

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON (P) — Scientists insisted today that U. S. work on an earth-circling satellite is part of an international scientific venture and not an effort to beat Russia into outer space.

TAZA, Morocco (P) — Rebel guerrillas stepped up their hit and run offensive near the borders of Spanish Morocco today, and the French resident general warned that failure of Spain to control its zone could mean "terrible war."

PARIS (P) — Premier Edgar Faure's demands for national unity against foreign interference in France's North African empire won him a brief flurry of support today in the hostile National Assembly.

DENVER (P) — The continued flow of encouraging news from President Eisenhower's bedside indicated today he is nearing the end of his critical two weeks recovery period with none of the complications his doctors feared.

WASHINGTON (P) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's invitation to Denver may mark a changing trend, but for the moment Nixon seems to qualify easily for the uneasy position of being the most controversial political figure in the United States. Nixon flies West Saturday.

PITTSBURGH (P) — Three rain soaked, wind-chilled convicts who sought "easier time" by staging a 15-hour sit-down on a 100-foot water tower in the Western State prison yard gave up today.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (P) — Juscelino Kubitschek, Communist-supported candidate of the Social Democratic Party, took a commanding lead today in Brazil's presidential elections. His victory appeared assured. Joao Goulart, Kubitschek's running mate, also moved out in front in the separate race for the vice presidency. He, too, appeared a certain winner.

WASHINGTON (P) — The government announced today it will pay lower subsidies to airlines in the next two years.

CHAPEL HILL (P) — Robert Royal Copeland of Ahsokie will be honored next week as North Carolina's "Pharmacist of the year."

MONTREAL (P) — Preliminary plans for atomic-powered airliners and possible flights behind the Iron Curtain shaped up today as fodder for informal talks at a New York meeting starting October 17.

WASHINGTON (P) — The Navy today was reported negotiating a contract with the Glenn L. Martin Company to design and build a launching system for the proposed earth satellite.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P) — The United States has urged Britain and France to join Canada in strong support of President Eisenhower's "open sky" plan to hasten Soviet acceptance of the arms inspection scheme.

WASHINGTON (P) — The Senate's constitutional rights subcommittee has called off scheduled hearings on freedom of religion. A backstage controversy had simmered over the hearings since they were first announced.

WASHINGTON (P) — The number of reported new polio cases is continuing to fall off rapidly. The U. S. Public Health Service said today that 1,260 cases were reported in the week ended October 1. This is 21 per cent below those reported in the previous week and less than the number reported in any of the previous five years.

BOURNEMOUTH, England (P) — Britain was told that it faces a tighter squeeze on credit to bolster its shaky economy.

CULVER CITY, Calif. (P) — Planes guarding the North American continent against air attack are being equipped with an electronic brain which has "shifted aerial combat advantage from the offense to the defense," industrialist Howard Hughes has disclosed.

WASHINGTON (P) — The Commerce Department reports that the annual rate of personal income in August dropped 300-million dollars below the July rate to a total of 305-billion dollars.

SEOUL, Korea (P) — Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. conferred with President Syngman Rhee for about an hour today but they avoided discussion of Korean hopes for more American aid.

CAIRO (P) — Voluntary donations from citizens to help the government purchase arms from the Soviet Union exceeded $288,000 today.

BONN, Germany (P) — Plans were underway today to set up a West German defense council headed by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to coordinate all military, economic and financial matters related to the nation's defense.

FERRERA, Italy (P) — Archeologists today examined a rich find of ancient Etruscan art in tombs uncovered in the Spina Marshes near here.

WASHINGTON (P) — Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, high government official in both the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, died at Walter Reed Army Hospital last night while undergoing an operation for cancer.

RALEIGH, N. C. (P) — The sales committee of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association will hold its regular weekly meeting here tonight to review the tobacco marketing situation and possibly make some more changes in selling time on the four flue-cured belts.

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (P) — National Guardsmen kept "limited" martial law clamped on New Castle today and Mayor Paul McCormack said the troopers would stay until the threat of more bloody strike violence has passed.

Little Things

have one. The Daily Record and the Hall of History would certainly like to borrow it... A big crowd is expected in Lillington tonight for selection of the Centennial Queen, and Baptists and other citizens are expected to turn out in a huge throng Sunday night to hear Dr. Casper C. Warren, Dunn native, who now lives in Charlotte and is president of the huge Southern Baptist Convention of more than eight million members... Incidentally, the First Baptist Church of Dunn now lacks just two of having an even thousand members... The last count showed that Dunn's church has an enrollment of 998... Malcolm Fowler's very interesting history of Harnett shows that the Dunn congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is the second oldest church group in the entire state of North Carolina... It was organized in 1896 in Sampson County and removed to Dunn in 1926... Dunn Rotarians Friday night held an interesting panel discussion on the issue of segregation... Dr. Glenn Hooper is the man responsible for bringing U. S. Senator Sam Ervin to Dunn next Wednesday night to address the Men of the Presbyterian Church... Doc read in this column that he would be in town, so he called and invited him... Sen. Ervin is an excellent and entertaining speaker, knows enough good stories to delight any audience.

BIRTHDAYS: Celebrating birthdays Monday were: Corbett Hodges, Graham Tuttle, Jack Jackson, Jr., Leona Cox, Jean Kanoy Hamill, Mrs. George Franklin Blalock and Mrs. David Wesley Nelson, Jr.; Tuesday, L. L. Coats, Sr., Richard Young DeToy and David Cox; Wednesday, Morton Fleishman, Helen Byrd Parker, Mrs. George W. Gardner, Sr. and Louise Green; Thursday, Mrs. Walter Beasley of Benson, Route 2; Celebrating today are: May Wheeler, Jay Snipes, Mrs. Rotha Pope Oldham, and Waylon David Emmertz. Saturday will be the birthday of Susan Prince, Howard A. Johnson, Elizabeth Grant-ham, Mrs. Minnie Warren, Clayton Black, Jean Stallings, Ellen Brooks Snyder, Kelly Bledsoe... Celebrating Sunday will be Paul Walker, Kenny Price, Mrs. L. L. Milam, and Helen Thompson Parker.

THINGAMAJIGS: It was inevitable—it just had to happen... The Daily Record will soon begin a special series of articles in—you guessed it—Marilyn Monroe... They were written by Columbus Earl Wilson and the series is entitled: "The Rebellion of Marilyn Monroe"... It gives the innermost, unpublished secrets of the luscious lady of the screen... Earl Wilson really did his stuff on this subject—but what a subject—and the articles are even better than the series on Ava Gardner... If Dunn's Centennial Celebration is a success, the credit will go to Area Chairman Carl Fitchett, Sr. and Mrs. Nathan Johnson, both of whom have worked night and day... Mrs. Johnson has been getting up at the break of day and working until late in the night on the arrangements... Carl says his telephone rang 19 times in just one night—and each call was about the celebration... Gilbert Porter, local restaurant operator, and Lucille Travelstead, one of his employees, became man and wife on September 22 and are still honeymooning... Congratulations... If there's a pretty young girl who is interested in matrimony, and who knows how to sell advertising, we suggest you apply to Jackie Bennett at The Daily Record office for the surest, quickest and most direct route to the altar for any girl is to get a job selling advertising for this newspaper... It seems to have become something of a matrimonial bureau... During the past year, The Record trained three different girls as ad salesmen and we lost all three to old Dan Cupid—damn him!... First, to quit to get married was Eunice Trogden, then Bobbie Jean Whittenton and now Norma Pearce... But the job is a natural... The Record ad girls get to meet every man in town; they're always in the public eye and the men are always after them... The line forms to the right, girls... Jackie will interview you one at the time... But you've gotta be young and pretty, able to sell and willing to work.

COATS FLOATS — Coats parade chairman Eugene C. Stewart has rounded up some extra units for the Centennial parade there Thursday, Oct. 13. COTTON GIN FIRE — Early this morning 26 volunteer firemen were aroused at 5:15 to put out a fire at a cotton gin at Jackson's corner. Burlap bagging around the press had caught fire. They put out the blaze without trouble and there was small damage. The gin, Byrne, who married the former Sue Nichols of Coats... Tommy made a magnificent comeback and everybody is real proud of him, but he lost his one great claim to fame in that final game... After their goodwill trip to Japan, Tommy and Sue are going on a trip around the world... Most local people remember Tommy as a pitcher for Angier in the old Tobacco State League... The row going on in Dunn's Second Baptist Church has received widespread publicity and editorial comment all over the State... Editors seem to be split... The editor of the Sanford Herald sharply criticized one of the members who was ousted, while the editor of The Harnett County News literally blistered the preacher and his group... The Durham Herald on Sunday devoted almost two columns to the church squabble... We Baptists, it seems, love a good fight—at least we do enough of it... But it's still a great church of individuals who have the courage of their convictions... Lee Polivian, the cute little gal who directed "Holiday Aho!" here last week, wrote us from Beckley, West Virginia to suggest that Dunn reorganize its Little Theatre... She also wrote to Mayor Ralph Hanna about it... And it's an excellent idea... Dunn has a lot of wonderful talent that needs developing and the Little Theatre offers an excellent opportunity for it... Bob Dickay was all smiles today... Says the beautiful new 1956 Dodge, which he is now displaying, is the finest car ever built by Dodge... It has push-button gear shifting and all those other modern gadgets... Henry Turlington, Sr. reports that his hog sale was a big success... That man really knows how to breed fine hogs... There's no better stock to be found anywhere... And his hogs make such wonderful sausage!

MRS. JOSEPH B. WEAVER

Lieutenant Joseph B. Weaver Wed Miss Andrews In Louisiana Ceremony

The Marriage of Miss Johnnie Andrews of Shreveport, La., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin Andrews of Benton, La. to First Lieutenant Joseph Bryant Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger N. Weaver of Lillington was solemnized Saturday, the twenty-fourth of September at 5 p. m. at the Red River Baptist Church in Benton.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length dress of white satin fashioned with off-the-shoulder neckline, trim-med in seed pearls and a shoulder length veil of illusion. Her flowers were white orchids.

Mrs. William V. Reigle was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an afternoon frock of green net over taffeta and had a bouquet of Tallman roses.

Two young nieces of the bride, Judy Burdige and Evelyn Merritt, were flower girls and wore yellow dresses and had matching wrist corsages. Church decorations followed the traditional green and white.

Prior to the ceremony a program of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Sam W. Murdshaw, pianist, and Miss Ann Merritt, soloist, niece of the bride. The officiating minister was the Rev. E. E. Jolly.

The bridegroom was attended by Major Cassius C. Davis as best man. Ushers were Lt. Harvey S. Gardner, Jr., and Lt. C. Clark Matkins, all of Barksdale Field, Shreveport.

Mrs. Andrews, mother of the bride, wore a mauve pink dress with black accessories, while Mrs. Weaver, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in a brown outfit with brown and white accessories. Both wore matching corsages.

The bride was graduated from Benton High School and Norton Business College and for the past five years has held a bookkeeping position with an appliance company in Shreveport.

Lieutenant Weaver attended Campbell College and Elon College in this State, serving as a pitcher on the Elon Varsity baseball team. He has been in the Air Force for four years, earning his commission after his entry into service. At present he is stationed at Barksdale Field, near Shreveport, where he and his bride will make their home.

Lieutenant Weaver and his bride are now on a visit to his parents in Lillington and plan to leave Monday. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. R. N. Weaver, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. J. L. Hamilton will receive at an informal tea at the Weaver home to introduce the bride to around 60 Lillington friends of the bridegroom.
