PETER CALLS ON PRINCESS FOR ANSWER

DIGGING THE FIRST SHOVEL OF DIRT — Alton Avery is shown here with shovel as he broke the ground Sunday for the handsome new parsonage and recreation hall to be erected by members of the Erwin Church of God. Standing beside Mr. Avery,

Rawls To Speak To Workers At Woman's Club

Campaign workers for the Dunn United Fund will hear Guy Rawls, prominent Raleigh citizen, in two talks at two "kick-off" meetings of the home-to-home campaign which gets underway here Tuesday morning.

Mr. Rawls will speak at the Woman's Club to over 100 men at 8:15 a. m. tomorrow, and then a movie of United Fund in Action will be presented by Hal Bronfin, executive secretary of Carolinas United. Work kits for each worker will then be distributed as each of the volunteer workers is served doughnuts and coffee. The doughnuts are being contributed by the Dunn-Rite Bakery, French Market. Coffee is contributed by Jule T. Mann, and cream is being furnished by Garner Dairies.

The men will be working their assigned territories under the direction of Hal Jordan, chairman, and Willie Biggs, co-chairman of the local campaign.

WOMEN'S GROUPS

At 9:15 a. m. tomorrow some 125 women will assemble at the Dunn Woman's Club for their "kick-off" meeting, and Mr. Rawls will again be heard. The special movie for United Fund workers will also be shown, coffee and doughnuts served, and the worker's kits distributed.

Mrs. J. O. Warren, executive secretary of the Dunn United Fund, states that each worker will be given an area for her solicitations which will be convenient to her home, and that approximately two hours time is about all that will be necessary for each to work her area.

Mrs. John Ciccone is general chairman of the home-to-home workers group, and she will be assisted by...

ERWIN QUEEN — Pretty Miss Judy Williams, shown here, was crowned as Homecoming Queen at Erwin High School Friday night as the halftime feature of the homecoming game with Mount Olive. Decision On Romance Due In 48 Hours LONDON (U. P.) — RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend rushed to Clarence House today to learn from Princess Margaret whether she had reached a decision on their romance during a weekend visit with the Queen.

Townsend sped up to the front gates, tooting the horn of his sedan at a crowd of 200 onlookers, and strode quickly in the front door. Margaret was alone in the house, Queen Mother Elizabeth having left earlier.

If the 35-year-old princess had made up her mind, now was the time to tell the dashing 41-year-old airman. An announcement was believed possible within 48 hours.

It was their 10th date. They have missed seeing each other only twice during the last 12 days. On one of those days—last Wednesday—Margaret was shaken up in an automobile accident.

The Daily Mail reported today her limousine rammed a concrete traffic island in a heavy rain while a chauffeur drove her from an RAF base at Boscombe, Wiltshire to an airport for the flight to London.

Neither the princess nor the chauffeur was injured, but the Rolls-Royce was damaged.

PRAYS FOR GUIDANCE — Margaret returned today from a weekend at Windsor Castle where she prayed for guidance in the royal chapel and met with her sister Queen Elizabeth for a soul-searching talk on her future and the RAF group captain.

NEW PARSONAGE AND RECREATION HALL

Ground Broken For Church Structure

Ground-breaking exercises were held Sunday for erection of a new parsonage and recreational hall by members of the Church of God at Erwin.

A large crowd was present for the ceremonies, held immediately after the morning worship service. The Rev. R. W. Tedder, now serving his fourth year as pastor of the church, presided.

Plans call for the erection of a new building, to contain 2800 square feet of floor space. It will be erected on a beautiful lot across the street from the church building.

Alton Avery, chairman of the carpentry committee, dug the first shovel of dirt for the new structure, and the Rev. Mr. Tedder gave the prayer.

The foundation for the building was laid off on Saturday and construction will get underway immediately.

Large Recreation Hall — The new structure will be a long ranch-type building, with the recreational hall as one wing. The recreation hall will be 26x40 feet in size and will include a kitchen 14x16 feet. It will be equipped with facilities for banquets, movies and other recreational events.

Of brick-veneer, the structure will contain three bedrooms, a large living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette, den, bath and two half-baths. The 2800 feet does not include porches and garage. Estimated value of the building will be about $22,400. However, the Rev. Mr. Tedder said he hopes by using church labor that the actual cost can be reduced to about $17,000.

Many men of the church will assist with the actual construction and the pastor will supervise the project. Henry Turnage (Continued on Page Two)

Willie Blackwell Found Guilty

On a Sunday morning early in September, testified State Patrolman P. G. Albergine, he saw a car moving down a Dunn street with the driver slumped over the wheel.

This he said at the trial Friday, was Willie J. Blackwell. He had followed Blackwell and arrested him.

Blackwell, who took the stand in his own defense, denied being drunk as Albergine and Policeman R. H. Alphin alleged. But the jury decided differently.

They took just 15 minutes to return a verdict of guilty. A four months road term was suspended (Continued On Page Three)

The Marilyn Monroe Story

By EARL WILSON
PART SEVEN

Marilyn Monroe left Hollywood because she wasn't developing there.

Professionally, she wasn't developing, she means. Physically she has no complaints.

Diplomatically, perhaps, Marilyn doesn't call her flight from Hollywood a "rebellion." "I just know I wanted to grow and develop, and that wasn't happening in Hollywood," she told us.

Which Marilyn, then, is she trying to improve?

There's the Marilyn who loves Goya, and Louis Armstrong, and Tennessee Williams, and Mozart—and Brooklyn shopkeepers.

SHE CAN MELT ICE

There's the Marilyn whose baby stare can melt the most hardened walter, or can pierce through the fine print of a contract like a hardened lawyer.

And there's the Marilyn who, cognizant of the popular conception, can say demurely: "Some of my best friends are men."

All of them, it seems. Her many facets sparked the other night when I met her in a little French restaurant in the East 50s. The "new" Marilyn she unveiled was by turns a breathless underdog discovering "culture," an outlander discovering the big city, a woman discovering herself.

I heard the silken sultriness of that voice as the door opened. . . then Marilyn bounced in as only she can bounce, plopped down beside me . . . and I copped a peak at (Continued on Page Two)

Baptists To Hold Annual Sessions

Prominent State Baptist leaders will appear on the program of the 79th annual sessions of the Little River Baptist Association to be held Tuesday and Wednesday in Harnett.

There are 31 churches with more than 9,000 members in the huge, far-flung county-wide association. It has become so big that this year's annual meeting has been divided into two sections.

The first session, for churches in Western Harnett, will convene Tuesday morning at 9:20 at Antioch Baptist Church at Marners. The second session will convene Wednesday morning at 9:20 at the First Baptist Church in Erwin.

Perry Morgan, 71, Is Buried Today

PERRY MORGAN

Perry Morgan, an outstanding North Carolina Baptist leader for many years, died in Raleigh Saturday night at the age of 71. He succumbed at Rex Hospital after a brief illness.

Funeral services for Mr. Morgan, who was vice president of the State Baptist Convention, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Raleigh, of which he was a member. Dr. A. J. Ellis officiated and burial followed in Greenwood Cemetery in Dunn.

In December of 1954, the Biblical Recorder, the official State Baptist journal, printed an article eulogizing Perry Morgan for his long years of service to Baptist and North Carolina. The occasion for the article was Morgan's retire- (Continued On Page Four)
