

BULLETINS

Little Things

WASHINGTON (P)—The Democratic 84th Congress, like its Republican predecessor, seemed bent today on forcing President Eisenhower to spend more money than he wants to on farm programs. The House late yesterday passed an Agriculture Department appropriations bill which authorizes future outlays totaling about 100 million dollars more than the President had requested.

STUTTGART, Germany (P)—The U. S. 7th Army announced today one of its field artillery battalions will be returned to the North Carolina National Guard. The 690th Field Artillery Battalion colors, history and records will be returned to New Bern, N. C. Ceremonies marking the change will be held April 4.

WHITEVILLE (P)—A six-day-old forest fire, believed to have been deliberately set, raged across a 10-mile wide front today with no indication when firefighters would be able to bring it under control.

DETROIT (P)—Police today discounted two messages promising the safety of missing Barbara Gaca and pressed the search for the 7-year-old girl with renewed vigor.

LONDON (P)—Left-wing, America-hating Aneurin Bevan was believed to have saved himself from expulsion from the Labor Party today.

CHICAGO (P)—Spokesmen for the New York Yankees and Kansas City Athletics today denied rumors of an impending deal that "could rock baseball to its foundations." The deal allegedly involves a swap of five Yankees for pitcher Arnold Portocarrero of the Athletics.

WASHINGTON (P)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee began considering the Paris pacts for rearming Germany today. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was called as the first witness.

BRNO, Czechoslovakia (P)—Hatred of communism smolders openly here behind the Iron Curtain, but there is little evidence that the Red dictatorship is losing its grip.

WASHINGTON (P)—A mock hydrogen bomb attack on 50 U. S. cities will send thousands, including the President, scurrying for shelter in a nationwide Civil Defense test June 15-16.

SYDNEY, Neb. (P)—County authorities said today it cost them $378 to extradite Floyd Barton from Los Angeles to face charges of cashing a $100 bad check here.

DETROIT (P)—The Detroit Flower Show placed a special guard around exhibits after a rabbit ate 36 chrysanthemums grown in Toledo, Ohio, from stock imported from Japan.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (P)—A member of a Swedish engineering delegation just back from Russia said today ousted Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov has been sent to Siberia "on an inspection tour."

LINCOLN, Neb. (P)—Nine rebellious convicts fought mounting hunger pains today as they kept two guards captive in a stone fortress for the third straight day.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (P)—Myron Erickson had two lifetime goals as a bowler until Monday. Today he had only one: To win the singles championship of the American Bowling Congress tournament, the world series of keggers. Erickson, 47, Racine, Wis., achieved goal No. 1 when he entered bowling's "Hall of Fame" with a perfect 300 game.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (P)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, said last night that "a strong economic potential and an adequate military posture combine to provide potent arguments to back a nation's diplomatic voice."

CALCUTTA, India (P)—Lightning killed an entire family of eight asleep at a tea estate at Tezpur in Assam district last weekend, reports reaching here said today.

ATHENS, Greece (P)—A strong earthquake damaged buildings in a dozen villages in Pirgos area of southwestern Greece yesterday and scores of persons were made homeless.

LISBON, Portugal (P)—French-born actress Corinne Calvet confirmed yesterday that she will marry American actor Jeffrey Stone soon.

RALEIGH (P)—The State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee met here today to discuss a change in deadlines for releasing unused cotton allotments to help weatherstricken North Carolina peach growers.

ATLANTA (P)—Federal farm agents today began a survey to determine the placing of emergency loans to Southern farmers whose crops suffered damage estimated at 50 million dollars in an unseasonable cold wave.

VIENNA (P)—Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab today accepted Russia's invitation to go to Moscow for talks on an Austrian peace treaty. He said he plans to leave by plane on April 11.

WASHINGTON (P)—Cordell Hull, 83, former secretary of state who suffered a stroke Saturday, was slightly improved today but still on the critical list at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Bill Creates

WORK HAS INCREASED
Senator Morgan, who formerly served as Superior Court Clerk and also held the office of Recorder's Court Clerk at that business of the lower court had grown to such an extent that he Superior Court Clerk's staff can no longer do both jobs efficiently.

To require the Superior Court Clerk to do this job, he pointed out, "takes her away from the more important duties of the Superior Court Clerk's office."

court handles an average of about 100 cases a week while Superior Court—last week, for instance—tried only 28 cases.

Senator Morgan pointed out that most counties already have separated these two offices.

DOLLAR PER CASE
The bill for establishment of a law libraries provides that the $1 pointed out that business of the lower court had grown to such an extent that he Superior Court Clerk's staff can no longer do both jobs efficiently.

To require the Superior Court Clerk to do this job, he pointed out, "takes her away from the more important duties of the Superior Court Clerk's office."

tainly not going to ask you to run against me. I made the mistake of inviting a fellow to run against me once before and I almost got beat."

Regardless of who runs and who runs, the two men, who have served together for the past six years, will still remain good friends.

BIRTHDAYS: Today is the birthday of Mrs. Bertha Felton, Chubby Roberts, and H. P. Byrd.

THINGAMAJIGS: Mutt Butt may solve his fishing problems. He's thinking about buying one of Coy Lucas' private fishing ponds. Bet it won't be half as much fun catching his own fish in his own pond. The Eastern Star installation meeting last night was a swank, swank affair—elegant from the word "go." In fact, of all the events we've ever attended in this town, we don't think we ever saw a prettier or more elaborate affair or so many dressed-up ladies before. And orchids were a dime a dozen. They were so plentiful you only noticed ladies who didn't have them.

Those Eastern Star girls do it up right. The lodge hall smelled sweeter than sweet with perfume—expensive-smelling stuff, too! We still want to know the name of that pretty visitor from Fairmont. That little lady ought to be in movies. Don't be surprised when you hear that Paul Drew of Dunn has been elected District Deputy Grand Patron of the Eastern Star. He's in line for the honor.

Mrs. Eva Core said she would have enjoyed attending the installation but didn't do so because the ceremony is so long. "But I know it was beautiful," added Miss Eva. A New York paper reports that since Pat Ward showed up in court reading a copy of Tolstoy's "What Men Live By" the next day, each of the girl reporters assigned to cover the trial was presented with a copy of the book by Joe Cohen of the Journal-American. Mrs. Phoebe Leona Drake Johnson reports that she and Ralph had a wonderful time attending his nephew's wedding out in Illinois, but added, "I've seen enough snow to last me a lifetime." Said they drove through it for two days. Incidentally, Phoebe reported that her hair has grown out exactly one-quarter of an inch—which which means she looks a quarter-of-an-inch better! Mary Laidy Differmy took issue with us on that, argued that Phoebe looks better with her short haircut.

"O. K.," we told Mary Lide, "go ahead and look at it from a woman's viewpoint." "That," she replied, "is exactly what I'm doing." It's still a woman's world—you can't win trying to argue with them! Hank Hanna says she had a fine time in New York, saw a lot of good shows, including the new play, "House of Flowers." She liked it better than she did "Can Can." Said it wasn't as naughty! Don't be surprised if Friendly Barnes tries to enter an insanity plea when his case comes up at the next term of court. Floyd Jernigan, victim of the brutal robbery-assault, had a surprise visitor during the weekend. His nephew, Jacob Jernigan, Jr. of Tulsa, Oklahoma, who heard about the crime and his uncle's misfortune on a television program way out there, immediately hopped a plane and came to Dunn to see him. Young Jernigan, who holds a position with American Airlines in Tulsa, spent a half hour with his uncle at the hospital, then headed back to the Raleigh-Durham airport and flew home. He met a fellow between planes at the airport in Washington who had read about the assault on his uncle. "The man was a perfect stranger," said the nephew, "but he was so mad about it I thought he was coming to see me and personally beat up the man." News about Dunn happenings covers the globe.

MORE NOTES: The Rev. Horace Eason, executive secretary of the State Baptist Convention who is now holding a revival at the First Baptist Church, has many close ties with the people of Dunn. Only a few years ago, he led the singing for a revival here. But Mrs. Mack Jernigan can remember further back than that. She was reminiscing with the person the other night and reminded him of the days when he used to come to Dunn to court Iva Pearson—and he hadn't forgotten his old girlfriend, either! Mrs. Jernigan recalled that Eason was a member of the Wake Forest Glee Club back then and was one of the most handsome fellows she'd ever seen. He's still a very distinguished-looking man and his sermons here are proving popular. J. Edgar Black, Jr., assistant manager at Quinn's, looked out his office window the other day and saw a panel truck parked outside. On its side was painted a sign reading, "J. E. Black, Jr., Interior Decorating." Ed thought at first that he was seeing things, but the mystery was soon solved. The truck belonged to a fellow from High Point by the same name who was there to try to sell him some floor wax. Henry and Angela Shell said they had a good time on their vacation to Florida, but that fishing was only fair. There are a lot of peccators in this town. Not only that. We've just found out that George Upchurch sells them licenses. Now, is that nice? Cliff Ammons was in town yesterday getting ready for the spring fatstock show. He's a hard-working fellow.

PRESIDENTIAL LIFT—Barry Elliott, of Rochester, N. H., gets a lift from President Eisenhower after calling at the White House to invite Ike to pay a birthday visit to the Old Man of the Mountain this summer. The "Old Man," which is New Hampshire's official emblem, is a 45-foot-high rock formation which resembles a man's face. In the background of picture is Sen. Styles Bridges (R., N. H.).

New Atomic Blast Is Most Powerful

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—Two Atomic bombs were exploded in a single day today for the first time in Nevada test history; one a whopper so powerful it split a ceiling 75 miles away and the other a "baby" air-burst of an undisclosed secret weapon in America's expanding nuclear arsenal.

A report from a policeman that windows were cracked in a furniture store here by this morning's blast turned out to be erroneous. The store owner said the windows were cracked three days ago.

But the telephone company reported that a woman in the powder room lounge here felt the building shake as the shock wave hit and "heard something running on the ceiling." It was a split opening in the plaster, the company reported.

SEEN AT 400 MILES
It was the first nuclear explosion of today's double-feature atomic test. A second shot, this one a high altitude test 15,000 feet over Yucca Flat, was scheduled for any time between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m., weather permitting.

MAYOR READY TO FILE
Mayor Ralph E. Hanna said today that he would file for a fourth term as soon as the filing books open at the city hall Friday morning. The filing deadline will close at noon on April 11.

GODWIN YOUNG LEADER
Mr. Godwin, the first to announce is a native and lifelong resident of the Dunn community. He was born on Dunn, Route 4, a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Godwin, Sr., of Dunn. His father is a prominent building contractor here.

He attended the Dunn city schools and Toccoa Falls Institute at Toccoa Falls, Georgia. He served in the Army for two years in World War II and saw combat duty in the Philippines, Japan and Malina. He was with the Army Signal Corps and made an outstanding record. Mr. Godwin was associated with Godwin Building Supply Co. here with his brother, Billy Godwin, until about three years ago when he withdrew from the business to devote his time to real estate and other interests. He was also associated for a while as partner with Lewis Godwin in the local grading were set mandatory for trial at the next term of criminal court.

Of the big batch of 15 or more bills of indictment that were reported by the grand jury, every case except three was tried last week. The bill against Walter Tucker, Shawtown Negro, on manslaughter charges arising out of a highway fatality, was marked not a true bill.

True bills, not reaching trial, were returned against Mitchell Monroe, for manslaughter arising out of a highway fatality; against Carl Churchill, A. T. U. officer accused of assault with a deadly weapon; and against Luttrell Williams.

Prison terms, road sentences, and probation were all meted out by Judge Grover A. Martin to the offenders.

Complete list of cases tried, in order of trial, during the week follows:

TART CONVICTED
Granville Tart, forgery, guilty plea, State Prison one year, suspended five years on condition he pay costs plus $20 for use and benefit of Archie Burns, pay to his estranged wife for use of his two children eight dollars weekly and not be convicted of giving forged or worthless checks during one year.

Jessie Marvin Phillips, driving drunk, guilty plea, fine of $100 and costs, and a three months jail term suspended provided he pay costs and not drive for one year.

Paul Faircloth, speeding 70 miles an hour, found guilty by jury; three months in jail, suspended two years on condition he pay ten dollar fine and not drive for three months.

James Williams, guilty plea to forgery of two ten dollar checks on Daille Baggett, State Prison, one year, on both counts, with sentences to run concurrently.

Reidus Brooks, first charged with assault with deadly was on with intent to kill, during evidence tendered guilty plea to assault with deadly weapon on Walter Gillis; Roads, two years.

Eugene Zarczynski, breaking and entering and larceny of watches, guilty plea, State Prison, three to five years; suspended and placed on probation to juvenile authorities in Cleveland, Ohio.

THOMPSON GOES TO PEN
Evans Thompson, breaking and entering, State Prison, three to five years.

Emma Louise Evans, guilty plea to forging a social security check for $19.30 on Sophronia T. Smith at Nick Joseph's watch shop in Dunn; Woman's Prison, two to three years.

Linzo Hinson, first placed on trial for burglary in second degree, changed to combined charge of arson and breaking and entering; not guilty plea to combined charge; acquitted by jury of breaking and entering, but convicted of arson; State Prison, three to five years, with physical and psychiatric examination ordered; must serve six months suspended term for forcible trespass and temporary larceny of car received at January term.

James Leslie McNeill, driving drunk, jury convicted; Roads, four months, suspended two years on condition he pay $100, fine and not drive for one year.

Berton Hall, drunken driving, Roads, six months; suspended on payment of $100 fine and costs, and not drive car in 12 months.

WILSON TRIED
Lewis A. Wilson, waived bill of indictment and entered no contest plea to non-burglarious entry into home of Mrs. W. T. Ferguson and shooting Mrs. Ferguson in the foot. He received three to five years in State Prison on the first count; and two to three years in prison on second count, the last to start at the end of the first. Both were suspended five years on condition he not commit any assault on any person and be of good behavior. However Wilson also on probation on a three to five year prison term in Chatham County had probation revoked and he must serve that prison term. When that is over, there five years of probation lie ahead.

Elwood Oates, robbery from person of Layton Norris, acquitted by jury.

Julia Williams, murder in the second degree, jury convicted as charged; State Prison, 10 to 16 years.

George T. Leach, assault with deadly weapon inflicting serious injuries on Isaac McKeithen, not guilty plea, acquitted by jury.

Jesse Love Jones, guilty plea to driving drunk; one year jail to do what work he can suspended two years on condition he pay $100 fine contracting business. He is one of the town's most successful realtors and has created a number of the city's finest business developments during recent years. He owns the Baldwin and Mattox Shopping Center on North Ellis Avenue, owns half interest in the Nu-Way Tire Company in Lillington, and is now erecting a new two-story Goodyear building in the new Quinn Shopping Center on Cumberland Street.

Active in affairs of the town, Mr. Godwin is a leader in the Junior Chamber of Commerce, is a member of the American Legion, the Baptist Church and takes part in other activities here.

Mr. Godwin married the former Miss Mary Shauger. They have four children, Thomas, Kenneth, William and Dale. He is 29 years old.

Ad Tax

to merchants and, indirectly, to consumers.

Both Gregory and Morgan agreed wholeheartedly that the proposed tax would be unfair and discriminatory against newspapers, television and radio stations.

UNFAIR DISCRIMINATION
While the special tax is proposed for these three mediums of advertising, a special tax has been suggested for the many other mediums of advertising—such as billboards, direct mail, window cards, bus advertising, movie screen advertising, book match and novelty advertising and the many other mediums.

Sen. Morgan said one Lillington merchant told him the bill would cost him at least $80 a year.

"A lot of people thought at first," said Morgan, "that the new blanket tax bill would prove the answer, but I think they're finding out they've got a bear by the tail."

HAS FAIR PLAN
"I still think," said the Harnett Senator, that the bill I offered would be the best selection because it would raise the extra revenue needed and at the same time would be fair to all the people of the State alike."

Senator Morgan's bill would provide a one per cent income tax increase for individuals earning over $3,000 a year and would provide a slight increase for our corporations now earning in excess of $300,000 a year.

MANY MESSAGES
Both Morgan and Gregory said they appreciated the expressions received from citizens of Harnett concerning the new tax measure. They said they had received many telegrams, letters and calls in protest to the proposed new tax on feeds, seeds, and real estate.

Both of Harnett's representatives said they planned to study each tax item thoroughly before making a decision and would welcome the views of all citizens.

Attorneys for Jones reported he had 20 amputation operations on a leg which explained his frequent absences from court.

George Baldwin guilty plea to manslaughter of his son-in-law Robert Cameron; prayer for judgment continued until May 23 when recognized to be in court.

Thalmadge Goodman, public drunkenness, no contest plea Roads 30 days; suspended one year on payment of costs and not be convicted of like offense for a year.

William Edward Phillips, driving drunk, mistrial.

Simpson Crowder, violation of the prohibition law, two counts, illegal possession and illegal manufacture, on first Roads, eight months; and on second Roads, 15 months, the last suspended two years on condition he not be convicted within that time of violation of the prohibition laws.

HOLLIDAY GOES TO PEN
Archie Holliday, indicted by grand jury for first degree burglary, entered guilty plea to non-burglarious entry, State Prison 5 to 10 years, to start at end of six months road sentence now serving for forcible trespass.

Claude Caffess, Negro soldier, guilty plea to involuntary manslaughter and temporary larceny of car belonging to Russell Murchison; State Prison, three to five years; suspended three years on condition he pay costs and be placed on probation for that time, and pay $1,200 to clerk for use and benefit of Ray and Mary McCadden, parents of Nathaniel McCadden, who was killed in the car Chaffee was driving. First payment of $200 due on April 1 and $200 each November and March until paid in full in 1957.

William Jarvis Marsh, two counts of public drunkenness, consolidated guilty plea, Roads 30 days, suspended one year on payment of costs and on condition he not be found guilty of this same offense within a year.

Ledie C. Parrish, entered no contest plea to assault, and to assault with deadly weapon. On first count he drew Roads, eight months; suspended two years on payment of costs and on condition he not be convicted of an assault on his wife or any member of his family, on second count, Roads, two years, suspended two years on same conditions, sentence to start at end of the other term, also placed on probation.

Alexander McConn, hit and run driving, entered no contest plea through his attorney W. A. Johnson. State Prison, three to five years; suspended five years on payment of $1,000 to William Franklin Hollans, injured in wreck and pay $1,000 in four equal sums, annually, the first due on November, 1955.

New Firms

Mr. Godwin disclosed today that the new tire store will be owned jointly by him and O. W. (Shorty) Bass of Dunn. They now own and operate the Nu-Way Tire Company at Lillington.

Mr. Godwin said they would carry the big, complete line of Good-year Tires and would open the latest word in a tire recapping and vulcanizing shop. He said Mr. Bass would operate the firm and that he would serve as a silent partner in the corporation.

ROUSE PLANS PROJECT
Mickey Rouse, owner of other property in the new shopping section disclosed today that he is planning the erection of a new building there in the near future. He did not reveal other details concerning his project.

It is expected that a number of other new business firms will open in the convenient new shopping center within the next few months.

INTELLIGENCE REPORTS
The President may give his own assessment of the present danger in the Formosa area at his news conference tomorrow. But there is no indication that he is ready yet to draw a precise blueprint of intentions regarding Quemoy and Matsu.

His conclusion that war with Red China is not imminent is understood to have the backing of the National Security Council. It is based on both military and political factors.

Politically, the President doubts that the Chinese Reds would launch an attack on the eve of the African-Asian conference scheduled to begin April 18 at Bandung, Indonesia. The Reds hope to use this conference to make propaganda hay with their claim to be a peace-loving power.

Militarily, the intelligence reports indicate that signs of a major Communist invasion build-up have not yet appeared on the Chinese coast. The President does not feel that Quemoy and Matsu, with their strong Nationalist garrisons, can be taken without a major assault. And he sees no evidence that the Reds have assembled the aircraft and trips, or completed the air bases and landing craft, for the kind of major effort required.
