heads the weekly wrestling program Wednesday night at Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh. The return bout came about when Moto was disqualified there last week. Moto became upset when Coconut Willie, Miavia's helper, rattled him while he was trying for the third and deciding fall. Moto went mad for a minute or so and beat up Willie and a local promoter. However, he has been granted a return match against the Samoan prince, one of the finest and best-like grapplers ever to appear here. Two other fights are on the card.

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (UP) —

Maureen Little Mo Connolly of San Diego, Calif., opened defense of her women's singles crown today in the Wimbledon tennis championships with most experts already conceding her the title. The bouncy, blonde Californian, installed as a prohibitive choice to gain her third straight Wimbledon title, was pitted against Jean Scott of South Africa.

NEW YORK (UP) — Middle-

weight, Italo Scortichini and lightweight Frankie Ryff, each 22, were regarded as potential contenders in their respective divisions today because of improvements shown in their twin TV victories here Monday night. Scortichini of Italy, 154, won a split 10-round decision over Pedro Gonzales of Rankin, Pa., 158 1-4, at St. Nicholas Arena. He displayed new speed and accuracy with his one-two punching combinations.

ATLANTA (UP) — Nashville baseball fans along with the Vols were wondering today if a jinx has resounded on Sulphur Dell, making it tough for the home team to win on its own field. The Dell has long been considered an ally of the Vols, but Sunday the Vols lost a doubleheader, there to New Orleans 7-3 and 10-3. This season at home the Vols won only 12 games while losing 21. On the road Nashville's record is better, standing at 15-15.

Charlotte and Augusta, the two

bottom teams in the South Atlantic League, showed the rest of the circuit Sunday how to play a tight errorless ball game. And while the Hornets and the Rams were at their defensive best, the other teams were getting hits and knocking the ball all over the field.

The league - leading Asheville

Tourists came out on the short end of the hit Sunday, but still managed to hand the Rock Hill Chiefs a 5-3 Tri-State League defeat. Knoxville played errorless ball to gain an 8-4 decision over Anderson in the only other scheduled ac-
