

WEATHER

Sunny and much cooler today with high 55-60 mountains, 60s elsewhere. Colder tonight. Wednesday fair with rising temperatures.

The Daily Record

The Record Is First

IN CIRCULATION... NEWS PHOTOS... ADVERTISING COMICS AND FEATURES

VOLUME 5

TELEPHONES 3117-3118

DUNN, N. C., TUESDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 25, 1955

FIVE CENTS PER COPY

NO. 231

SHOWDOWN EXPECTED AT GENEVA MEET

THE DEATH SCENE — Spectators are shown here last night as they gathered viewing the wreckage after John L. Sorrell, Jr. drove his car into the path of this Atlantic Coast Line train. The Automobile was wrapped around the big train engine. Mr. Sorrell's body was still pinned in the automobile at the time this picture was made. Other Photos on Page Six. (Daily Record Photo.)

Dulles Holds Strong Hand For Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today held a strong hand of diplomatic cards to play at next week's Big Four showdown meeting at Geneva on key East-West problems.

Dulles, in a whirlwind finish to preparations for the conference, has lined up support of President Eisenhower and a group of congressional leaders of both parties for U. S. strategy on the twin problems of European security and German unity, disarmament and lowering of East-West barriers.

Additional support for Dulles' Geneva strategy came late Thursday from the secretary's own State Department. It suddenly made public an 88-page record of many of Mr. Eisenhower's and Dulles' statements at the earlier Summit Meeting at Geneva last July.

Strong Determination Shown
The document showed the strong determination of the United States to link European security and German unity together — a tussle the President won from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. It also brought out Mr. Eisenhower's flat pledge to Russia that "under no circumstances is the United States ever going to be a party to aggressive war against any nation."

HAL JORDAN

GUY RAWLS

BOB HADLEY

United Fund Drive Opened

United Fund workers are after the big money today—but they are pointing out to those they contact that a lump contribution is the cheapest, the easiest and the best way for the individual citizen to have a share in helping the unfortunate and helping his community.

Leaders in the fund-soliciting campaign listened to Guy Rawls of Raleigh this morning, as he struck a keynote for the drive which must raise almost $35,000 within the city of Dunn.

Presiding over this morning's rush, as dozens of workers prepared to push their collections, was the chairman of the local campaign, Hal Jordan.

RAWLS SPEAKS
Guy Rawls was presented by Hal Jordan. (Continued on Page Six)

STILL ADVERTISING
CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Lottie Thime, 52, won a divorce Monday on the grounds that her husband, whom she met through a "lonely hearts" magazine advertisement, continued to put wife wanted ads in the magazine after they were married.

Man, 70, Dying By Installment

TURIN, Italy (AP) — A 70-year-old Italian scientist who is "dying by installments" paid another installment today.

In his 19th operation, surgeons amputated most of the right hand of Prof. Mario Ponzio. Then he walked unaided out of the Fornease clinic, the hand swathed in bandages, and weakly told newsmen: "I must go home now. I have no time to waste. Why are you all here? I am not a movie star."

But he is brave man. He is dying a little at a time and considers it "rare luck to die piece by piece." He is meeting death gracefully.

ARM, COLLAR BONE GONE
The left sleeve of his jacket flaps empty. He lost that arm and his collar bone in a difficult operation last July.

"I feel like I were meeting death by installments," he said before today's 10-minute operation that took away the hand.

Originally scheduled for yesterday, the operation was put off until this morning so Ponzio could continue to study scientific reports.

Only Ponzio's right thumb survived. (Continued on Page Eight)

Oliviers Acting Claims Victims At Stratford

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England (AP) — The management of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre reported today that extra ambulances are being stationed outside because Sir Laurence Olivier's performance of the bard's biopiest play is claiming up to 12 victims a night.

The "victims" are fainting cases who have been hitting the deck regularly since Olivier began playing the title role in Shakespeare's little-known tragedy "Titus Andronicus."

Loss of consciousness is not surprising reaction for anyone with a weak stomach witnessing the play in which Vivien Leigh, Olivier's wife who plays Lavinia, appears on stage after her hands have been cut off and her tongue (Continued on Page Eight)

Record Roundup
JUNIOR PLAY — "A Ready Made Family" is the title of the play the Lillington junior class has chosen for production next month. Date of the performance will be announced later. The three act farce by Jay Tobias is the story of an attractive widow interested in re-marriage with a widower. How- (Continued on Page Eight)

Lie Tests Planned For Slaying Suspects

CHICAGO (AP) — Police scheduled lie detector tests for two "hot suspects" today and grilled a parade of known sex perverts in their dogged hunt for the killers of three young boys.

The lie tests were planned for a 26-year-old man with a sex record involving young boys and for a 23-year-old male friend. A police spokesman called them "the hottest suspects thus far."

The suspects were picked up in a giant roundup of men with sex records. It was then discovered that the two friends owned cars similar to ones spotted in a forest preserve a short time before the boys' naked bodies were found stacked in a nearby ditch last Tuesday.

The older man attended the Schuessler boys' wake, even though he professed not to know them, and his friend visited the woodland lot where the bodies were found, officers reported.

Despite the new lead, top police officers for the first time voiced frank pessimism about prospects for an early solution.

These Little Things

By HOOVER ADAMS

NEW FARM GADGET, BELVA AGNES AND OTHER NOTES

Out at McLamb Machinery Company in Dunn, they're selling a gadget that ought to go over big in this county, particularly in view of the recent squabble over tobacco crop measurements. . . . It's an attachment to a tractor that measures land right down to one-hundredth of an acre. . . . It only sells for $49.95 and can be easily attached to any tractor. . . . It was manufactured by Jesse Lassiter of Four Oaks, Route 1. . . . In the office yesterday, Mr. Lassiter pointed out, "This gadget will more than pay for itself several times in one crop year." . . . Mr. and Mrs. Willie Warren of Dunn rubbed elbows in New York week before last with former President Harry Truman. Mrs. Truman and Margaret Truman. . . . They were close enough to the Trumans to reach out and touch them, said they were very well impressed with the former first family of the nation. . . . Beavark McLamb's fiancée is in town but the wedding won't take place for a couple weeks yet. . . . Sanford Jaycees have booked Blue Barron and his orchestra for a Christmas dance early in December. . . . How about it, Dunn Jaycees, why not a big dance for Dunn during the holidays. . . . This town (Continued on Page Eight)

John Sorrell, Sr. Killed By Train

John L. Sorrell, Sr., 66, widely-known farmer of Dunn, Route 3, was killed instantly about 5:45 o'clock Monday afternoon when he drove his 1951 Oldsmobile into the path of a southbound Atlantic Coast Line passenger train.

The accident occurred at the Harnett Street crossing and the car was carried four blocks by the train to the Divine Street crossing, where the train engine came to a halt.

Sorrell's car, completely demolished, had to be cut loose from the train engine. The car was such a total wreck that a wrecker had trouble towing it in. His body was badly mangled.

Harnett Coroner Grover C. Henderson, who investigated along with Police Chief Alton Cobb and Policeman Paul Stogsdill, said an inquest would be held at a later date.

EYE WITNESS
Edward Maynor, who resides at 613 E. Johnson St., told Coroner Henderson and Chief Cobb that he was right behind Sorrell and that he stopped for the train but Sorrell went right across the track without stopping.

J. J. Lewellyn, engineer on a freight train parked at a nearby siding, said he also witnessed the accident and that Sorrell failed to stop. W. S. Brown of Rocky Mount was engineer of the passenger train, The Everglades 375, and E. (Continued on Page Eight)

1956 Cadillac Is Shown Here

The beautiful new 1956 Cadillac went on display this morning in the showrooms of Dennis Cadillac-Olds in Dunn and large crowds were flocking to see this handsome new line of luxury automobiles.

R. Dennis Strickland, owner of the growing Dunn Cadillac-Olds-mobile agency, said he was more than pleased with the many fine words of praise showered on the new Cadillac. He extends to all citizens who have not already done so a cordial invitation to see the new Cadillac at their very first opportunity. Cadillac's line of 1956 automobiles (Continued on Page Seven)

Hospital Phantom Is Sought

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Police were without clues today in their hunt for the friendly "hospital phantom" who sneaked into a fifth (Continued on Page Eight)

Ike Walks Again Today

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today took the first steps since he suffered a heart attack Sept. 24.

The President for the first time since his illness took a few unassisted steps in his eighth floor room in Fitzsimons Army Hospital. An easy chair was moved near his bed, The President got out of bed alone and walked what press secretary James C. Hagerty described as "one or two steps" to the chair.

The Marilyn Monroe Story

By EARL WILSON
FINAL CHAPTER
When it comes to interviews, as well as in other things, this Marilyn Monroe is a smart girl.

Marilyn clearly enjoyed this little verbal pingpong. It was quite dark in the little restaurant and I lit matches to see the questions.

Marilyn, one of those rare women who isn't near-sighted, pushed the matches back. "I can see fine," she said. The waiter refilled our glasses. He was the happiest waiter in town, for Marilyn smiled at him again.

Occasionally I'd say, "You don't have to answer that one, on advice of reporter."

"Oh, I'm not afraid to answer it!" Marilyn smiled at me like she did at the waiter and I was the happiest reporter in town.

Q—"What are your favorite plays and who is your favorite playwright?"

A—"Seven-Year Itch" wasn't my favorite play. I guess my very favorite plays were "Streetcar Named Desire" and "Death of a Salesman." I enjoyed "Skin Of Our Teeth," but not as much. My favorite playwrights, Arthur Miller and Tennessee Williams."

Q—"What part would you have enjoyed playing on the stage?"

A—"I would have enjoyed playing the Vivian Blaine part in 'Guys and Dolls'....who wouldn't?"

Q—"What about your music and art?"

SHE LOVES PICASSO
A—"Painters, you mean. I'm in love practically with Picasso, but Goya's No. 1. Jazz I'm insane about. Louis Armstrong and Earl Bostick. (Continued on Page Two)

IN ANY POSE, A GLAMOUR GIRL

Sen. Russell Backs Gov. Frank Lausche

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) today expressed "great admiration" for Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche as a possible Democratic presidential candidate.

Russell said he liked Lausche as a "middle-of-the-road Democrat" and added he thought both Adlai E. Stevenson and New York's Gov. Averell Harriman "are too far over to the left."

The influential Southern Democratic leader said he has "no intention of becoming a candidate in 1956." He did seek the nomination in 1952.

Russell said he thought Stevenson had a slight edge because of his previous candidacy. Then he volunteered that the Ohio governor is also "well thought of."

"I have a great admiration for Lausche. He is a middle-of-the-road Democrat. I think the others are too far over to the left," Russell said.

Russell said he had not found "universal enthusiasm across the country" for any one Democratic candidate and that "a strong dark horse may have a chance."