Barbara took a total of 11 prizes with these and other animals she has cared for.

18 Are Reported Dead After Quake

CAIRO (AP) — A sharp earthquake jolted the thickly-populated Nile River delta region from Cairo to Alexandria today. Officials reported at least 18 persons dead.

The Ministry of the Interior said 10 persons were killed in Cairo and eight in the northern provinces during the 40-second tremor. Incomplete reports reaching the ministry listed 65 persons injured in Cairo and another 25 hurt in the provinces. Unofficial reports from Alexandria said 20 factory workers and 10 students were injured when the tremor rocked the port city and residents stampeded out of buildings in panic. Seven and a school was said to be so shaken it threatened to collapse. Officials said nine of the 10 dead in Cairo were school girls, killed on the first day of the new school term when their kindergarten in the Daher area was damaged by the quake. The government information office said the terror-stricken girls bolted from their classrooms when the walls of the 50-year-old building began to quiver. The children clogged a stairway and broke the railing. Many of them plunged to the floor below.

Sharon of course was just kidding.

RAISED IN NEBRASKA
The young lady from Denver, who was born and raised in Nebraska, has what the sponsors to the Miss America pageant ordered. She is five feet 6 inches tall, and weighs 116 pounds. Her bust is 25, and she has hip measurements to match. She wears a size 7 1-2 shoe, and the size of the dress is 10. The glove size is 6 and the color of the eyes are blue.

Miss Oregon, Dorothy Johnson, took second place in the beauty parade and Miss Chicago, Florence Gallagher, was third. Clara Faye Arnold, Miss North Carolina, was fourth and Ann Campbell, Miss Oklahoma, was fifth.

The other five finalists were Miss Alabama, Patricia Huddleston; Miss Arizona, Beth Andre; Miss Florida, Sandra Wirth; Miss Hawaii, Barbara Mamo Vieira, and Miss Massachusetts, Virginia Maffucci.

ant on bail and "let her go home."

ASK FOR CONTINUANCE
"I ask for no continuance or favors or special consideration," McBride said. "If we could put up bail, the court would retain jurisdiction of her person. Let her go home and I will face her accusers for her."

McBride said the attractive, wealthy matron who wholly unable to give coherent answers to questions since the death of her 22-year old daughter, Mrs. Doris Jean Silver Ostricher, last Aug. 24.

McBride then agreed to a request to Dis. Atty. Samuel Dash to have Mrs. Silver examined by "impartial experts." After the hearing had been in progress nine minutes, Myers called a 10-minute recess to allow the examination by two outside psychiatrists.

After McBride's request for Mrs. Silvers release on bail, Dash told the court:

"We have made all attempts to determine Mrs. Silvers condition, but we have been unable to determine it.

"This hearing cannot be a constitutional one unless she can aid in her defense. The commonwealth does not want any invalid hearing. But want her to defend herself in the proper way."

WANTS CASE HEARD
McBride told the court the defense "wants this case heard. We do not want to leave it hanging in the air."

Mrs. Silver's physician, Dr. Abraham M. Ornstein, a noted neuro-psychiatrist, said she was appearing in court without understanding the charges against her.

"She doesn't even admit her daughter is dead," he said. "Her appearance in court can aggravate her mental illness. She is being forced to appear against my advice."

Mrs. Silver is charged with conspiracy and with being an accessory in her daughter's death.

POISED POSTER GIRL—Jolene Kay Lake, 3 1/2, of Seattle, Wash., doesn't appear over-awed at winning the 1955 national poster contest of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America. Jolene, victim of the fatal disease, is this month calling upon stars of stage, screen, television and radio, as well as leading figures in public life to join in her appeal for 500,000 volunteers. They'll serve in the nationwide house-to-house Thanksgiving Week March for muscular dystrophy.

SCHOOL SONG—Vice President Richard Nixon, members of President Eisenhower's cabinet, and GOP state chairmen attending a four-day "campaign school," join in an after-dinner song fest in Washington. At left, behind Nixon, is Attorney General Brownell.

TILL FUNERAL—A long line of friends of Emmett Till, 14, and curiosity seekers wait to view the boy's body before his funeral in Chicago, Ill. The line extended for blocks from the church (arrow). Meanwhile, in Sumner, Miss., a grand jury indicted two men for the alleged wolf-whistle murder of the 14-year-old Chicago negro who was visiting in Mississippi. The jury indicted Roy Bryant and J. W. Milam, half-brothers, who admit they kidnapped Till but deny they killed him. The two white men claimed that Till whistled at and insulted Mrs. Bryant, wife of Roy.

Ike Seen As Sure Bet To Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is something vaguely familiar, like a half-remembered tune, in these occasional hints from close inside the Eisenhower official family that the President does not hanker for another term.

Insiders will tell you that it sometimes is rudgergy for Mr. Eisenhower to flash that sunny smile upon the assembled citizenry.

"Whew!" he exclaims as he settles back in the privacy of his airplane or automobile after a round of smiles and handshakes with the political customers.

INSIDE REPORT RELUCTANCE

The insiders leak those hints that Mr. Eisenhower is really reluctant, doesn't want to be president again, would like to finish up his one term in good style and retire to the quiet life on his Gettysburg farm.

Maybe so, but a lot of old timers around town will bet now that Mr. Eisenhower is a second term candidate when the times comes. The Republican state chairmen who have been attending campaign school here and who will breakfast Saturday with the President will not be able to squeeze an answer from him. The announcement timetable has been set.

It was set half for laughs and half seriously last spring in a news conference when Mr. Eisenhower told a questioner he will answer up on the subject of his political plans one year hence. That would put the announcement day in early March, 1956. It is definite now that it will be no later and might come a bit sooner.

3 Stabbings Occur In County Today

Something like a Roman holiday appeared to have struck in Harnett County this morning, as three stabbings were reported within the space of a few hours.

A butcher knife opened up the stomach of Mrs. Hazel McKay, 31, who lives two miles north of Lillington. She had blood on her clothes but had already been to the doctor when she appeared at the courthouse to report what happened.

Participants in two other stabbings were not as lucky as Mrs. McKay. They're not walking. Dunn Hospital is reported to be treating two men, and a third, Paul McKay (no relation to Hazel McKay) is reportedly in jail.

McKay was allegedly involved in the stabbing of Prince on Albright, who is believed to have a serious leg wound. The other person injured this forenoon was Willie Shipman, Angier, Route 1.

Rural Policeman Leon Smith, who is investigating the incidents, said Shipman claims to have been stabbed by his wife. Details of the three stabbings were still missing as the Record went to press. Smith stated that he believed Albright underwent an operation this morning, shortly after being taken to the hospital. The stabbing reportedly occurred at 9:30 a.m.

Shipman, said Smith, was admitted to Dunn hospital somewhat after noon. The hospital did not immediately confirm the names of those involved, but said at least one stabbing victim is there. Smith said it was the hospital which called him about Shipman.

Mrs. McKay, whose injuries "could be serious," according to Dr. J. K. Williford, who treated her, was allegedly stabbed by another woman.

Rural Policeman Smith said this woman's identity is known, but she has not yet been found.

MR. JACKSON DIES
R. B. Jackson, 59, of Lillington, Route 2, died early today in Duke Hospital at Durham. Funeral arrangements have not been completed. The body is at Quinn Funeral Home in Dunn.

VISIT MR. BAREFOOT
Mrs. Troy Barefoot, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Barefoot, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Barefoot, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Beasley and Brenda visited Mr. Troy Barefoot Sunday. Mr. Barefoot is a patient at Wat's Hospital in Durham.

Two Held Here On Robbery Charges

Two defendants have been bound over to Superior Court on charges of breaking and entering at Rodney Chestnut's beer tavern in Dunn on September 4 with "intent to commit a felony."

David Stephenson and Hubert Glover both pled guilty to this charge but Judge H. Paul Strickland found probable cause. Their bond was set at $750 each. Stephenson recently completed a prison term for breaking and entering.

Pleading not guilty to possession of tax-paid whiskey Nora Fowler Stevenson, 32, was found guilty, fined $10 and costs. Also guilty of possession Theius Wingate of Wade was sentenced to 30 days suspended, given a $10 fine and costs. Juan Lopez, 22, pleading guilty to possession was given a 30-day suspended sentence and $10 fine.

A more serious fine was levied on Ida Murphy of East Cole Street, who entered a plea of guilty to possession of non-tax-paid whiskey and a second charge of interfering with an officer.

She was sentenced to 6 months in jail, suspended on payment of $50 and costs.

Leola Hodges, 46, has gone to jail for 30 days for public drunkenness. She had pled not guilty.

TRAFFIC VIOLATORS

Traffic violators sentenced included the following:

William Lacy Blalock, Raleigh, no operator's license $10 and costs; Evelyn Delores Ferguson, Brooklyn, N. Y., careless and reckless driving $25 and costs; David G. Godwin, Dunn, Route 5, careless and reckless driving costs.

Fifth of five men to be sentenced on gambling charges arising out of a raid on August 26 was fined $100.

Luby Naylor, who entered a plea of guilty through his attorney, Everette Doffermyre, and was given a sentence duplicating that of the four who preceded him. Sentence also carried a 90-day suspended jail term, and costs of the court action.

Grady Bolling, pleading guilty to an assault charge, was ordered to pay the hospital bills of Graham D. Lamberth, whom he attacked with a knife on August 27.

He also was fined $50 and court costs and sentenced to 90 days suspended on the roads. Earlier, Lamberth had been in court on an assault charge for damaging Bolling with a bottle crate, but he was acquitted when it appeared that Lamberth was the instigator.

Found guilty on a charge of simple assault, Howard Massey was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to 30 days suspended on the roads. His plea was not guilty. He was accused of assaulting James McDougald on September 5.

Johnnie McIntyre, found guilty of bursting a glass tank over the head of Genevo Bratcher on August 14, was fined $50 and costs. He was also given a sentence of four months on the roads, suspended.

McIntyre had also been accused of deadly weapon with intent to kill, 12 months in jail.

Merwyn J. Barber, speeding, $25 and costs.

Rayvon Stewart, driving drunk, 60 days or $100 fine and costs and good behavior.

Floyd McNeill assault with a deadly weapon, 12 months in prison.

cluding merry-go-round, ferris wheel, and an airplane ride.

AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS

For many adults, the real significance of the fair will be in the agricultural and livestock exhibits. Farmers of Sampson, Harnett, Cumberland and Johnston Counties will bring in the cream of their year's work, to vie for the ribbons.

Judging on the exhibits will take place tomorrow. This will be before the opening of rides and other entertainment features at the special fairsgrounds.

In the forenoon, (10 a. m. to 12 noon), ribbons will be awarded to prize-winners in the following classes: home exhibits, educational, poultry and turkey, commercial, field crops swine and horticulture.

The dairy cattle show is scheduled for 3 to 5 p. m. tomorrow afternoon. Judging of handicraft exhibits is from 12 noon to 1 p. m.

SPECIAL DAYS

Wednesday is Farmers' Day and Saturday is Veterans and Fraternal Day, but the fair will go full speed all week, with plenty to see at all times.

The Aerial Barretts, big free act, will feature a man-and-wire pair doing head and hand stands, Adagio, etc. on a slender pole topped by a tiny platform which extends to a dizzy height into the air. The free acts are at 10 each evening.

At eleven tonight, there will be a fireworks display. There is also to be a drawing tonight for children, with cash prizes of $50 and $25 going to holders of the lucky tickets.

Among those who will have commercial booths at the fair are Sears, Bass Electric, Page Electric, Lee Moore Oil Co., Johnson Cotton Co., Dennis Cadillac-Olds, Suggs Co., Strickland Motor, Home Oil, W & S Motor Co., Pope and
