

Sunny and continued hot today and Thursday with widely scattered afternoon and evening showers.

IN CIRCULATION... NEWS PHOTOS... ADVERTISING COMICS AND FEATURES

BIG-4 REACH DEADLOCK ON GERMANY

READY TO LIGHT UP THE TOWN — Dunn Jaycees are ready to conduct a city-wide door-to-door campaign on Thursday and Friday nights of this week to sell light bulbs. It's a drive to raise funds to complete the bath house at Tyler Park and for other community projects. Eye specialists say the bulbs to be sold by the Jaycees are far superior to ordinary light bulbs, but cost no more. The Jaycees will be around to see you one of these nights. Left to right are Lamar Stone, Derwood Godwin, Willie Biggs, Earl Murphy, Corky Cretini and Bob Leak. (Daily Record Photo.)

Lausche Not Interested In White House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today, "I have no ambition to run for president."

The five-term governor, whose name frequently pops up as a possible presidential candidate next year, said, "In my heart, I have no desire to run for the presidency."

The governor attributes the occasional mention of his name as a presidential possibility to the over-enthusiasm of his friends.

As the Midwest's most consistent Democratic winner, Lausche has had support for the nation's top office from Southern governors and from some Eastern interests. Many feel he may be a good bet as a compromise candidate if a deadlock develops in the Democratic National Convention in Chicago next year.

FAVORITE CON CANDIDATE

Lausche's friends, however have not ruled out the possibility the bushy-haired governor might consent to be Ohio's "favorite son" in next May's primaries to name delegates to the convention. They picture Lausche as "concerned" that the "political bosses" he has long denounced may attempt to gain control of the state's delegation for their own selfish uses in trading.

Lausche in an interview, left the door open to run for governor again next year or to enter the contest for U. S. senator. If he chooses the latter course, he would shoot for the seat held by Republican George H. Bender of Cleveland.

"I cannot say now what I will do a year from now," the governor said.

"Events are changing with such rapidity, both on the state and national level, that it is impossible for me at this time to tell what my future course of action may be," Lausche said.

REPUBLICANS KEPT GUESSING

Republicans wish they knew. The conservative governor has won five times out of six in a state that elects Republican senators, a Republican Legislature, and Republican state officials. He carries the big industrial centers despite opposition from labor leaders. He holds his own in the rural.

(Continued On Page Seven)

Bank Of Harnett Is Merged With Durham Bank & Trust

The Bank of Harnett has merged with the Durham Bank and Trust Company, W. H. Harrington, Cashier of the local bank announced today.

The new title of the bank will be the Erwin Office of the Durham Bank & Trust Company, the newest of ten offices operated throughout Central North Carolina.

Mr. Harrington will become an Assistant Vice-President of the Trust Company and Manager of the Erwin Office. R. S. Kelly, former Vice-President of the Bank of Harnett, will also become an Assistant Vice-President of the Trust Company and will continue as Chairman of the local Loan Committee.

George Watts Hill, Chairman of the Board of the Trust Company, joined Harrington in making the merger announcement.

"The merger does not mean that there will be any major policy changes in the operation of the local bank. The Trust Company has always encouraged its out-of-town offices to be banks for their own communities. This means our Erwin manager and the Erwin Loan Committee will have a high degree of personal responsibility and freedom of action. I fully believe that no bank can operate

(Continued On Page Two)

BILL HARRINGTON

SAYS INDUSTRY MENACED

Erwin's Chairman Raps Tariff Cuts

F. E. Grier, chairman of the board of Erwin Mills, said today that cotton textiles are being asked to bear virtually the entire load of economic aid to Japan and "the result may be the extermination of an industry which ranks among the nation's top six."

His comment was prompted by Agreement of Tariffs and Trade's recent tariff reductions on textiles Conference in Geneva. "I know that textile people in State Department at the General

(Continued On Page Two)

Ike Believes Reds Really Seeking Peace

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — President Eisenhower and the Soviet delegates to the Big Four "summit" conference agreed today they have reached a dead end on the issues of German reunification and European security.

That decision was reached after the Soviets at today's brief summit session put forward a European security proposal that was unacceptable to the West.

Yesterday's conference session results indicated East and West were unable to get together on German reunification.

But in spite of these disappointments, President Eisenhower told his Russian opposite numbers today he believes the Soviets want peace as sincerely as the rest of us.

Both sides, he said, must find a bridge to peace.

The abbreviated session lasted an hour and 45 minutes.

It was devoted primarily to Russia's outline of a security plan for Europe that would require scuttling the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—keystone of the Western defense arrangement.

Western delegates called the Soviet scheme unacceptable.

It was agreed then that the pro-

(Continued on Page Six)

Tongay Tries To Hang Self, Asks Divorce

MIAMI (AP) — Russell G. Tongay, imprisoned for his Aquatone daughter's diving death, sought a divorce today in a suit that said he tried to hang himself in his cell.

The burly ex-Coast Guardsman filed the suit Tuesday in the Dade County Circuit Court charging his wife, Betty, of Tarpon Springs, Fla., with mental cruelty.

Tongay, serving a 10-year manslaughter sentence for the death of 6-year-old Kathy Tongay in May of 1953, said he tried to commit suicide in Ralston State Prison because of despondency.

He charged his wife has ceased loving him, has lost her desire to remain married to him and has visited him only once since he went to prison. They were married here in 1942.

These Little Things

BY HOOVER ADAMS

A CALL IN THE NIGHT; OTHER LITTLE NOTES

It was about midnight when the phone in The Record office rang. The voice at the other end of the line was that of a young girl sounded like she must be in her late teens or early twenties.

The voice was a sweet one but full of urgency, almost to the point of desperation.

"Can you please tell me?" she asked, "whether or not my boy friend got his divorce at the last term of court." She called the fellow's name and we told her we didn't know.

"But, please, this is important," she insisted. "It's terribly important that I find out tonight and all the other offices are closed. I don't know anyone else to turn to but you."

We couldn't imagine why any divorce would be so important at that time of night. It was evident the sweet young thing was emotionally upset. We told her to hang on while we checked our files.

"You're a darling," she said, which indicated that she's a gal who knows her way around and knows how to get what she wants.

The answer was no; the object of her affection is still legally wed. The case hasn't come up yet. "Ooooh," she sighed over the

(Continued On Page Two)

PETER TYNDALL DIES

Peter M. Tyndall, 88, died today in the Good Hope Hospital in Erwin. For the past several months he had been making his home with his son, Willard Tyndall at 204 N. Ellis Ave. in Dunn. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

AMONG WORLD'S RICHEST

Billionaire Oil Man Dies In Portugal

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Billionaire oil man Calouste Sarkis Gulbenkian, one of the world's richest men who vowed he would live to be 108, died today in the Hotel Aviz at the age of 86.

Gulbenkian had been bedridden since December 1953 with dropsy and complications in a small yellow shuttered room in the hotel overlooking a tropical garden.

Only a few months ago he hired a jet-passenger plane for a trip to Paris.

Even the rich mysteryman's closest friends had not been aware he was near death, so great was his love for solitude.

Gulbenkian's son and heir, Nubar Gulbenkian, was visiting in London when his father died.

The oilman hated publicity. This fostered many intriguing legends about the life he hid so carefully from the world.

Gulbenkian had newspaper correspondents ejected from his hotel-suite. He liked to do business on

(Continued On Page Two)

Mrs. Monroe Dies In Fla.

Mrs. Graham D. Monroe of Coral Gables, Florida, former resident of Lillington died Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at her home at 2912 Alhambra Circle there following an illness of several months.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 o'clock at the First Methodist Church in Coral Gables.

Mrs. Monroe is a former president of the Lillington Woman's Club and for many years served as a member of the board of stewards.

(Continued On Page Two)

Russians Pass Up Whiskey For Nude Gals

GENEVA (AP) — The loneliest bar in town today is at Russian headquarters in the Hotel Metropole.

For two days, the bartenders have lived in utter boredom, since few Russians have showed up for a drink.

"Very serious, these Russians," one bartender said.

They aren't doing much public drinking while here for the Big Four summit talks, he said. The Russians have no real bars at home and aren't used to this Western form of taking aboard a load.

Their drinking is done fast and with food, the bartender explained mournfully.

Russians Hit Night Spot

But not all the Soviet delegates are stay-at-homes, and their leaders have taken unprecedented steps to show themselves to the populace.

Three Russians were spotted Monday night inspecting the scenery at one of Geneva's many night spots which feature nude shows.

The visitors sat well back in a corner. They drank only coffee.

(Continued On Page Two)

Doctors Won't Speculate On Suzans Chance

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Doctors declined today to speculate on survival chances for actress Susan Ball who was disclosed to be suffering a recurrence of the cancer condition which caused her leg to be amputated 18 months ago.

Doctors at City of Hope Medical Center, 20 miles from the film colony, announced the cancer recurrence Tuesday following more than a week of diagnostic studies.

In a cautiously-worded statement, doctors would only say she had shown "continued improvement" since entering the medical center.

Farmers To Cast Votes Saturday

Tobacco farmers in Harnett County will be very much interested in the two Tobacco Referendums to be held throughout Harnett County Saturday, July 23, according to C. R. Annon's here today.

The two Referendums will consist of the Tobacco Associates Referendum and Tobacco Quota Referendum. Growers in the Tobacco Association Referendum will have an opportunity to vote on whether or not they wish to continue the 10 cents per acre for Tobacco Associates to be used in expanding Tobacco markets in Foreign Countries.

In the Tobacco Quota Referendum farmers will have an opportunity to vote for Tobacco Quotas for 1956 or Tobacco Quotas for 1956-57-58 or no Quota at all.

The polls in Harnett County will open at 8:00 a. m. and close

(Continued on Page Six)

+ Record Roundup +

NEW OFFICERS The Lillington Industrial Development Corporation will again be headed by the same officers who operated the corporation in its first year of existence. The nine member board of directors recently re-elected W. A. Johnson, president; D. P. Ray, Jr., vice-president; W. K. Sexton, secretary; and Sion Wilborn, treasurer.

EMPLOYEES WANTED — Representatives of the N. C. Employment Service will be in the Town Hall in Lillington on Friday, July 22, to interview women interested in securing employment with the Lillington Garment Company. Interviews and aptitude tests will be given from 10 a. m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p. m. The new industrial building, which houses the shirt making plant is air-conditioned throughout.

MARRIAGE LICENSES — Marriage licenses issued during the past week from the office of Mrs. Inez Harrington, county register of deeds, in Lillington have gone to the following couples: on July 19, to Robert Eugene Baly, 29 of Oak

(Continued on Page Two)

TAKE YOUR PICK—Sure to stand out on any beach are these unusual swimsuits being modeled in Paris. From left they are: A cactus model with thorns, a garter-trimmed design with net neck-line, a mosaic two-piece plated with mica, a heart-shaped Bikini, an aluminum-scaled Bikini and a model called "Gutenberg," (after the famous printer) which features letters that leave prints in the sand. Built up by Beard.

NEGRO SOLON KNOCKED DOWN

Fist Fight Occurs In Congress Today

WASHINGTON — Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey of West Virginia swung an uppercut at a fellow Democrat — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York — in a heated dispute today over an anti-segregation amendment to a school construction bill.

One Congressman said Powell was "sitting on the floor" after Bailey threw the punch during a closed House labor committee meeting.

Another committee member said it was strictly a one-punch dispute, that no damage was done and that he doubted the punch even landed. Bailey, a short, balding, peppery little man who was 69 last Friday, denied he threw a punch at the towering broad-shouldered New York Negro, who is 46, and built like a well-conditioned heavyweight.

"It never happened," Bailey told a reporter. "It was just a wordy argument." Powell also refused to confirm there was any fistfight.

(Continued On Page Seven)