Demands For Reuniting Of Germany

GENEVA (AP) — The Western Allies have decided to keep pressuring Russia for a straight yes or no answer to the question of German unity, diplomatic sources disclosed today.

The United States, Britain and France, which have presented Russia with a "peace package" calling for a reunited Germany with security guarantees against aggression, agreed to try and force a showdown. The issue could make or break the Big Four conference of foreign ministers.

Authoritative Western sources said the West wants an answer from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov which will say clearly whether the Soviets actually want reunification of divided Germany and, if so, on what terms. Molotov promised to submit "new" plans for German reunification, possibly tomorrow. Western diplomats seriously questioned whether he would do so.

Gina Ready To Meet The Queen

LONDON (AP) — Gina Lollobrigida hoped for fair weather today so she can attend tonight's royal film performance and meet Queen Elizabeth.

"I haven't even a nightie to wear to bed," she moaned at London Airport when she arrived from France Sunday night. In the rush to get planes out before the fog closed in her three trunks of clothing were left behind.

Princess, Robbed Of Lover, Hailed As Martyred Heroine

LONDON (AP) — Britons hailed Princess Margaret today as a martyred heroine, and their runaway emotions threatened trouble for those who wrecked her romance.

The Archbishop of Canterbury was the first target of the romantics who had hoped for her marriage to Group Captain Peter Townsend. The Duke of Edinburgh drew fire, too.

WANTS LAW CHANGED LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Anthony Eden announced today he is considering moves to alter the ancient Royal Marriage Act so that future royal marriages would be free of the marital obstacles that confronted Princess Margaret.

The Princess, who announced on Monday she would not marry Townsend, was reported determined to rebound swiftly from heartbreak by seeing her old faithful escorts and perhaps to seek happiness in a trip to the United States. There was solid speculation that within the next few months she would announce her acceptance of Mayor Robert F. Wagner's invitation to visit New York. The royal

Bill Salmon Dies After Long Illness

WILLIAM E. (BILL) SALMON

William Edward (Bill) Salmon, who served as Sheriff of Harnett County longer than any other man in the county's history, died Monday night at 8:10 o'clock in the Dunn Hospital of a congested heart ailment. He was 61 years old.

He was a brother of Former State Senator Nell McK. Salmon.

The retired sheriff, who declined to accept another term in office because of poor health, had been ill for the past two years. He suffered a severe attack Sunday night at his home in Lillington and was rushed to the Dunn Hospital.

Mrs. Salmon was at his bedside when death came.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed early Tuesday afternoon.

Two Arrested In Sadistic Slayings

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago policemen journeyed far into Northern Wisconsin today to question two "strange acting" men about the sadistic murder of three young boys.

The men were arrested Monday night in an abandoned farm house four miles north of Ladysmith, Wis. They were identified as Charles Driscoll, 19, and Ed Kline, 30, both of Chicago.

Sheriff Peter Sybers said the men had been living in the abandoned house, even though it contained nothing but a bed, one blanket, and a stove.

The men "acted strangely" when Sybers awoke them and put them under arrest, the sheriff said. They did not ask why they were being

Larceny Cases In Harnett's Court

Several larceny cases, involving thefts of a truck, a watch and some tobacco, were heard last week in Harnett Recorder's Court.

A. C. Honeycutt, 29, Dunn was cleared of the charge of stealing a 1955 Chevrolet truck from Charles McLamb of Erwin. McLamb had contended the truck was missing last August 27th.

In another contested case Earl Price, Jr., Erwin Negro, was found guilty of theft of a wrist watch belonging to Mary Smith. He was sentenced to four months on the roads, suspended on payment of costs and $25 restitution to the owner of the watch.

These Little Things

by HOOPER ADAMS

BOBBY, BUICKS GINA; OTHER LITTLE NOTES

The case of the "growler" who has been walking around on the rooftop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Stephens has been solved, and the prominent Drink couple is able to sleep again.

It was about six weeks ago that Mrs. Stephens was awakened by a noise that sounded like footsteps on the roof. She woke up her husband and he promptly called Dunn police.

Two policemen rushed to the scene immediately and soon solved the problem. The burglar turned out to be a huge possum, a big fat one. After quite a battle, the two officers caught the possum and brought him down.

As fate would have it, however, the possum made a get-away when they hit the ground so Mr. and Mrs. Stephens had to endure the nightly prowling of the possum.

The police suggested to Mr. Stephens that he get a gun and shoot the pest, but Mr. Stephens, a very polite considerate fellow, said he preferred not to disturb his neighbors, that he had rather suffer himself than do that.

Peron Is Stripped Of Military Honors

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Discharged Peronista labor leaders called a general strike for midnight tonight in open challenge to the new government which heaped further disgrace on their fallen idol by stripping ousted President Juan D. Peron of his military rank and honors.

Newspaper Prices Going Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The bitterly denounced $5-a-ton increase in newspaper prices went into effect today despite warnings the price you pay for your favorite newspaper may have to be raised.

The possibility of a congressional investigation of the newspaper industry loomed in the background.

The price hike, first announced Oct. 18 by St. Lawrence Paper Corp., Canada's fourth largest newspaper producer, brings the price in New York to $131 a ton. Delivered prices across the country vary only slightly from those in New York.

A nine-man House subcommittee, headed by Rep. Arthur G. Klein (D-NY), is scheduled to meet in executive session tonight to discuss (Continued On Page Two)

The nationwide walkout was called by officials of the General Confederation of Labor who accused the government of President Eduardo Lonardi of reneging on its promises. The CGT, which claims a membership of 6,000,000 was a mainstay of deposed dictator Peron's power and offered during the last days of his regime to mobilize a civil militia for his defense.

It was the second time in three days that the CGT challenged the government. The Lonardi government met the first defiance by dismissing the officials of the 2,400 member unions and ordering election of new union officers within four months.

The government crackdown spiked — at least for the moment — the threatened walkout. But the newspaper El Lider, only Peronista organ remaining in Argentina, warned them that it may lead to "civil war."

An executive decree stripped Peron of his general's rank for conduct unbecoming an officer in his public and private life.

COURT EXAMINES CONDUCT Peron was roundly criticized for his relations with his teen-age mistress, 16-year-old Nelly Rivas, in a report by a military court of honor which exarinated Peron's conduct as an officer.

Record Roundup

MOVING DAY — County Auditor H. D. Carson, Jr. and Veterans Service Officer Lee Burt McLean say they can qualify for a transfer or trucking job soon. They moved offices Monday from the Warwick Hotel building to the second floor of the Lillington Town Hall. The move is part of the county's attempt to save money on rental space for county agencies. The Town Hall was rented to provide an auditorium for Harnett Recorder's Court and commissioners thought renovations there would also give quarters for the two offices for which it had been necessary to rent quarters. Earlier this summer Carson moved from the second floor of the courthouse. McLean had been transferred at the same time from the Allred Building. The third county office at the Town Hall will belong to Clerk of Re- (Continued On Page Six)

Politics Taboo At Meetings With Ike

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower's top advisers maintained the position today that although the Chief Executive is improving daily he alone must determine when and how he breaks the political vacuum now settled over Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

Visitor after visitor to the President's hospital suite continued, at least for the public record, to disclaim any suggestion that they discussed domestic politics with the President.

They were willing to discuss other difficult problems of the presidency. But there was a unanimous administration decision not to bring up domestic politics and 1956 until the President, himself, raises the subject. (Continued On Page Six)

Should Reach Quota

United Fund collections in businesses where there are more than five employes are slated to start this week.

Mrs. Marjorie Warren, executive secretary of the Fund, said today that about a third of the total amount collected for the combined all-for-one campaign can be expected from this source.

At present, she said, the house-to-house collections are two-thirds finished, and the solicitation of businessmen and professional people is about over.

In plants keeping a number of employes, the United Fund will send a representative to give a talk on the objectives and accomplishments of the drive and to ask the employes to make pledges which can be fulfilled through deductions from their paycheck.

Mrs. Warren said today that she believes the town will pass over the top in its drive to collect almost $35,000 for a total of 10 community, research and charitable institutions.

A check with collectors who haven't turned all their collections or pledges in indicate that the drive is going very well, she said. Mrs. Warren pointed out, however, that in Raleigh, which started its campaign at about the same time as Dunn, many areas have already gone well above the quota.

Local persons who have somehow been missed in the house-to-house campaign should call at the United Fund office, 101 East Cumberland Street, said Mrs. Warren and make a pledge.

"Tell them if they want us to send someone out to them, that's all right, too," she said.

Dr. Cornwell Leaves Dunn Hospital Post

Dr. Alfred L. Cornwell, who came here from Lumberton to become administrator of Dunn Hospital, left that position yesterday. He said he had not made up his mind on future plans.

DR. ALFRED CORNWELL

Chairman of the hospital board Cornwell's resignation had been submitted a month ago and became effective yesterday. Tilghman said he did not know why Dr. Cornwell chose to resign.

SERVICES PRAISED

Both men stated that policy differences were not the reason for Dr. Cornwell's leaving, and Tilghman said, in reference to the other's service here, "I think he has done a good job."

The Dunn Hospital which Dr. Cornwell headed is one of two in Harnett County. The other is Good Hope Hospital in Erwin. The Dunn Hospital has 85 beds, a new wing opened two years ago, and a modern x-ray unit and new light for operating room procedures both installed this year.

when he was last in Ottawa that Margaret "is always complaining she has never been over here yet and I think she means to remedy that just as soon as she can."

Friends close to Margaret said the hurt of her unfulfilled love will take time to dull but that she was shunning serious thoughts of sacrificial spinsterhood and probably would seek the help of her past escorts, Billy Wallace and Lord Wilton.

He was believed preparing to resign from his job as air attaché at Brussels and enter private business in Britain, possibly with the aviation section of Rolls — Royce.
