Copy Needed Now

Somebody tapped out a nervous message on their typewriter last night which said "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the Centennial."

That's a popular thought in the Record office just now. We are rapidly approaching the deadline on stories and pictures for the big Centennial Edition which will celebrate Harnett County, past and present.

Some of the pages of this edition are already rolling. More go to the press daily. We're burning the midnight oil, and drinking coal black coffee, and bursting typewriter keys to get this edition out.

The time approaches — we hope everyone will listen to this for everyone can help — when ALL COPY MUST BE IN.

That message, we feel, applies to readers as much as it does to us. The Centennial Edition is not just a project of the Record staff. It couldn't be. It's too big.

It takes, you see, more than one team to lift an elephant. Our Centennial Edition cannot be shoved into the higher stratospheres of his-

WHO CAN HELP

The following persons are in a position to help the Record collect and prepare material for its Centennial:

1. Officers of clubs, civic, social and patriotic.
2. Present or former public officials who can give details of Harnett history.
3. Old-timers and participants in important events early in this century or late in the last one.
4. Collectors, or possessors, of old snapshots.
5. Those holding important historic records or facsimiles. Those with letters or other old papers whose contents bear on significant local events or personalities.

THE DEADLINE ON THIS MATERIAL IS NOW. IT MUST BE IN SOON OR CANNOT BE PRINTED.

itorial reporting unless a lot of people join us in putting it up there.

WONDERFUL RESPONSE
A lot of them are doing it. They have responded wonderfully to the letters we mailed, and our telephone requests, and the calls for pictures and stories. But we know that more of you have stories — probably not written yet — on which you are sitting.

Don't continue to sit on them. Bring them in. Call us. Look on this edition as something that needs your personal help to come through. It does.

Club presidents, if you haven't submitted a history of your organization yet, this means you. Whether you received a letter requesting it or not. It certainly means old-timers who could bring in information about the early growth of the County that would be pertinent to the edition.

We know we can't recapture the look and the feel of other years without dozens of pictures that date back into the early part of this century and before. We have many such already but need more.

In some cases, pictures which are only ten years old, or fifteen, may have historical significance. We hope everyone who has prints of this kind will bring them to us.

The Centennial Edition eventually will go to the far corners of this nation. It will be in the hands of many persons who stand to influence the future growth of this community.

"The Harnett County Story" is a good one, and we want to tell it good. We want to tell it all. We really do think it will make a difference.

Colonial Hams

(Continued from Page One) The ham competitions. It took nine of the ten top prizes. Colonial has also taken a first in state competitions.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED
The hams were judged for all kinds of qualities, and Colonial's in all, but it was when the judges got right to the heart of the matter — the small test, and the one where they try some of the ham and taste it — that it revealed itself as a clear winner.

"We think this will make some difference in orders, all right," said Wullenwaber. "Other firms have won this prize, but they haven't been in a position to cash in with a lot of hams in stock."

THE RUSH IS ON
"We have six or seven thousand right now, and of course we turn out perhaps twelve or fourteen thousand in a year. That is just the part of our work that goes into the commercial market, because we do a lot of curing for farmers here."

"I'll say this. I think the prize came to us partly because we use the lean-type ham. Beyond what we can do to prepare the ham, it has to be good to begin with. We owe this wonderful type ham we get to farmers in this area."

"This is an appropriate manner to observe the 100th anniversary of the formation of Harnett County and it commemorates a century of progress for a hardy and industrious people, as well as focus attention on the opportunities for future development and growth."

"Such a celebration also unites the citizens in a common cause, calling for participation in many activities in varied fields, thereby inspiring a cooperative county spirit and acquainting one community with another's values."

Outdoor dramas, based on the struggles and achievement of our past, have been a great success in North Carolina. I wish every success to "The Highland Call" which will be presented nightly during the celebration as another means of portraying the great heritage which belongs to the people of Harnett County.

I commend the efforts of all who had a part in the planning and effort which went into this Centennial Celebration. Harnett County deserves a proper "Happy Birthday" on the occasion of 100 years of achievement and growth.
