MEDELLIN, Colombia (UP) — Weary rescue workers today dug through tons of rock and sand for additional victims of landslides at Media Luna, on the outskirts of Medellin. The known death toll stood at 35. Officials estimated the final count might reach 200.

WASHINGTON (P) — The United States is opposed to carving Viet Nam into separate Communist and non-Communist territories on the order of Korea and Germany. American officials would prefer an armistice which would group French and Communist forces into a series of pockets so that the possibility of future unification of the country would not be permanently foreclosed.

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (P) — Some of the nation's top defense officials witnessed a startling display of push-button warfare as the Army unveiled a few of its "Buck Rogers" type weapons here Tuesday. An all-out demonstration of military strength featured a supersonic rocket capable of carrying an atomic warhead and other ultra-modern guns which leave many World War II and Korean war type weapons obsolete.

WASHINGTON (P) — A Senate fight over public vs power today threatened to hold up approval of the administration's atomic energy bill. Three amendments dealing with phases of the public power controversy were scheduled to be offered as the Senate resumed debate on the bill which would broaden international cooperation and lay the groundwork for President Eisenhower's worldwide atomic pool plan.

WILMINGTON (P) — The government has announced that it will not appeal from a court decision awarding $120,000 in damages to 42 Onslow County oystermen who claimed oyster gardens were ruined by dumping of waste into Stump Sound and Alligator Bay. The announcement yesterday by government attorney closed five years of litigation in the case made possible by special act of Congress permitting the oystermen to sue the government.

HANOI, Indochina (P) — Communist troops tightened their pressure on Hanoi from three sides today with most of the action centering around the area of the Seven Pagodas 30 miles northeast of the Capital. French forces south of Hanoi unprepared to defend Hung Yen, last important French city below the Hanoi-Haiphong corridor. Hung Yen is encircled by 12 rebel battalions.

HARTFORD, Conn. (P) — Edward B. Glass told police his finger after he fell asleep in his automobile with one hand dangling out of the window.

OTTAWA (P) — A suggestion that officers of the Canadian Guards regiment wear bowler hats and carry umbrellas as part of their off-duty dress brought a howl of protest today. The suggestion was inspired by an order in Britain that members of the Horse Guards on duty in central London must salute every man who passes wearing a bowler hat and carrying an umbrella. That's the traditional off-duty garb of young officers in the British guards.

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (P) — Judge Bennett Champ Clark, former senator from Missouri and an outspoken Democratic critic of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal policies, died of a cerebral hemorrhage here yesterday. Clark, 64, was stricken at the home where he and his second wife, former British film actress Violet Heming, spent their summers. He died eight hours later at a Gloucester hospital.

WASHINGTON (P) — Congressional leaders were called to the White House today for a strategy huddle on important legislation bottled up in the Senate and House. High on the list of problems were the administration's Communist control bills and its proposal for a 250-million dollar a year hike in postal rates.

WASHINGTON (P) — Nationalist China soon will be receiving swift U. S. F-86 Sabre jets that could give Red China a lot of first-class headaches, informed sources reported today. The modern jet fighters will be able to zip across the 180 miles between Nationalist-held Formosa and the Red-held China mainland at speeds of around 650 miles per hour. They will be available also for the defense of Formosa and other Nationalist islands if the Communists strike.

WASHINGTON (P) — Rep. Charles A. Wolverton blamed the American Medical Association today for the defeat of President Eisenhower's federal health reinsurance program in the House. Republican leaders predicted the measure would win handily but when the showdown came late Tuesday it was decisively defeated, 238 to 134.

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Ralph E. Flanders promised to outline his strategy today to oust Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy from committee chairmanship. The 73-year old Vermont Republican scheduled a news conference to disclose how he will attempt to force a showdown on the issue next week.

HERMOSA BEACH, Calif. (P) — Mrs. France I. Baker, 21, gave birth to a 7 pound, 3 ounce girl Tuesday in a "serve yourself" gas station when her husband, Dan, failed to reach the hospital on time.

OKLAHOMA CITY (P) — Richard Lynn Blackstock, 13-month-old Lawton, Okla., boy swallowed a stone in Mercy Hospital Tuesday and was promptly released. Doctors explained the baby was rushed to the hospital when the stone lodged in his bronchial tube. When he coughed it loose and swallowed it, there was no reason to treat him further.

DENVER, Colo. (P) — Cecil Davis, 43, complained in municipal Court Tuesday that his wife, Florina, 39, hit him on the head with a hammer. Quite properly, too, the court decided, dismissing assault charges against Mrs. Davis and sentencing her husband to 15 days in jail for drunkenness.

RALEIGH (P) — Escaped lifer convict Claiborne McKee, 34, was back in Central Prison here today after a second unsuccessful bid for freedom. McKee, who was recaptured Monday in Graham, tried to break from the Graham jail yesterday, using a broken drink bottle as a weapon.

They indicated they would attempt to prove Thorne was being blackmail by a narcotics addict. Party-goers subpoenaed Doctors who estimated that Thorne died at about 5 a.m. on the hot morning of June 19. At about that time an advertising copy writer's all-night birthday party was breaking up across the street. The party's host, Jack Goggin, has insisted Thorne was not invited to the affair and, as far as he knows, did not attend. However, Goggin and five of his guests have been subpoenaed to testify. Interest in the party was heightened by a revelation that nine persons, including Goggin, were in the corridor outside Thorne's apartment between 6 a.m. and 7:45 a.m.

Rogers, Jr., at a meeting in Raleigh July 29. The section of 301 to be begun in Harnett County will extend from the Cumberland County line to Johnston, by-passing Dunn.

A large clover leaf will be constructed east of Dunn near Traffic's mill to take care of the traffic from Highway 421 and NC 55. The route of NC 55 is expected to be changed and run down Cumberland Avenue according to unofficial sources.

In addition to the by-pass, the Highway Commissioners are expected to consider construction work on the alternate route through Dunn on Clinton Avenue. Commission Chairman Graham stated a few weeks ago that the alternate route has been laid out to take a 45 degree turn at the intersection of N. Clinton Avenue and E. Granville Street and across the C. J. Hanna and Son property to the Jonesboro Road. The proposed road will also cross a number of other sections of land other than the Hanna property.

Child of Tragedy

ISABELLA Marcelle Olga Goldsmith, whose birth was marked by tragedy, is shown in Paris as French physicians reported she was "progressing nicely." The child's mother, Mrs. James Goldsmith, the former Isabella Patino, died a few hours after the infant's birth. Her runaway marriage attracted international attention.

Doffermyre

Several prospective jurors were excused for one reason or another. One of them, Robert Cannady, was excused after he said he had formed the opinion Doffermyre was guilty. It developed that Doffermyre had prosecuted Cannady's brother on a murder charge. First witness for the State was Policeman E. C. Johnson, who, with Policeman E. J. Whaley, made the arrest. Others testifying for the State were: Whaley, Chief Alton Cobb and Policeman K. M. Fall, A. H. Alphin, and Alton Bass, a town employee. Defense witnesses were: Dr. Randolph Doffermyre, brother of the defendant, D. K. Stewart, his law partner, Dr. Charlie Byrd, and Hoover Adams, local newspaperman.

Doesn't Take Stand

Attorney Doffermyre did not take the stand in his own behalf. Johnson swore that he and Whaley were walking their beat the night of the alleged crime and that they were called over to Doffermyre's Cadillac by Donald, Dyer, local taxi driver, who was with him. Doffermyre and Dyer were conferring about a case pending against Dyer in Wayne Superior Court. The officer said Dyer proceeded to "cuss out" Police Chief Cobb because he had testified against him in the Wayne County case, and the Doffermyre had told Dyer to "shut up."

Policeman Swore

Doffermyre was "weaving drunk" inside his car, had vomited on the side of the automobile, and that he told the attorney he was not in any shape to drive and suggested that he call someone to drive him home or have Mrs. Dyer drive him. The officer said Doffermyre replied that he was perfectly able to drive his own car. He said Doffermyre and Dyer went inside the taxi stand and came out later, with Doffermyre "in a staggering condition." The policeman said Doffermyre put his arm around his neck and leaned up against him. The officers said Doffermyre pulled at the buttons on his uniform and he told him not to do it again. He said that when he hit her put him under arrest and the two policemen started with him toward the police station.

ACTED FRIENDLY

He said Doffermyre acted "friendly" and later suggested that "Let's talk this matter over." He said Doffermyre asked him if he was "really serious" about putting him in jail. "Enroute to the jail, he said, Doffermyre kept pulling back and resisting. He said Mrs. Doffermyre was at the jail door when they arrived and told the officers: "I demand that you release my husband." The officer said they refused to allow Mrs. Doffermyre to talk with her husband because the arrest hadn't been completed. The officers declared repeatedly that "Doffermyre struggled violently all the time." On cross examination, by Senator Young, Johnson charged his

Folk Frolic Set At County Seat

Lillington's new Recreation Commission, pleased with the public response to two previous entertainment events, today announced plans for a Folk Frolic at the Community Center on Friday night at 8 p.m.

All senior high school and college age students in the Lillington and Bunnlevel school community are invited to gather for an evening of fun. Dr. David Huffines, Jr. will give instruction in folk dances and lead a variety of games. Tables will be handy for playing of Chinese checkers or canasta.

Senior Girl Scouts, under the supervision of Mrs. John H. Blackman, Girl Scout Association president, will serve as hostesses and assist in serving light refreshments. No admission of any kind will be charged.

Last Friday night a similar event, planned particularly for 7th, 8th, and 9th grade students, or the junior high school age group, attracted around 25. Dr. Huffines led intricate folk dances and the leader also delighted the group with a story telling hour. Refreshments were served by members of the Junior Woman's Club.

The mid week feature of the recreation commission will be a pet show on Wednesday afternoon at the ball park. Cub Scouts and their den mothers will be in charge.

A gala parade "on wheels" by the town's children on July 3 initiated the Recreation Commission's summer program. Prizes were awarded for the best decorated bikes and baby buggies and a large crowd of spectators applauded the participants.

story from "staggering drunk" to "unsteady condition." The officer said he sometimes takes a drink, but denied he was drinking at the time he arrested Doffermyre. He later said he couldn't tell the difference between the odor of beer and whiskey on a man's breath. Young demanded of the officer why he didn't arrest Doffermyre when he first got out of the car and staggered. Johnson explained that he wanted to give him a chance to go home and was trying to arrange it. "In other words," said Young "if he had gotten somebody to take him home you would have closed your eyes to the fact that he was, in your opinion, committing a crime."

Johnson said he would have in this instance. Johnson's testimony was corroborated in the main by Policeman Whaley. The other officer told Doffermyre's condition when he reached the police station and all of them said he was drunk.

Chief Cobb swore that Doffermyre still staggered when he came out to sign his bond shortly before two o'clock, which was about two and a half hour after he was jailed.

DEFENSE WITNESSES

Dr. Byrd, Dr. Doffermyre and Attorney Stewart all testified that they saw Attorney Doffermyre within a half hour after he was jailed and swore positively that he was not drunk. "He was mad," said Dr. Doffermyre, "but he was not drunk." Adams said he did not get close to Doffermyre, but talked with him through the jail window and said Doffermyre did not talk like he was drunk. He said he also saw him when he was released from jail about two hours later and Doffermyre appeared sober.

The newspaperman said police refused to allow him inside the jail to see Doffermyre although he had been allowed in the jail hundreds of times previously. He said that afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Dyer were both allowed in the jail. Adams said he went to the jail to see if he could be of assistance to Doffermyre, whom he described as his friend, and said he didn't want to appear as a witness.

Chief Cobb and Policeman Neely Pope swore later that Dyer was not permitted in the jail, but Dr. Doffermyre followed them to stand and swear positively that Dyer had been allowed in jail two or three times that night.

Attorney Young argued the case for the defense and Solicitor Bryan for the State. Each side was given a half hour.

Benson Is Trying Parking Method

Benson began an off-street parking experiment this past week with the opening of a vacant lot on the corner of N. Market and E. Church Streets. The lot has been graded and marked off into parking spaces and is now in use.

Completing plans for securing the lot were Lynwood Johnson, C. M. Blackmon, and Howard Denning, all of a Chamber of Commerce committee. Chamber of Commerce Secretary Mrs. John Ferguson has urged merchants and businessmen to use the parking lot and leave curb parking open to customers and visitors in Benson. There are around 50 all-day parking spaces available, Mrs. Ferguson stated.

Three coes, donated by the Benson Veeer Company, will be used in the new lot to mark off the parking areas. Work in the lot was done by Street Superintendent Norman L. Duncan and his staff.

Expectant Girl Admits Theft

DUBUQUE, La., July 12 (UP) — A 15-year-old expectant mother admitted today she stole $218 in checks to buy food and baby clothes.

Mrs. Sandra Clark, wife of a 20-year-old employe at a sash and door company, said she stole five checks from mail boxes in the apartment house where she lives. She endorsed them with the names of the payees and cashed them at nearby stores.

Booked on forgery and mail theft charges, she was held in police matrons quarters.

Dunn Lassies Play Raleigh Tonight

The Dunn Girls will meet Raleigh's Johnson-Lambe team tonight at 8:00 in the Dunn High School Park. These same two teams played on Monday night of this week and Dunn was defeated by a 14-1 score. The game was the first of the season for Dunn.

The local girls should have a good ball club with a little practice and game experience. Dunn was runner-up champion in the Smithfield invitational tournament in Smithfield last year. They will also enter the Tourna ment again this year which begins around the 19 of this month.

Eight Fliers Are Attacked

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (P) — Air Force officials report that young hoodlums sporting long wavy hair and white, pointed shoes have attacked at least eight fliers stationed here.

Three were stabbed and tortured Lt. Col. R. J. Wade, provost marshal at Maxwell Air Force Base, said yesterday. He said that in each attack members of the gang wore the distinctive shoes and hair styles.

One airman from Michigan was told, "we don't like Yankee wads," and then was burned with lighted cigarettes, Wade said. The hoodlums' resentment also seemed to stem from the airman's dating of local girls, he said.
