Impudent Man Jailed After Accident Here

A 19-year-old Marine who was described by Dunn police as "the most impudent fellow we've ever seen" was being held in the Dunn jail today as the result of a highway accident in which he caused two other vehicles to pile up.

The prisoner was listed as Raymond A. Keach, of Camp Lejeune. On the accident report which Keach signed, he scrawled the words, "I don't care" and went back to his jail cell and stretched out.

Policeman Paul Stogsdill said Keach drove his 1942 Cadillac from W. Harnett Street into the busy Highway 301 traffic on North Ellis Avenue.

FAILED TO STOP

The officer said he failed to stop at a stop sign and ran smack into a 1955 Ford driven by Paul Winfred Haskins, 27, of Rocky Mount. Keach's Cadillac struck the Ford with such violent force that it knocked it into a 1954 Chevrolet pickup truck being driven by Mrs. W. G. Dixon, 55, of Benson. Haskins suffered a back injury and possibly internal wounds, extent of which have not been determined.

The Cadillac was a complete loss; the Ford was damaged to the extent of about $700 and damage to the other vehicle was about $100.

Policeman Stogsdill said Keach had no liability insurance and only two dollars in his pocket. Policeman Stogsdill said the Marine showed absolutely no concern over the injured man or the damage he caused.

Score Of Lives Lost; Damage Many Millions

By UNITED PRESS

A dying hurricane poured flood waters across the northeastern United States today, inundating hundreds of communities, taking almost a score of lives and causing damage estimated in the hundreds of millions.

Western Connecticut and Massachusetts were declared official disaster areas. Sections of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia were awash with the waters from spilling rivers and bursting dams.

Ten thousand blasting caps, capable of blowing up any bridge they touch, were washed into Pennsylvania's Schuylkill River from a flooded powder plant and coursed down the swollen stream toward Philadelphia.

Rail service was suspended on mainlines throughout New England and in other affected states.

Roads into affected areas were washed out, blocked by landslides or bucking bridges.

Damage To Crops Not Half Million

Harnett Farm Agent Cliff Ammons today estimated Harnett's total crop damage from both Hurricane Connie and Diane at approximately $419,000.

After completing his survey of the veteran farm official said at 1 P.M. this afternoon he saw no possibility that the damage would run over a half million and said he thought the $419,000 figure liberal.

He estimated damage to the county's 20,000 acres of tobacco and 20,000 acres of cotton at roughly 5 per cent, and said the big corn crop of 44,000 acres was damaged possibly as much as 7 per cent.

Based on current market prices, this would figure $184,800 loss on corn; $150,000 loss on tobacco and $75,000 loss on cotton.

REPORTS EXAGGERATION

He said total loss on all other crops would not be over $10,000 combined.

Opening Of Market Set For Thursday

RALEIGH (AP) — A buyer shortage has forced a two-day postponement for the start of tobacco auctions on the huge eastern flue-cured belt.

Sales on Eastern Belt markets had been scheduled to start Aug. 23, but the sales committee of the Bright Belt Warehouse Assn. voted unanimously yesterday to delay the opening until Thursday, Aug. 25.

The action was recommended by the Eastern North Carolina Warehouse Association after a poll of major buying companies to determine whether full sets of buyers would be available Aug. 23.

J. C. Eagles Jr. of Wilson, sales committee representative of the Eastern Belt explained farmers with tobacco ready to sell were faced with a choice of waiting or trying to sell on markets with inadequate buyer representation.

Eagles and Fred S. Royster president of the Bright Belt group, said the major companies had given assurance there will be adequate buyers on the Eastern markets Aug. 25.

Some buying firms urged a delay until Aug. 29 in order to let them clean up a far heavier-than-expected crop on the Georgia-Florida Belt.

Royster said through last night the Georgia-Florida Belt will have sold 200 million gross pounds. Producer sales in the belt had been estimated at only 164 million pounds.

Poster Leads To Reunion With Wife

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — William J. Rainer, 48, glanced idly up at the face of a pretty girl decorating an advertising card on a Municipal Railway bus.

The ad suggested that any girl just like this one could get and hold a fine secretarial job by learning the sponsor's shorthand method.

Rainer was startled. The girl looked familiar — like the wife from whom he separated in 1923. The more he thought about it, the more the resemblance grew.

Standing up, Rainer peered closely at the card. Underneath was a familiar name — Del Rainer. When he and his wife separated, Mrs. Rainer took their 20-month-old daughter, Delores, with her.

Rainer ripped the ad from the wall of the bus and went to the secretarial school. There they directed him to a downtown office where Mrs. Rainer works.

The finding of his daughter ended a search that began two years ago when Rainer who had become an odd-jobs man around Denver, received a letter from his daughter. Miss Rainer had traced her father through relatives.

Rainer came to San Francisco about a month ago to look for his daughter. She had moved from the Telegraph Hill address she had given, and no one there had ever heard of her. She was not listed in the telephone book.

He stayed around town, hoping to find her and it was by a stroke of luck that he saw her picture on Sausalito across the bay, where father and daughter had a reunion.

Rainer's ex-wife was in show business and constantly on the move. Del was boarded out with relatives. Finally, her mother married again and the family settled here, where Del grew up.
