

CHARLIE HAS THE TOOTHACHE

ABOUT PARSON TEDDER, HENRY SLOCUM, ETC.

...Herman Godwin, Jr., who is representing North Carolina at Boys' Nation in Washington, will be entertained by Congressman F. Erel Carlyle during his stay in the Capitol... Congressman Carlyle is a man who doesn't miss a trick or an opportunity to render service to one of his constituents... Mr. Carlyle read in The Daily Record that Herman was in Washington and immediately phoned this office to find out where the Dunn youth is staying there... The Dunn Chamber of Commerce has adopted the showing slogan and is asking all merchants to use it in their newspaper advertising throughout the fall season: "Sell in Dunn... The Rev. R. W. Tedder, pastor of the Erwin Church of God, is quite a fisherman... He won a prize in the Southeastern Fishing Rodeo at Wilmington last month by catching a 12.5 ounce pigfish at Johnnie Mercer's Pier at Wrightsville... That's pretty big for a pigfish... American Airships Escorted By Jets

HONG KONG (AP) — U. S. Navy jets, under orders to be "quick on the trigger," today escorted American airlines through the danger zone near Communist-held Hainan Island.

Capt. Max Weber of Great Barrington, Mass. said he received "a security escort" about 120 miles off Hainan while flying his Pan-American DC8B from Bangkok, Thailand, to Hong Kong.

Crewmen of another Pan-American plane said four jets gave them similar protection in the troubled zone where a British passenger plane was shot down by Red Chinese last Friday at the cost of perhaps 10 lives, including those of three Americans.

TO FILE PROTEST

The jets role of protecting American aircraft was disclosed as:

1. The State Department prepared to file a formal protest with Red China, condemning the Peiping government for the attack by Red planes on U. S. Navy bombers which were searching for victims of the British airliner crash. The bombers returned to fire and shot down two Red Chinese planes.
2. U. S. diplomats and American Air, Army and Navy aides held secret meetings at Hong Kong, presumably to discuss the recent acts of Red Chinese aggression.
3. Civil Air Transport delayed departure of a DC3 which was chartered to take several Americans to the Indochina port of Halphong.

Officials in Washington said the shooting down of the Red fighters which had attacked the merry mission would lift American prestige in Asia at the right psychological moment. U. S. prestige had fallen considerably when the Reds scored a victory at the Geneva conference.

"ALREADY AT WAR"

U. S. senatorial reaction ranged from a flat statement by Sen. Alexander Wiley R-Wis. that we "have been at war with Communist China for several years" to Sen. Henry C. Dworshak's R-Idaho suggestion that President Eisenhower call Gen. Douglas MacArthur for consultation about the Hainan incident.

Mother Must Wean Baby To Go To Prison

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A judge ordered a mother to wean her five-month-old child so she can be sentenced to jail on a forgery conviction.

Superior Judge Joe Rayercraft yesterday told Mrs. Ida Lee Honeycutt, 28, "this court orders you to wean your baby." She had pleaded guilty with her husband John to writing $700 in bad checks.

The judge issued his unusual order for bottle feedings after the Honeycutts had tried for a third time to delay their sentencing on the wife's protestations "it is necessary to breast-feed my baby."

Boys' Nation Opens Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Samuel Perry, 17, Bay St. Louis, Miss., was elected president of Boys' Nation yesterday at its ninth annual convention here.

Herman Godwin, Jr. of Dunn is representing North Carolina at the convention.

Boys' Nation is sponsored by the American Legion. Perry is a licensed Baptist minister, a Legion spokesman said. A member of the nation's so-called "Federalist Party," he was elected by 23 to 22 votes over David Galloway, 17, of Memphis, Tenn.

Others elected included Bobby Charles Wood, 17, East Tuscaloosa, Ala., who was chosen one of the tellers.

Ninety-four boys from twenty states except Rhode Island are attending the convention, which closes Friday.

The delegates adopted the Federalist platform, which had three main planks: Opposition to Communism, passage of universal military training with minor amendments, and statehood for Hawaii but not Alaska.

Democrats Resume Filibuster On Bill; Knowland Is Blamed

U. S. Protests Killing Of Three Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has filed two "strong protests" with Red China over the attacks on Allied planes, the State Department announced today.

Department press officer Henry Snydam said the twin protests were transmitted to the British government for delivery to the Peiping Communist regime.

He said it was "possible" that the texts of the notes would be made public, but not before the United States has word they have been delivered.

Snydam said the State Department had asked the British government "to pass on to Red China our strong protests both against the firing by Chinese Communist planes on the British airliner which cost three American lives, and a similar firing on United States rescue and search planes engaged on a humanitarian mission."

REDS ALSO PROTEST

"There are two protests," he added.

The Peiping radio said that China on her part has protested "most strongly" against the shooting down of two Chinese planes by the American Navy patrols and against U. S. naval units in "Chinese waters."

One of the U. S. protests was understood to demand that the Communist Chinese put an immediate stop to attacks on rescue and searchplanes patrolling the area of the British airliner's crash.

Senator Morse Ends Speech After 12 Hours

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) said today Democratic opponents of the administration's atomic energy bill have decided to resume filibuster tactics in earnest.

He made the statement to reporters as the Senate completed its fourth round-the-clock session on the bill in five days.

The organized filibuster against the bill, staged mainly by Democratic senators, had apparently dwindled last night to a one-man effort by Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore), who began a marathon speech at midnight.

Morse, the Senate's champion long distance speaker, was still going strong at 10:30 a. m. EST, an hour after Anderson passed the word that Democrats would return to the fray.

Morse finally wound up his speech at 11:23 a. m. EST, after 12 hours and 23 minutes. He had refused Anderson's offer of relief speakers, but in the last couple of hours Democrats asked long questions which gave him slight rest periods.

Anderson said "several other" senators were prepared to speak "at great length" when Morse finished. He blamed Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland for the renewal of the organized filibuster.

Knowland can't count on promoting a filibuster, Anderson said. "He promoted it himself last night as hard and as consciously as he could."

KNOWLAND FORCED SESSION

Anderson referred bitterly to Knowland's action last night in tabling an amendment by Morse without debate and then having the Senate go through another all-night session.

Before Knowland's action, Anderson said, agreement to bring the atomic bill to a final vote within a couple of days had been "close."

Knowland promptly retorted that it was not he, but the opposition group, who was responsible for trying to stop the Senate.

Anderson said the opposition group composed of 18 Democrats, one Republican and one independent. (Continued On Page Two)

Town Agrees To Pay Share Of 301 Cloverleaf Cost

Dunn's City Council last night agreed to pay its proportionate part, not to exceed $5,000, of the State Highway Department's project to join E. Cumberland Street, Highway 431, NC 55, and Highway 301 in the huge clover leaf soon to be constructed east of Dunn.

The Commissioners signed the three-way agreement with the State Highway Department and Federal Government to assist in clearing the right-of-way for a four-lane section of E. Cumberland to join the clover leaf. The extension of Cumberland will be approximately 950 feet to the city limits where the clover leaf link will begin.

Lewis E. Whitfield, District Highway Engineer, told Council last night that failure to sign the agreement would result in an indefinite delay of work on the clover leaf. Withers Davis of the division office accompanied Mr. Whitfield.

Meanwhile, the State Highway Commission will open bids in Raleigh today for the section of 301 extending from Cumberland through Harnett to Johnston County. Confirmation of the bids and letting of contracts is expected to be completed the 29th of this month.

The agreement entered into last night by Council stated that the towns part of the project would not exceed $5,000, and there was some indication that it might be much less. The Federal Government will pay one-third of the cost, and the State one-third.

Plans call for clearing of the right-of-way from the east end of Cumberland, and construction of a 100-foot highway to run into the clover leaf. This will allow North and South bound traffic to drive off the four-lane 301 and into Dunn, it was stated today.

Engineer Whitfield told the Town Board last night that the giant (Continued On Page Two)

Legal Parking Meters Arrive

New legal parking meters for the Town of Dunn have arrived and will be installed as soon as the company engineer can get here, City Manager A. B. Uzale said today.

The new meters were ordered recently by the local City Council to replace the illegal meters now being used.

The replacements will look the same as the meters now being used, but will take only one coin.

A number of 15-cent meters will be installed in front of the post office and local banks to facilitate business at these places, Uzale said.

As soon as the meters can be installed and a suitable police man secured, Dunn will have a female addition to the local police department. It will be her duty to write traffic tickets. Four applicants have been received, Uzale announced today.

Girl Lands In Jail On Forgery Charge

A 23-year-old Dunn Negro woman was arrested this morning as she left the First Citizens Bank and Trust Company here after a forgery attempt failed to work.

The woman ever "threw a fit" and fell prostrate on the sidewalk in an effort to avoid prosecution, but that didn't work, either.

Gertrude McDowell, the defendant, appeared at the window of Mrs. Beulah Graham about 10 o'clock and presented for cash a check drawn on Harvey T. Hinson, well-known merchant and former of Dunn, Besse L. Mrs. Graham immediately recognized that the signature on the check was not authentic and questioned her briefly, then turned her over to Earl E. Hinson, vice president of the bank.

SUDDENLY BECOMES ILL

As Mr. Hinson questioned the woman, she was overcome and with a fit of convulsions, she was taken and led to the jail. (Continued On Page Two)

Bet They Aren't Just Chasing Ball

AHOSKIE, N. C. (AP) — The Currituck County prison camp baseball team was minus three outfielders today.

The bats were last seen chasing a towering fly ball from the bat of a Hertford County camp player in an inter-camp game here. The ball sailed over the fence with the outfielders in hot pursuit. They scrambled over the fence and vanished.

An alert was out for ex-baseball players Boyd Henson Campbell, 25, of New Bern, Edward Horne, 30, of Fayetteville and Claude Harris, 27, of Ahoskie.

Priest's Attacker Will Be Examined

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 27-year-old spinster who attacked and stabbed a priest as he said mass expected to undergo an examination by psychiatrists today.

The woman, Miss Josephine Avon, was taken to the psychiatric ward of a San Francisco hospital yesterday, shortly after she was hit with a sharp knife in the neck of the Rev. Raymond E. Cronin.

Her father, Mr. Cronin, nor the woman's mother, Mrs. Natalie Avon, who identified her daughter as her aggressor, could account for the attack.

Father Cronin said from his bed at St. Mary's Hospital that he had never seen the woman before.

Mrs. Avon said her daughter had been mentally ill since the age of 4.

"She is a very religious girl," she said. "She goes to church every day."

Doctors said Father Cronin's wound was only about an inch deep and that he was in very good condition. They added, however, the knife just sliced a main artery and that he lost a lot of blood.
