

Day Camps Held By Girl Scouts

The Central Carolina Girl Scout Council has just concluded seven weeks of successful Day Camping for a total registration of 412 girls. Miss Cathryn Cressman, Camp Director, says that the attendance was the best in the history of this Council. Comments from the Scouts also indicate that the camp sessions were both fun and helpful training in campercraft skills.

The camp program featured outdoor cooking, campercraft, skills, craft, swimming, music, games, and folk dancing.

Camp sessions were held in Robbins for Robbins and Carthage; Pinebluff for Southern Pines, West End, and Pinebluff; Erwin for Dunn and Erwin; Sanford; Pittsboro and Siler City; and concluded at Pinebluff for Pinehurst. A total of 67 adults composed the staff for the various camp sessions.

Miss Mary George Kelly of Lillington, a former Scout in this Council and currently a senior at Duke University, served as assistant site director and directed the Pittsboro Siler City Camp.

The Red Cross furnished waterfront directors for camp sessions that included swimming.

Mrs. Pat Lynch Presides At Meet Of Fellowship

Mrs. Pat Lynch, new president of the Christian Women's Fellowship of Hood Memorial Christian Church presided on Monday evening when they met at the church for the July meeting.

The meeting was opened with the hymn, "Take My Life" and the devotional by Mrs. Wayne Justesen. She used as scripture reference, the 43rd Chapter of Isaiah.

Circle No. 1, with Mrs. Herman Neighbors in charge, presented the program. Mrs. Bill Carroll spoke on the new topic, "Unto The Least Of These" in a most effective manner. She closed her remarks by telling something of the church and the minority group. This was a testimony to the effectiveness of work among the displaced persons.

Routine business followed at which time reports were heard from the various circles and chairman of the attendance contest.

Mrs. Cohen Tart sang, "Were You There?" with responses by Mrs. James Britt.

The meeting was closed with the National Benediction.

by slapping her on the door of a woman acquaintance and simulating a gun. A taxicab driver called police, claiming the youth failed to pay his fare.

The older Robinson said he and his wife were "deeply shocked," and "of course I put up the bill."

But when drivers Michael Piasick and Harry Chapman, were positive that young Robinson was the one who held them up June 25 and July 1, Piasick said he was slugged over the head and robbed of $27 while Chapman said he was relieved of $11.

The actor's son also has been arrested on a drunk charge and on a bad check charge, which was dismissed.
