Jackson's Corner

By HAZEL JACKSON
Mrs. Rachel Godwin, Misses Norma Lewis, of Hamilton and Raleigh, and Hazel Jackson left early Friday morning for Fort Cavswell where they attended the Y.W.A. weekend session. After three full days of inspiration, fellowship, and recreation, they returned Sunday night. It was really a swell trip and everyone hated to leave.

Well, well, it seems only yesterday that we were getting out of school for the summer vacation, now here it is time for us to go back. We weeks may seem a long time, but really it isn't.

Mary Jackson did something unusual (for her) this weekend, she spent the weekend in Raleigh, her first one in fact since she's been employed by Hudson Belk's, and she seems to think she'll be coming home much of the time. She must be a little homesick!

Sandra Wood has been visiting Mrs. Lulu Purchase, Grace Bennett, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lee this week. Grace Bennett has been ill but is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Strickland (Strick and Vivian) visited his relatives in Richmond, Va. last week and upon their return home they visited friends in Raleigh.

Doc Corbett will deliver the message at Spring Branch Church, Sunday, due to the absence of Mr. Smith's are vacationing this week.

Long Branch Church is reorganizing Young Peoples meeting on Wednesday nights and they urge all the young people that will to attend.

Mr. Buddy House who works with Godwin Building Supply is taking advantage of his vacation this week. He and his family are working.

Marguerite McIntyre drove over to Camp Monroe on Saturday for the junior members of the Presbyterian church who had been there for the week. Those returning with them were: Donna McIntyre, Jenny Lou Wade, Jeanne Williams and "Rusty" Williams. Those attending Camp Monroe this week are: Misses Frances Graham and Ann Weeks.

ing in tobacco, George Henry and Martha Ellen don't seem to like the idea... Speaking of work, if you want to work just get you a job on a tobacco harvest! There's no resting or playing on that thing. If you still don't believe it, just try it! ... Mr. and Mrs. Henry Norris attended Homecoming at Black River Centre Sunday... We've been reading in the paper about the twenty people in Dunn who are worth $100,000. Gee whiz, why don't they pass some of it around? I'd like to have a little for keeps! I don't think anyone would refuse any of that stuff! ... Go to church somewhere next Sunday.

Need Willpower To Stop Smoking Experts Assert

By ARNOLD DIBBLE
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — It's easy to quit smoking. All you need is willpower, imagination — and a plan. There are more plans than brands of cigarettes. Herewith, a summary of the most popular ones:
Plan No. 1: The Vacation Plan. This is very popular at this time of year. The idea behind this plan is that you give up smoking as you take off for the hills or to the sea. Habits associated with smoking are left behind. You are relaxed. You have the greenward or the rolling blue to take your mind off the filthy weed.
This plan works very well — if you spend your vacation in a strait-jacket in a peddled cell which overlooks the lawn of a state institution.
Plan No. 2: The Test Of Strength. The advantage to this plan is that you can use it year-round, not just during the vacation season. Under this plan you place a pack of your favorite cigarettes within plain sight. You then announce to the pack aloud or to yourself, depending upon your determination that you are stronger than any pack of cigarettes. You will conquer same.
This plan works well until you announce to yourself aloud or inwardly: "Oh well, who wants to be strong, anyway?"
Plan No. 3: Just Think of the Money I'll save. Let's see... two packs a day... Two-bits a pack... nearly two-hundred dollars a year. No quitter is quite so happy as he takes off into the wild blue yonder of abstinence as the economy quitter. Frequently the JTOTMIS man actually puts his four-bits a day into a bank and like Silas Marner and Jack Benny fondles the money as it mounts up. Yachts, swimming pools, "retire-at-sixty" floats through his mind — all financed by tobacco saving.
This plan generally works well until the abstainer gets to thinking

Ike Likes Shower

By JOHN L. CUTLER
WASHINGTON UP — Backstairs at the White House: Like a lot of other men, President Eisenhower prefers a shower to a tub bath. Hence, the tall chief executive isn't too concerned about the apparent levity of the bathtubs being installed as part of the remodeling of his century-old farm home on the edge of the Gettysburg, Pa., battlefield.
Three crated bathtubs were parked in what is to be the living room of the house when the President and First Lady visited it last weekend to see how the work is coming along.
"Those tubs seem rather small," commented Mrs. Eisenhower.
"That's what you wanted," the President replied. "That's what we ordered. It doesn't make any difference to me. I don't use them anyhow."
There seems to have been a little innocent deception of Mrs. Eisenhower in connection with a century-old fireplace mantel which the White House staff gave to the Eisenhowers on their 38 wedding anniversary, July 1.
The gleaming white marble, which was a part of the White House from 1854 to 1873, was all installed—even to the presence of a couple of logs in the firebox

The gleaming white marble, which was a part of the White House from 1854 to 1873, was all installed—even to the presence of a couple of logs in the firebox

When the President and Mrs. Eisenhower visited the farm on July 3.
Mrs. Eisenhower expressed her pleasure that it was installed "in one day."
Actually, the heavy marble had been shipped to the farm earlier, and the installation took a good part of three days. Some changes in the basic size and shape of the original plans for the fireplace were required.
The outer dimensions had to be increased, to provide the proper background for the antique vase, and the size of the firebox was reduced to conform to the arch of the facing.
While the rush job was being done on the fireplace installations, work on the rest of the house was delayed by a carpenter's strike in the area.
Mr. Eisenhower said he had given orders to observe whatever regulations were in effect as a result of the strike: That he wasn't in any hurry. He said he didn't expect they would start moving in any of their possessions until some time in the fall.

RETURNS STOLEN ART TREASURE

MYSTERY SURROUNDING the theft of a "priceless" miniature painting from the De Young Museum in San Francisco was cleared up when Lloyd Galloway (right), a young truck driver, returned it to the police. Said to be the work of Flemish master Peter Paul Rubens, the miniature of Archbishop Albert of Austria (left) was ripped from the wall of the gallery. Suspicion centered on Galloway, who was in the museum at the time. Police say he confessed when questioned. (International)

Godwin News

The G.A.'s of the Godwin Baptist Church held their regular meeting at the club house on Friday night, July 23rd. Miss Joyce Holland presided over the meeting. New, bigger load space! New, lower loading height!

New Chevrolet Trucks... do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save on operating costs. The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save extra trips. That's because of extra load space. New pickup bodies are deeper... new seats and platform bodies are wider and longer.

You save time on deliveries. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission saves time and effort at every stop. Optional at extra cost on 1/2, 3/4, and 1-ton models. You save with lower upkeep, too. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models, bigger clutches in light and heavy-duty models, stronger frames in all models.

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression engine power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum road speeds.

And your savings start the day you buy. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks.

Come in and see all the wonderful new things you get in America's number one truck.

Now's the time to buy! Get our BIG DEAL! Save with a New Chevrolet!
