

Cleveland May Lose Stengel In Short While

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press Sports Writer
If the Cleveland Indians continue to play the same kind of ball, they'll wind up in the World Series and Casey Stengel may wind up his association with the Yankees.

Stengel, in the first flush of pennant victories in the past, has said, "If we'd a lost, I'd have been gone" and has indicated since then he will retire only when the Yankees fail to win the flag.

The way the Indians are rolling now, they have a 2 1/2 game lead in the American League race and are playing at a feverish 778 pace in their last 27 games that is all but hastening Stengel's departure.

There seems to be no stopping the Indians. Take, for example, their 11-3 victory over the Orioles Tuesday night. They scored 11 runs in the first inning, marking their biggest uprising in a single game since pouring across 14 runs in one inning during the 1949 season.

GLYNN STARTS RALLY
Billy Glynn, who smashed three homers in one game Monday, led off the big frame against Joe Coleman with a homer. After two singles and a walk loaded the bases, Wally Westlake emptied them with a triple, then came home himself on George Strickland's single. Five more singles and two walks completed the carnage.

As if the game wasn't one-sided enough, Early Wynn pitched no-hit ball until Jim Brideweser tripled in the eighth. Even though the Orioles got to him for four more hits, Wynn had as much trouble bagging his 10th victory as he does in polishing off a pair of small lamb chops for dinner.

Andy Carey's seventh inning homer snapped a 1-1 tie and sent the Yankees on their way to a 4-1 victory over the Red Sox but the world champions failed to gain a single inch of ground against the torrid Tribe.

TRUCKS HURLS ONE-HITTER
Elsewhere in the American League, Virgil Trucks of the White Sox, who has pitched two major league no-hitters, just missed another by one-hitting the Tigers for a 4-0 triumph. Harvey Kuenn's third inning single—a clean smash to center—was the lone Detroit safety.

Washington rallied for three runs in the sixth to beat Philadelphia 5-2, as Johnny Smits was the winner despite a homer by Lou Dimmer.

The Giants, refusing to let up on the second-place Dodgers, beat them for the fourth straight time in the fourth straight Tuesday night, 5-2 while increasing their National League lead to 4 1/2 games. Home runs by Alvin Dark, Willie Mays and Monte Irvin were the key Giant blows. Sal Maglie was the victor.

Curt Simmons hurled one of his better games of the season as the Phillies beat Pittsburgh, 3-0. Smokey Burgess and Earl Torrean, with four hits apiece, paced the Phillies' 17-hit attack.

Gerry Staley pitched a nine-hit shutout as the Cardinals defeated the Reds, 6-0, in a victory which featured Red Schoendienst extend-

GUEST SPEAKER AT GLAD TIDINGS—Rev. D. G. Everyone is invited to be present tonight for this special service.

Furniture Mart Opens Monday

HIGH POINT — The annual Southern furniture and rug market will open here July 12 with heavy emphasis on design to catch consumer interest forecast for the exhibit booths.

Style will be highlighted by finish and color. Industry sources forecast resurgent interest in traditional design with functional and contemporary designs taking on more of the softness of traditional feeling.

Manager Leo J. Heer said yesterday "perhaps it would be more correct to say that contemporary design is creating its own feeling of line and symmetry."

Manufacturers will show a full array of home goods for the heavier-buying last half of the year. Highly competitive conditions have prevailed in the industry during the first six months of 1954 and this is expected to be continued. Supplies will continue stable.

La. Will Defy Court Ruling

BATON ROUGE, La. — Louisiana today became the first state to defy the Supreme Court's ban on segregation in public schools with passage by the state Senate of legislation aimed at preserving separate schools.

The House-approved legislation, in the form of three bills, would give the state police power to enforce separate education for Negroes and whites. The measures are expected to be signed by Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

ing his hitting streak to 25 straight games. Harry Perkowski yielded all the Cardinal runs before rookie Moe Savransky put out the fire.

Milwaukee massacred Chicago, 14-3, with Gene Conley coasting to his seventh victory. Joe Adcock and Det. Grandall honored for the Braves, Ralph Kiner for the Cubs.

New Shawtown Head Is Named

G. T. Swinson of Belhaven in Beaufort County today was announced as the new principal of the Shawtown School in Lillington.

Swinson succeeds J. S. Spivey, who recently resigned to take a new position with the Fayetteville city schools.

County Superintendent G. T. Proffitt said the appointment of Swinson to head the county's largest school had been approved by the Harnett Board of Education. Swinson, who has served 18 years at Belhaven, watched the school there grow from seven to 18 teachers. Prior to going to Belhaven he taught for five years in a Greene County rural school.

He attended the preparatory school at A. and T. College, holds a B. S. Degree from A. and T. at Greensboro and an M. A. Degree from Columbia University.

The new principal is married and his wife, a primary teacher, will also be on the Shawtown faculty. They have one 15-month-old daughter. Both are natives of Greene County.

Proffitt said the new principal comes to Harnett highly recommended by Beaufort County and State school officials. Over 30 applicants were considered for the position.

Middle West Hit By Storms

By UNITED PRESS
A savage, freakish storm raked southern Wisconsin with tornadoes and 100-mile-per-hour winds and sent the second giant wave in two weeks crashing against the Chicago lakeshore.

A man drowned and a mother and her three children were injured in the collapse of their home before the storm's fury abated late last night.

The same storm system sent gusts up to 90 miles per hour sweeping onto Mason City, Iowa, deluged Milwaukee with two inches of rain and pounded Waukegan, Ill., with hailstones as big as half dollars.

A second storm raced across Texas, unroofing five houses at Garfield and killing a rodeo clown at Houston. The clown, Richard D. Snuffy Smith, 19, was struck by lightning.

The storm struck hardest at the Madison, Wis., area, although the city itself did not suffer its full force.

Lillington News

Attend Camp Don Lee
Ten young people from the Lillington Methodist Church left Sunday for a week's stay at a Christian Adventure Camp at Camp Don Lee, Methodist youth center near Arapahoe. Rev. E. C. Shoaf, pastor of the Lillington church also is serving as a camp counselor.

This week the camp, which serves the N. C. Conference, has attracted intermediate age boys and girls from many parts of the conference. The week there are around 50 campers and 20 instructors in attendance. Campers are offered inspirational programs, guidance, and counseling in small groups, as well as a full program of water sports, hiking, nature lore, and other recreational activities. In the group are Jimmy Barnhill, Allen Walker, Joe and Clarence Hudson, Jan Roberts, Donnie Kelly and Tommy Milton, and Emily Kellif Jean Parker and Ann Benn.

To Fontana
Misses Irene Lakiter and Louise McLaughlin spent the weekend at Fontana in Western North Carolina. They were joined on the trip by Mrs. Helen Hoffman of Asheville, former Lillington resident.

and knew nothing of the tragedy which had befallen his child until he returned home about 4 a. m. to find all the lights blazing and police stalking about the house.

Roberts viewed the bruised body of his child at a mortuary later in the morning and identified her.

Prior to the kidnaping, the detective said, the abductor entered Rosenberg's bedroom and slipped the car keys from his pocket for a getaway.

BODY FOUND IN WOODS

Mrs. Rosenberg said she woke up about 1 a. m. sensing something wrong, and stepped to the living room to see if Judith was all right. She roused the family when she found the girl missing and subsequently they discovered the family car was gone. Then they called police.

A cruising police car found the automobile, abandoned near the Coast Guard station on Bay Shore Drive which runs along Biscayne Bay. The time was 5:10 a. m. At 8:15 a. m. an officer found little Judith nearby, her body thrown among mangroves 15 feet from a street intersection.

THE WOMEN WEEP
Coroner Walter McCarron asked Mrs. Thorne why her son stayed away from home and on Christmas Eve 1953 registered under an assumed name in a Clark Street Hotel.

"My baby couldn't come home," she said. "Someone was blackmailing him."

She broke out crying and looked down at Mrs. Ragen and her daughter.

"How would they like to have me take their daughter into my home and then put her up on North Clark Street or Skid Row?" she demanded.

Mrs. Ragen and Maureen began to cry. Mrs. Ragen sobbed loudly. Mrs. Thorne, waving her arms and sometimes fingering a large cross around her neck, looked at the Ragens and said: "I'll fight every one of you until I'm broke."

SEXUALLY MOLESTED

Officers said the child had been molested sexually. Then her body was dumped beside the parked 1952 Oldsmobile the kidnaper apparently used.

The child's body was partly obscured in a clump of bushes growing at the edge of the sidewalk at an intersection.

In her mouth was a tightly-drawn gag, fashioned from a handkerchief.

Judith's father is a member of a prominent Baltimore law firm. He graduated from the University of Baltimore in 1950 and specializes Judith's mother said she thought at first that a political enemy of her husband's might have been responsible, but discarded that notion after police arrived on the scene.

Mrs. Roberts said the family came down, as was their annual custom in the summer, following her husband's defeat in the June 28 Maryland primary. Roberts was a candidate for the House of Delegates.

When her body was found, she still was clad in her nightgown. But her body bore multiple bruises and scratches and the ugly marks left by fingers at her throat were apparent. Death, police said, was from strangulation.

DISPENS POLICE TESTIMONY

When Mrs. Thorne began her testimony she denounced police Sgt. Michael Murphy who testified yesterday that Thorne had told him Mrs. Thorne had spread a rumor the youth had syphilis.

"I have taken all I intend to take Mrs. Thorne said. "When an officer of the law makes a filthy, rotten statement such as that officer made, a mother has to reply."

Murphy had testified yesterday that Thorne was taken into custody at his mother's request after a parking ticket issued to him was found in the automobile of a doctor from which a bag of narcotics had been stolen.

Thorne, Murphy said, told him he "didn't like his mother."

"When Thorne was 16, he was going steady with a girl," Murphy said. "He said his mother called the girl's mother and told her Thorne had syphilis and that the girl shouldn't go out with him."

Snoring Traced Back To Lovers

GLASGOW, Scotland — A London doctor told the British Medical Assn. meeting yesterday that male snoring may be a throwback to caveman days when it was a sign of protective love of mate and family.

Dr. A. H. Douthwaite said that if it is any consolation for long suffering wives, cavemen used to make snoring noises to sound of night marauders from their caves.

Kerr Is Leading But Vote Close

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — Sen. Robert S. Kerr piled up a commanding lead in the Oklahoma primary today, but it was nip and tuck whether he would be forced into a runoff with his strongest opponent.

With 2,056 of the state's 3,128 precincts counted, Kerr had 149,806 votes to 119,480 for his main challenger for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, former Gov. Roy J. Turner.

Dispatch Ordered To Cease Claim

By UNITED PRESS
WASHINGTON — The Post Office Department has ordered the Dunn (N. C.) Dispatch to remove from its front page the claim that it is "leading the county in paid circulation and reader interest."

Readers Get More In The Daily Record

Department and this office insofar as paid circulation is concerned. Postmaster Wade said that a request from the Department is the same as an order and that the Department has full authority to cancel the newspaper's mailing permit whenever postal regulations or instructions are not complied with.

RECORD LEAD INCREASES
Since its first issue on December 6, 1950, The Daily Record has shown a constant increase in circulation. The sworn statements referred to by the Post Office Department was for the period which ended last October 1.

The Daily Record's Ownership statement was filed in October, as required by law; statement of The Dispatch was not filed until January.

Since the October 1 report, The Daily Record conducted a highly successful subscription campaign, during which hundreds of new subscriptions were added.

This gives The Daily Record a still greater lead in circulation over other newspapers in the county.

The Daily Record leads in both rural and city circulation, as well as in advertising volume in every classification.

While The Record's circulation is showing a steady increase, circulation of the town's other newspaper has dropped sharply during the past three years.
