Gunman

(Continued from Page One) down under hours of police grilling. Assistant State's Attorney Frank Wehlan said early today that Carpenter confessed killing Detective William Murphy, 34, on a subway station platform Monday night. He also admitted critically wounding rookie policeman Clarence Kerr, 26, in a gun duel at movie theater Wednesday night. Carpenter claimed that in both cases he broke away from the arresting officers and they fired first. Murphy was seeking Carpenter for a string of tavern robberies and Kerr later spotted the killer in one of the many theaters where he slept to elude police.

Police apparently persuaded Carpenter to confess by pointing out the wealth of evidence and eye witness testimony against him. A United Press reporter overheard a policeman ask the wounded gunman "Don't you feel better," and Carpenter replied "Yeah, you had all those eye witnesses."

He also took police to the Powell home and showed where he had hidden his .38 caliber snub-nosed revolver in a stove pipe.

VICTOR IN GUN DUELS Carpenter was a victor in both his gun duels with police, but Kerr winged him in the gaffe at the Billmore Theater. Moments later, gun in hand and limping from a leg wound, he forced his way into the Powell home at 2040 Potomac Ave.

"You know who I am," Carpenter said. "I killed that police officer Monday night and I killed another one tonight. I'll kill anyone who tries to get me."

For the next 24 hours, the wounded gunman sat in the Powell home, holding his revolver most of the time. His refuge lasted until Powell, plotting desperately to save his family, outwitted him Thursday night.

CARPENTER TRUSTS POWELL Powell, a 35-year-old truck driver, persuaded Carpenter to let his wife take their children, Bobby, 7, and Diane, 3, for a walk. Otherwise, he said neighbors might get suspicious.

Then, talking fast and convincingly, Powell said he always visited his grandfather down the street. Carpenter trusted Powell and let him go. Minutes later, Powell was at a telephone with the words "A woman and two children are being held at bay at 2040 Potomac."

Thirty squads of policemen answered the call within minutes. Carpenter, crouching alone at the Powell's second-story window, heard the approaching sirens and decided to make a getaway.

He leaped through an open window and across a three-foot area-way into the next door apartment of Stanley Sciblo. Gasping "Stay where you are and everything will be all right," he ran to the rear steps and up to the third-floor apartment of Alphonse Krolkow-ski.

But by now the string had run out for Carpenter. Police swarmed in the street below and a loud-speaker barked a surrender order.

MOB SHOUTS "KILL HIM" Spotlights picked out Carpenter's frantic form at the third floor windows and police poured in tear gas and machine gun shells.

Police heard the gunman scream "Don't shoot - I'll give up. I'm Carpenter."

Then he fled back to the Sciblo apartment. Four policemen rushed in and grabbed him as he cowered in a bathroom.

Policemen, who would have welcomed a chance to shoot it out with Carpenter, found themselves forced to protect him from a mob of about 1,000 persons outside the Potomac Avenue apartment houses.

As Carpenter was led from the building there were shouts of "Kill him Kill him!" A man tried to grab a policeman's gun and was rebuffed with a blow from a gun butt.

Carpenter asked later why he didn't make a fight of it, replied "They would have killed me." Policemen said they would have done exactly that.

Meg's Lover

British newspapers were working themselves into an uproar of "will she, won't she" announce her engagement to Townsend.

Five of London's nine national morning dailies already have speculated on what Margaret will do, all of them said whatever she does it will concern Townsend.

The most uninhibited was the tabloid Daily Mirror which demanded in huge front page type: "Come on Margaret: Please make up on your mind!"

The Sketch, in reporting the telephone conversations, said Townsend drove Thursday to the office of British Ambassador Sir Charles Warner after receiving a telephone call and applied for local leave.

"He started to make arrangements to leave Brussels, perhaps permanently."

London's Daily Herald gave the same report Thursday, but the British Air Ministry said "As far as we know he will go back to his normal duties after a meeting of air attaches in London on Sept. 12."

There was general agreement that Townsend would not attend the Princess's birthday party Sunday at Balmoral but will go to the races at Ostend Belgium instead.

Thursday, Watkins, Stevens and the three county committeemen from Harnett were in Fayetteville at an all day training meeting for committee members. Representing Harnett were Seth T. Hodges, Dunn, Route 3, new member of the board and also Curtis D. Gregory of Lillington Route 1 and Roy Milton, Lillington Route 3. They serve three years with one members rotating in a new term each year.

WEDDING PERMITS — Permits to wed were issued from the office of the county register of deeds at Lillington on August 17 to James Prowell Detweiler, 26, of Baltimore, Md. and Mary George Kelly, 22, of Lillington; and on August 18 to John Gerald Smith, 23, Lillington Route 3 and Ola Kelly Avent, 23, Fuquay Route 2.
