Ike Says We'll Defend U. S. Wherever Needed

Ike Marks Up Win As Long Debate Ends

By UNITED PRESS Both sides claimed at least a partial victory today following the sudden passage of the administration's atomic bill after 13 days of debate.

The longest filibuster in history came to a halt when Senate foes of the bill decided to quit talking Tuesday night and allow a final showdown. The measure was approved by a 57-28 vote.

Administration forces said the Senate bill was passed substantially as requested by President Eisenhower. They noted that it contained the most controversial provision, the President's order to have the Atomic Energy Commission contract with a private utility group to produce power for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Foes of the bill, mainly Democrats, pointed to a series of successful amendments they sponsored. Sen. Matthew M. Neely (D-W Va.) said that without these "priceless amendments" the bill would have been disastrous to the American people.

The bill now goes to the House which is expected to send it immediately to a House-Senate conference committee to work out differences between the versions approved by the two houses.

OTHER CONGRESSIONAL NEWS TAXES: House Democrats launched a last-ditch drive to knock dividend tax relief out of the $1,383,000,000 tax revision bill which was called up for final approval today.

FOREIGN AID: House leaders called up for passage a $5,208,419,979 foreign aid appropriations bill, last money measure of the session. The Senate finally got around to debating its $3,100,000,000 authorization bill today.

MCCARTHY: Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.) said his fellow senators will have to vote "yes" or "no" or "dodge" his proposal to have the Senate censure Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy. He said no senator can be "neutral" when he brings the resolution up for a vote Friday.

RHEE: South Korean President Syngman Rhee addresses a joint session of Congress today to plead his case for a United Korea.

GERMANY: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has recommended that the Senate give President Eisenhower a go-ahead to restore sovereignty to West Germany without waiting for France to ratify the European army plan.

Stutz Says Movies Will Survive TV

By CARL CONNER Record Staff Writer William H. Stutz of North Hollywood, California, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Furman Turnage of Dunn, and an expert in the field of stereophonic recording for movies, and cinemaScope pictures, predicted today that color TV will hurt theatres for a while, but that with "better movies" the theater will eventually win popular support.

Stutz is in the state for a few days visit with Mrs. Turnage, Carl Parnell of Dunn, a half brother of his wife's, and other relatives.

An executive vice-president and engineer with Magnasyn Manufacturing Company, Limited, of Hollywood, Stutz has been able to keep close contact with the latest developments in the theatrical world.

Discussing TV-vs.-movies, the sound and recording expert said there will be a battle for top spot. However, he pointed out that movie producers are willing to spend money to make the best possible pictures.

"Theaters will spend money to give good entertainment," he said as he contrasted the TV and theater worlds.

As an example of the cost of modern equipment being used by theaters, Stutz stated that many producers are now paying from $3,700 to $12,000 for installation of stereophonic sound alone. This gives the picture the quality of voice one would expect while actually talking to an actor or actress in person, he pointed out.

But, with the coming of color TV, theaters expect to suffer a slight setback, the expert said. This will be prompted by the fact that black and white TV sets will be sold, and more extensively, before color sets purchased. After that, some of the would-be theater-going public will stay at home, he theorized.

This situation will be only a temporary matter, however, Stutz stated. "With more money, and improvements in sound and perfection of the theater will make a fast comeback," he added.

SECURING RIGHTS NOW Already many large producers are securing rights for the best sellers written during the past three years. These books will be filmed at a profit to some authors of more than 100.

Thinks Increase In Debt Limit Is Inescapable

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, voicing deep concern over Red China's attacks on Allied planes, declared today that the United States will defend itself wherever necessary.

But the President also told a news conference he expects the American carriers that have been patrolling off the coast of Hainan island in the South China Sea would be leaving the area shortly.

He flatly rejected Red China's charges that American planes, which shot down two Communist attacking planes, were over Chinese territory.

INCREASE NEEDED President Eisenhower said that he feels an increase in the federal debt limit beyond 275 billion dollars is inescapable.

The amount of the debt subject to the legal limitation was $275,790,304,616 at the end of the last fiscal year on June 30. The government's periods of lowest income and heavy expenses lie in the coming months.

The chief executive said he was not ready to disclose how he proposes to raise the debt limit. But he said the action is a necessity and as far as he can tell now, there is no escape from it.

WANTS PROGRAM PASSED Discussing the broader aspects of his legislative program, which has been stymied in the Senate by a long filibuster, he said he would be more than bitterly disappointed if more than a handful of bills passed.

REYNOLDS FREED ON TECHNICALITY CLAYTON, Ala. (AP)—The embankment indictment against former banker Royal Reynolds was tossed out in Barbour Circuit Court here today on a technicality.

Judge George Wilcox ruled the indictment naming Reynolds and his co-defendant, H. H. Knight, was questionable, and the case was returned to the Grand Jury, which meets again in January.

DUNN BAPTISTS TO HEAR DANIEL Dr. R. T. Daniel, professor of Old Testament Interpretation, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest, will be guest minister at the First Baptist Church Sunday, August 1.

Rev. Ernest P. Russell, pastor, will be attending the Foreign Missions Conference at Ridgecrest, N.C. Dr. Daniel was professor at the Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Ft. Worth, Texas, previous to coming to Southeastern. He has announced himself to North Carolina Baptists since joining the staff at Wake Forest.

In addition to being a successful teacher, Dr. Daniel is an outstanding preacher. Rev. Russell stated today. The public is invited to hear him at Sunday morning services.

SCOUT LEADERS HOLD OUFING Harnett County scouts and their wives were entertained at a steak dinner at Kivette's Park near Buie's Creek last night. Around 25 scout officials and their wives attended the dinner and business session which followed.

District Chairman G. T. Proffitt presided over the dinner and welcomed ladies and other guests to the meeting. Special guest was S. P. Gaskin, Scout Executive of the Oconeechee Council.

The Rev. Weldon Johnson, pastor of the Buie's Creek Baptist Church, prayed grace, and led those in prayer.

RHEE IS ADVOCATING COUNTER-ATTACK WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today told a joint session of Congress today the Korean armistice should be declared dead, and a buildup started for a "counter-attack" on North Korea and Red China.

The 59-year-old South Korean leader, in a speech bristling with defiance of the Communists, appealed for air and naval support of the South Korean army in the proposed "counter-attack."

He did not say he was proposing immediate resumption of all-out war in his ravaged land. He seemed to imply a course to be followed when the anti-Communist forces are ready.

FAT LYNCH CELEBRATES SEVEN YEARS OF SOBRIETY

Pat Lynch, big, good-natured Dunn industrialist, is one of the proudest fellows to be found anywhere—and he has good reason to be proud, too.

He celebrated a unique anniversary Saturday—his seventh anniversary of sobriety.

It was on July 24 at 3 p.m. that Pat took his last drink of whiskey. He hasn't touched a drop since and never intends to take another.

Instead, he has helped literally hundreds of his friends find the road back to sobriety and good citizenship.

Pat today was showing friends a gift that came through the mail yesterday. He is no doubt prouder of this little inexpensive gift than any he ever received in his whole life. As long as he lives, it will be a prized possession.

And he's prouder still of a letter that came with it.

The gift was a billfold from W. B. Boothe and C. D. Cunningham, directors of the famed Keeley Institute at Greensboro. Keeley is the place where drunks who can afford it go to get sober.

They wrote Pat a heart-warming letter, in which they recalled that he checked into Keeley at midnight on July 22nd and was discharged on August 19, 1947.

"We certainly congratulate you," said their letter, "on reaching this 7th anniversary and know that your work in helping others conquer '46' be a wonderful and satisfying experience for you.

"We don't know anyone more deserving of happiness on this occasion and we wish you many more years of confident living."

The story of how Pat Lynch hit the very bottom of "skid row" as an apparent hopeless drunkard and (Continued On Page Two)

Mae Gives 'Em Sex And Male Muscles

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Mae West, at 62, still blonde and curvaceous, made her night club debut last night by introducing "beef cake" to saloon shows.

The queen of comedy sex was greeted with whistles and cheers at the Hotel Sahara as she made her come-back to big time show business with her usual shoulder and hip wiggles and risqué songs. But her retinue of eight muscular men brought down the house in what Miss West called "the first bare chest act for lady customers in history."

"I know what to give the women," she murmured after the show. "A woman likes to look at any male body."

"BIG OR SMALL—LOVES 'EM ALL" "Muscles, big or small, men, I love them all," she changed in the stirring voice that helped make her a star of stage, screen, and (Continued On Page Two)

City Council Sets Record Budget; Taxes Cut to $1.60

The local City Council this afternoon adopted a record budget of $3,271,116, but at the same time cut the tax rate from $1.85 per hundred to $1.60.

Mayor Ralph Hanna said it's still a big budget. "I can remember when I first came on this board that the budget was $2,971,000," he told the Councilmen.

Only minor changes were made in the budget presented for consideration of the Board by City Manager A. B. Duke. Most additions were counteracted by cuts in other places, and the budget total did not change from the original figure presented by the City Manager.

Duke set the estimated assessed valuation at nine and a half million dollars in figuring the budget.

The State Highway Commission will meet in Raleigh tomorrow to review low bids received in the largest bid letting session in recent years. Included in the bids to be approved will be nine miles of the re-located Highway 301.

Commission engineer worked until last night opening and recording 487 bids received on the 53 projects in 25 counties. Low bids totaled $4,266,494.65.

The nine mile section of Highway 301 through Harnett will extend from the Cumberland County line to Johnston County. Contracts for grading will go to Grannis and Sloan for $189,197.50; structure contracts will go to Columbus Contractors of Whiteville, $171,369.56; and D. B. Harrell of Mount Olive will be awarded the contract to move buildings and other constructions for his low bid of $23,214. The bids totaled $393,767.62.

Rain To Bring More Weevils

County Farm Agent Cliff R. Ammons today told farmers that recent rains will increase the cotton growth, but warned them that it will also bring a late "crop" of boll weevils.

"From the present crop conditions, it would seem advisable to be prepared to protect a good late crop of cotton," Ammons warned farmers.

The Farm Agent advised careful and often checks of fields to see that the boll weevil infestation is kept down.

Field checks made in Harnett County Monday of this week indicated the following, Ammons reported:

In the treated fields six percent infestation was found on the farm of William Byrd, Bunnlevel. Tom Williams of Lillington, Route two, had 22 percent infestation, and M. E. Thornton of Dunn, Route four, had 12 percent infestation.

Byrd Brothers of Bunnlevel had 18 percent infestation, Grady Matthews of Lillington had 23 percent infestation, and Mr. Blackmon of Dunn, Route four, had 63 percent infestation.

Price Of Coffee Drops Five Cents NEW YORK (AP)—Coffee prices took a little dip today.

Effective immediately, several leading roasters announced reductions of five cents a pound at the wholesale level.

The action marked the first cut since the destructive frosts hit the Brazilian crop a year ago.

Bids Opened On 301 Work The State Highway Commission will meet in Raleigh tomorrow to review low bids received in the largest bid letting session in recent years. Included in the bids to be approved will be nine miles of the re-located Highway 301.

ATTEND MEET—A large number of Dunn Jaycees attended a district meeting held last night at Mount Olive. President Hubert Peay and Norman Suttles headed the delegation.

Fayetteville Ladies Still Wear Shorts

FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—Ladies in Fayetteville were still walking around in shorts today as the result of the City Council's refusal to grant the request of a local minister.

The Rev. James A. Walker charged last night that women who wear shorts in public are "indecently exposed."

However, Mayor George B. Herdon explained to Walker, who represented the Cumberland County Ministerial Assn., that a city ordinance to regulate the amount of wearing apparel on women would be unconstitutional.

Absent Defendant Is Caught Again

Because he failed to show up for trial yesterday, Carson Adams of near Coals landed in court on another charge and today began a road sentence.

Adams was scheduled to be tried in the county court for possession of bottles whiskey and manufacturing equipment.

Solicitor Neill Ross called the case, but he failed to answer. Sheriff Bill Saloon then called him out and Judge M. O. Lee issued an instant writ for his immediate arrest.

Rural Policeman C. E. Moore went after Adams. He found the missing defendant coming around the corner of the smokehouse with a bottle of whiskey in his hand.

ANOTHER FIVE GALLONS The officer made a search and found another five gallons of moonshine whiskey.

They went back to court with the new evidence.
